SCHENKEY LOW BIDDER ON AIRPORT JOB

Defer Acceptance Until Approved by State Department

After considering two bids on the installation of runways on the Thief River Falls municipal airport, the city council last Friday evening deferred the award of the contract pending approval by the state department of aeronautics.

Oscar Schenkey of Middle River was the low bidder, offering to carry out the project for $22,200, which, with a ten per cent added charge for engineering services, makes a total of $24,420, compared to advance estimates of $21,845.77. The only other bidder was the Butler Construction company of Grand Forks, which submitted a figure of $25,729.37, to which would be added the ten per cent charge for engineering services.

Egil Wefald of St. Paul, civil engineer, represented the department of aeronautics at the opening of the bids.

The Red Lake Fuel company, sole bidder, was awarded the contract to supply an Iron Fireman stoker for the public library building on its bid of $445.75. Installation within ten days was promised.

City Clerk P. G. Pederson read a communication from the merchants committee of the Civic and Commerce association recommending the installation of parking meters on streets in the downtown district as a means of relieving the congested parking situation.

Mr. Crosby, representing a Cincinnati, Ohio, manufacturer of parking meters, offered to install 500 or more meters at a cost of $69.50 each, the purchase to be financed by turning over a percentage of the receipts to the manufacturer. The council deferred action on the matter, pending further study.

The council voted to offer to B. H. Stewart of Grand Forks the position of city engineer. Mr. Stewart has been associated recently with the engineering firm of Lium & Burdick in Grand Forks.

Arthur Von Wald was appointed city garbage collector and superintendent of the incinerator, effective August 10, succeeding H. L. McGilvery.

CROP HARVEST IS SPEEDED BY HOT WEATHER

Mercury Hits Peak of 90 in This City Tuesday, Wednesday

The longest hot spell of the current summer season has prevailed in the Northwest during the past week, bringing local tempetures of 90 Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons, preceded by 88 Monday, 84 Sunday and 88 Saturday. No precipitation was recorded during the week.

The series of hot sunny days has served to speed the ripening of grain fields thruout this territory, and harvesting with combines and binders is now general.

Early seeded barley and wheat fields, as well as most, flax, give promise of a fair to good yield in this locality, having made excellent progress due to favorable growing conditions after the last killing frost in May. Most fields of oats have short straw, and the yield is expected to be generally poor.

According to reports received by Philip Bryant, division superintendent of the Soo Line, harvesting along the Wheat Line between this city and Fordville is now well under way, with some wheat already being marketed.

Mr. Bryant stated that again this year an acute shortage in supply of available freight cars for hauling grain is evident, and that the situation is apt to become more acute as threshing becomes general. He added that the situation is relieved to some extent by the fact that more storage space appears to be available this year due to heavy shipments of the 1945 grain crop after last year's harvest.

Another department of special interest to farmers is the machinery exhibit, resumed this year after a lapse during the years. A varied array of farm equipment is on display, as well as several 1946 models of automobiles.

Due largely to the current rush season on the farms in this area, exhibits in the commercial department are fewer in number than in some years in the past.

The women's building has its usual attractive displays of products of thehome and garden, together with numerous booths displaying a variety of products and services.

A large tent is filled with an elaborate exhibit prepared by cooperative groups of this locality, depicting the commodities handled by co-op organizations.

Attractions on the midway are supplied by the World of Today Shows, presenting a large number of rides, shows and concessions.

RAU EXPLAINS WHY PHONE SERVICE IS SLOW SOMETIMES

1,600 More Local Calls Now Being Made Each Day than a Year Ago

The Thief River Falls telephone system is now handling a daily volume of calls far greater than it was designed to carry and the occasional service delays met by telephone users are due to equipment shortages growing out of the war. A. J. Rau, manager for the Northwestern Bell company explains that overloads are sometimes so heavy that the operators cannot answer promptly and there are delays in putting calls through.

Local calls are now averaging 16,600 daily, which is 1600 more than a year ago. Long distance calls also have surged upward and are now running close to 500 daily, an increase of 33% in the past year. Long distance circuits throughout the nation are heavily crowded and delays of one or more hours are common during busier periods of the day.

Delays in handing either local or out-of-town calls are not due to a shortage of operators or to any lack of speed or effort on their part. Telephone switchboards have a full force of operators and a maximum capacity of calls is being handled. Busiest calling hours of the day are from 9:00 to 11:30 and 1:30 to 3. Mr. Rau and Miss Ardith Knight, chief operator, suggest that telephone users try to place calls at other than these hours when the nature of the call permits.

These service problems will disappear when additional switchboard and other facilities, which have been ordered for many months, can be delivered by telephone manufacturing plants. Like other industries, these plants have been faced with raw material shortages that have seriously slowed their production. Mr. Rau explains that copper, lead, tin and steel are more scarce than at any time during the war.

The telephone office here is now serving 2310 telephones, which is an increase of 260 in the last year and 475 more than before the war. So far this year 102 telephones have been installed, most of them for families who had been on the telephone waiting list for many months. According to Rau, there now are 24 applications for service which will be filled just as soon as facilities can be made available.

News of R. R. Valley Home for the Aged

We have been able to keep quite comfortable in spite of the extreme hot weather of late. However, we are glad to be in northern Minnesota, where the nights cool off and sleeping is good.

We were pleasantly surprised last week when friends we learned to know years ago while teaching at Grygla came to call. Geneva Huset who is now Mrs. Carl Larson from Tacoma, Wash., came because of the illness of her father Hans Huset, who is a patient at Mercy hospital and her sister Bernice, who is Mrs. Elmer Adolphson of this city. It was so nice to visit with the girls, and we hope their father will soon be well again.

Mrs. Regina Mostue spent a very pleasant afternoon visiting with her old time friend Mrs. Emil Norquist last Wednesday and this week she enjoyed a visit from her daughter-in-law Mrs. John Mostue of Minneapolis.

Mrs. Caroline Munk of Middle River called to see Mrs. Sevalson on Friday, and also Minnie Gjerde with whom she visited at the home of Mrs. H. L. Sande until the following day. We are so glad to have people call to see old friends and glad to know they enjoy the news from the Home.

Mrs. Olena Sortland accompanied Mrs. John Olson and others to a family reunion at the Roy Wiseth farm home, south of Goodridge, last Sunday. She reported everything in fine condition, and about 35 relatives enjoyed the day together. Mrs. Petrina Wiseth, who recently suffered a light stroke, was also able to be present.

Mrs. Henry Paulson and little granddaughter Lynette, spent Saturday afternoon here, while her parents were shopping and calling on friends.

On Sunday afternoon Mrs. Moe and Lorraine visited at the J. M. Langness home and were guests at the joint birthday party of Magne Olson and Clifford Langness, both grandsons of Mr. and Mrs. Langness. Other guests were Mrs. Iver Olson and children of Minneapolis, Ned and Wilfred Langness and families of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Erickson of Duluth are spending a few days with relatives and friends in this city, and they called here to visit with his mother Mrs. Louise Erickson.

Carl Lindholm stopped in one day recently to chat a while with his aged uncle Carl Edman. He found him to be a little better in health than at his last visit. Mr. Edman who is past ninety years of age, is very hard of hearing, and for that reason is perhaps the most alone and lonesome of our large family.

John A. Hanson is spending a few days with his sister Mrs. P. Dyrud of Newfolden. We are glad to hear Mr. Dyrud is recovering from his recent operation at the University hospital in Minneapolis.

Oscar Hovelsos drove to Grand Forks, N. D. on Tuesday to meet his brother-in-law R. W. Stevenson of Minot. He was accompanied by Mrs. Stevenson, who has been visiting in the city with her sister Mrs. H. K. Strand, for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Dahlgren of Alvarado, stopped at the Home on Sunday to visit with the Backstrome, while on their way to Bemidji.

We were glad to have our friend Henry Grindeland pay us a visit recently and we sympathize much with him in the recent tragic loss of his son.

Other recent callers have been Rev. Karl Landh, of Drayton, Rev. Carlson from Kansas, O. Nesterud of Alvarado, Don Martin and Chester Olson from Minneapolis. Local callers have been Mrs. Bacon, Gloria and Wilma Ulshafer, Sam Olson, Carrie Boe and Mrs. Langeleth.

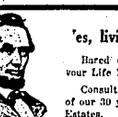
We are thankful for the potato chips from Hartz, supplies from the American S. S. Union Bible camp, and vegetables from Mrs. Langeleth.

Our kitchen staff have the canning well under way for the season, and it is a source of great joy to see the steady increase of filled cans ready for the basement shelves. But we can't help but think back with a sigh to the good old days when we had plenty of sugar for canning. Will they ever come again we wonder.

Mrs. John Hanson of Minneapolis who has visited in the city with relatives for some time, spent some time here Friday afternoon with Mrs. Moe and Lorraine. She enjoyed greatly to note our recent improvements, especially the kitchen and matron's apartment. She left for her home in Minneapolis early this week.

This week we have received the following memorials, for which we extend our hearty thanks.

Brought by Rev. G. R. Carlson in memory of Gilmore Roisland, and given by Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Wilson.



Sent in by Rev. Silas Erickson in memory of Mrs. Isaac Isaacson and given by Rev. and Mrs. E. F. Rabine, Mr. and Mrs. Odin Hanson and Mrs. Isaac Isaacson.

Sent in by Rev. Walter Pederson in memory of Gilmar Grindeland and given by relatives and friends.

Sent in by Rev. Silas Erickson in memory of Soren G. Moe, and given by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Molstad; Mrs. Lena Molstad, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Segstrom, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Nabben, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Rupprecht, Daniel Reindstad, Oscar Oswald and family Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Larson, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Roseland, Mr. and Mrs. Christ Nelson, Victor and Ernest Trockman families, Mr. and Mrs. M. Nabben, Mr. and Mrs. Ingvard Pederson, Lloyd Haugenson family, Mr. and Mrs. James Guss, the Gutterud families, Melvin and Silas Torgerson families, Mr. and Mrs. Helmer Lunke, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schenke, Mrs. Anna Hodahl, Mr. and Mrs. Albin Langle, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Klungness, and Mrs. Nels Gunderson.

Hanson, Amund Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sundby, Mrs. Marie Cleven, Henry Hiwiem, Martin Sandsmark and family, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Baasen, Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Olstad and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Sletten. May God indeed bless you all.

12 COMPLETE SETS OF ALUMINUM WARE

Available in complete sets or individual pieces—Genuine Hawthorne Cast Aluminium

New Distinctive Design

Entirely new and different — Hawthornes utensils have been developed around "the range-to-table" idea. No extra serving dishes to wash.

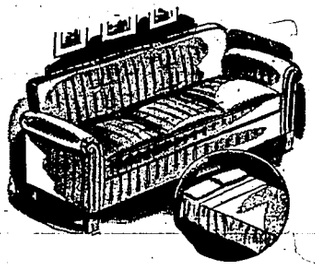
Extra Thick Cast Aluminum

The extra-thick metal distributes heat evenly, quickly and efficiently. Cooks rapidly at low temperatures the waterless cooking way. And then for extra measure, retains the heat and keeps the food deliciously not at the table.

Self Seal Cover

Another important feature which makes waterless cooking possible is the self seal cover. Helps seal in the natural moisture, goodness, color, flavor and healthful vitamins. Food shrinkage is kept down to a minimum.

Many Practical Savings



- Saves time—Cooks rapidly at low temperature.
- Saves money—Lower fuel bills—less expensive cuts of meat become tender and tasty.
- Saves Food—More of healthful vitamins preserved.
- Saves energy—serve your food piping hot in the same utensils.

Pennington County's fair ran a losing race with the harvest this year. As a usual thing the first week in August fits in well with farming operations hereabouts and generally the fair comes between the rush seasons of haying and harvest. This year the harvest is at least a week early and has been crowded along still more by extremely hot weather. Well if we didn't have harvests we wouldn't have fairs so let's be glad of the harvest.

Last week was dedicated to the promotion of farm safety and farm safety being a year-around problem we will not feel too bad about coming up a week late with our plug. A special week has been set aside for this problem because of the fact that agriculture is the country's most hazardous industry. Each year more than 4,300 lives are lost in farm accidents in the United States and more than 900,000 farm people are injured. That is a heavy toll of life, man hours and money. The number of accidents in other industries has been reduced a greet deal both by compulsory and voluntary safety measures. Any safety program dealing with agriculture will necessarily have to depend to a large extent on voluntary action. It is up to each farmer to be his own hard boiled inspector and to enforce his own safety rules. Because of the nature of the work farming will always be hazardous and that in itself is a good reason for giving thought to high cost of taking unnecessary chances.

The season is far enough along to give us assurance that the world is being favored by an abundant grain harvest and that is something for a hungry world to be thankful for. More than one big crop will be necessary however to meet normal requirements and build a reserve that will give us a margin of safety for another year. During recent months we have been scraping the bottom of the barrel and large areas have been on the verge of starvation. There probably would be considerable difference of opinion as to just how much of a surplus we should have to tide us over a lean year but it one year's supply of those foods that can be stored shouldn't be too much. Until we get a little reserve built up again we should be careful of how we use what we have.

The smaller nations of the world will be able to express their views on world peace problems at the Paris meeting and while their expressions will merely take the form of recommendations it will be interesting to compare the thinking of the smaller countries with that of the great powers. We hope they will ask that Finland be taken out of the class of outlaw nations that somehow must be punished. From the standpoint of Russia of course, little Finland was an evil state. Other allied countries were with the Finns in the early stages of the war. Most of us still feel that they were the unfortunate victims of circumstance in the latter stages and that they should not be punished for the developments over which they had no control.

—Congressman Harold Knutson says that a Republican Congress will bring a 20% cut in personal income taxes. That, we believe, would be an unfortunate step for a Republican or any other Congress to take at this time or in the near future. Such a step would be contrary to sound fiscal policy. Our country is in critical financial condition. Our debt is nearly as great as the total national wealth. That debt is coming due within the next few years. Nearly all of it will have to be refinanced and it will not be refinanced in a voluntary market at terms favorable to the government unless there is more assurance than we now have that it will be paid. To pay it under the most favorable conditions will require extremely heavy taxes, along with economy. To talk now of tax reduction is either foolish or dishonest.

ST. HILAIRE TEAM NORTHERN MINNIE LOOP CHAMPIONS

Shut out Thief River Falls 3-0 in Playoff Game in City Sunday

With Woody Almquist pitching four-hit shutout ball, and giving their stocky right hander near-perfect support, the St. Hilaire team, by a 3 to 0 score, defeated the locals here Sunday afternoon in a play-off game to decide the championship of the Northern Minnesota baseball league.

It is expected that manager Myles Jackson will make preparations to have the champions enter the regional tourney against the winners of the Paul Bunyan and Beltrami Leagues, with the winner representing this territory in the state meet.

St. Hilaire, after threatening to score in the 4th and 6th innings, in both frames having had men on second and third bases with only one away, finally pushed across a tally in the first of the 7th. After Elmer Zacher had struck out swinging to open the inning, Al Thompson, a local boy playing with St. Hilaire, punched a single into righa field, and when Red Bossman fumbled a pitched ball, Al stole second base. Newman struck out, but Klem Gigstad the lead-off man lined a single into left-center scoring Thompson with the run that won the game.

St. Hilaire added some "insurance" runs in the 8th inning, with the locals playing "loose" ball to contribute to the scoring. Harlan Olson singled into center field and when Wally DuChamp, trying to get Olson at first base, made a high throw the St. Hilaire batter advanced to second. Woody Almquist grounded out, short to first, with Jess DuChamp making a nifty stop and throw. Olson advanced to third base on the play. Arlo Jacobson bounced a grounder to shortstop and Jess DuChamp made the throw to home, cutting Olson off between third and home, but in the run-down Olson was called safe at home. Jacobson moved all the way around to third base on the play, and then scored the third run when Hemmy Sahl un-corked a wild pitch.

In only two innings were the locals able to get men as far as second base, revealing how impotent the local batters were against the assortment of "stuff" that Woody Almquist was offering. In the 4th after Blackie Stephens had walked with two men out, Wally DuChamp, who got two of the four hits collected off Almquist, singled into short right field, sending Stephens to second, but Johnny Jamneon popped out to Klem Gigstad to end the rally. In the 7th inning. Milt Reireson connected for a solid double into right field but Normes long fly to right field was caught by Newman, and that ended the scoring threat.

Hemmy Sahl, just recovered from an attack of malaria, hurled a strong game for the local nine, and with errorless support would have forced the game into extra innings, having ten strikeouts. Sahl issued five walks and heaved a couple of wild pitches. Almquist, making sparing use of his fast ball, collected four strikeouts, gave up only two bases on balls.

FAIR CAUSES HALT IN SOFTBALL PLAY

Schedule Will be Resumed Next Monday

City Softball League

	W.	L.	Pct.
Oen's	6	1	1.000
Poppler's	4	3	.571
Hartz Stores	3	4	.428
Bridgeman's	1	7	.125
Bjorkman's	1	7	.125

Result of week's game:

Poppler's, 12; Bridgeman's 11.

Monday, Hartz Stores vs. Bridgeman.

Tuesday, Oen's vs. V. F. W.

Friday, Poppler's vs. Bjorkman's.

Fair Week caused the postponement of the week's schedule of softball play, but on Monday, with an important game between the Hartz Stores and Bridgeman's the league will resume action. Bridgeman's, with "Ham" Myhrer doing the pitching, has been playing strong ball and they are endeavoring to overtake the Hartz nine and earn a place in the play-offs.

On Tuesday night the "grudge" game between the league-leading Vets and the runner-up Oen's will occur, and the result of that contest should decide the league championship, or if Oen's are the winners force a deadlock. The two teams played a ding-dong game earlier in the season with the Vets, by a last inning rally, winning by a 3 to 1 score.

In the one game played during the week, last Friday, the Poppler's Furniture team edged out an improving Bridgeman's nine, tallying three runs in the 7th inning to overcome a Bridgeman's lead and win by a 12 to 11 score. The game was featured by the pitching of "Ham Myhrer, who was hurling against his erst-while mates, the Poppler's, and "Ham" nearly racked up a victory for his new team, the Bridgeman's. The Poppler's nine plyed very ragged ball, committing seven erors and being guilty of slow play on the base paths.

The summary:

Bridgeman's 013 033 1	11	10	7

Motorists Are Urged to Drive Carefully in Areas Where Deer Abound

Despite repeated warnings from the department of conservation, thoughtless motorists are still speeding through areas where they know deer are present, and are taking their toll of the defenseless animals.

The department's bureau of information warns motorists that the actions of startled deer are unpredictable, particularly when blinded at night by the bright lights of an approaching car.

The wisest thing a motorist can do when he sees a deer near the roadside is to slow down, or better still, come to a full stop, until the deer decides upon his course of action. Lights should be dimmed when passing through territory known to be inhabited by deer, and the driver should proceed with caution.

Keeping Score with Sports Close

The Better Team

There's no arguinent but that St. Hilaire had the better team on the field Sunday and as a result they earned that 3 to 0 score by which they defeated the locals for the championship of the Northern Minny league. Myles Jackson had his team "up" for the game and he received the benefit of one of the best games that Woody Almquist has pitched, at least it was one of the smartest games that Woody has hurled.

The fact is, two players had a vital bearing on the outcome of that game, the presence of Woody Almquist in the St. Hilaire lineup and the absence of Louie Benson from the local team. Perhaps with Louie in the game the locals would still have been on the short-end of the score, but it's a cinch that the margin would have been closer than 3 to 0, for Louie is the league's best all-round player. But it's certain that if Woody Almquist hadn't been in the St. Hilaire lineup the Saints. wouldn't have been in the play-off. Woody, who doesn't know what it means to loaf, puts out 100 per cent in every game that he plays, whether it's baseball, softball, horseshoe, or slumni football, and he deserves the bulk of the credit for the well-earned championship that St. Hilaire won on Sunday.

Oh yes, an all-league team, based on observance and comments by various fans, would lineup like this: first base, Harold McReady, Plummer; second base, Deane Schoenauer, Plummer, Klem Gigstad, St. Hilaire, or Johnny Jaranson (these boys are all veterans and they were a bit unsteady in their play at times/ but when they were "on" their games there wasn't much difference between the trio); third base, Clarence Rasmussen; shortstop, Jess DuChamp; left field, Wally DuChamp; center field, hole, Connie Swanson, St. Hilaire; right field, George Saunders, Plummer; pitchers, Woody Almquist, St. Hilaire, and Hemmy Sahl; and catchers, Louie Benson and Arlo Jacobson, St. Hilaire.

About Ducks

Dr. Ed Bratrud, president of the Northwest Association of conservation clubs, is in receipt of information that indicates that the department of interior is considering a 44-day duck season this year. The recommendations that have been sent to Dr. Ed for his approval and comments reveal that the season will open on October 5th and close on November 18th, and that the daily limit will be seven ducks, and the possession limit will also be seven ducks. Another provision, and one which Dr. Ed does not favor, prohibits goose shooting in Minnesota while it permits this type of hunting in Dakota.

There may be some alterations in these regulations before they are formally announced by the secretary of interior, but they reveal the trend of the forth-coming water-fowl season.

For a Laugh

The city's golfing experts, when playing the local course, enliven their competition by engaging in what they term "bingo, bango, bungo". A small silver consideration is given to the first golfer on the green, the first golfer sinking a put, and for the low score on the hole.

The city's non-expert golfers also sharpen their competition, but they call their game "inga penga i punga", which roughly translated from LaBree Avenue Scandinavian means "no money in the pocket-book."

Vets vs. Oen's

All the softball fans, and others who interested in excitement, will trek toward the East side park on Tuesday night for then the league-leading Vets, Heinie Waag's pride and joy, will face Gordy Reierson's Oen's team in a game that should provide red-hot entertainment. Oen's nifty pitcher, Milt Reierson, is planning on a trip to the West Coast and he may not be here for the Tuesday night struggle, but if he can be persuaded to hold off his jaunt for a day or two and pitch the game, well, the Vets are in danger of getting a blot on their undefeated record. Oen's, with all those St. Hilaire ball players, are capable of beating the league leaders.

TAX ABSTRACT IS ISSUED THIS WEEK BY STATE AUDITOR

Average Tax Rate for 1945 Reported Highest in Minnesota History

A total of $398,290.09 in real estate and personal property taxes is payable in 1946 in Pennington county, it is revealed in the annual tax abstract completed last week in the office of State Auditor Stafford King.

The average rate of taxation for Pennington county is listed at 107.30 mills, compared to 136.89 mills for Marshall county and 111.79 mills for Red Lake county. Total taxes levied in Marshall county were $718,043.11, and in Red Lake $220,47.09.

Minnesotans this year are paying their biggest tax bill since 1930 and the average tax rate is the highest in the history of the state.

The annual abstract sets the total at $128,041,453.28. This compares with $115,417,271.62 in 1944 and $130,921,946.62 in 1930.

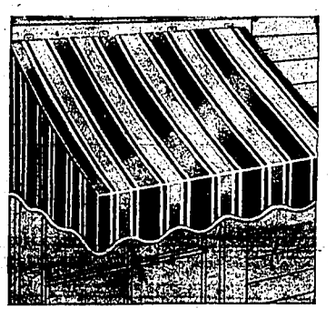
The average 1945 rate of taxation is 96.46 mills, up 9.74 mills from 1944.

Total taxable value of real and personal property in the state decreased for the second successive year, from $1,204,899,096 in 1944 to $1,204,274,836 in 1945.

Factors mentioned as contributing to this drop include heavy removals of iron ore, and increase in the amount of property benefiting from the lower rates on homestead property, and the considerable amount of property removed from the tax rolls thru forfeitures and for use for federal and state governmental purposes.

Total taxes levied were higher right down the line—for state purposes, by cities and villages, by townships and by school districts. Greatest single increase occurred in the amount of taxes levied for state purposes. The 1945 levy for state purposes totaled $8,708,449.94 compared with $4,936,932.28 in 1944. The 1944 rate for state purposes was 4.6 mills, that for 1945 8.1 mills.

Vitamin Source



One cup of raw cabbage may well furnish nearly half of the day's vitamin C needs, department of agriculture nutritionists point out, when cabbage is prepared fresh and served promptly. Cabbage also adds to the day's supply of B vitamins — thiamin, riboflavin and niacin — and calcium is provided for the mineral score. The greener leaves of cabbage offer vitamin A.

TECHNOCRACY

In Plain Terms

Away back in 1919, a body of scientists, engineers and technicians known as the "Technical Alliance" began a production-and-distribution survey and analysis of the system in use on the North American Continent. This survey was known as the 'Energy Survey of North America.' They gathered information regarding the use of energy and the physical equipment of this Continent to ascertain the relationship of energy consumption to the amount of Goods and services rendered.

Technocracy is the direct result of the work of this body of scientists.

The world itself stands for the findings and conclusions of this organization, and signifies a new and scientific form of social management which, as formulated by Technocracy Inc. is based solely on technological principles and scientific facts, and can only be conducted on scientific lines.

Technocracy Inc. is a legal, non-profit, non-political, non-sectarian, membership organization.

The mebers of Technocracy are called 'Technocrats.' The name of 'Technocracy' is owned exclusively by Technocracy Inc.

Technocracy is not the result of scheming or Utopian day-dreaming; in this it differs, as it does in many ways, from all other movements. It is a new method of governing society that inevitably suggested itself to the research body as its survey progressed.

If the human race on this Continent is to survive the end of the Price System, Technocracy will have to be put into practice. And this will inevitably occur within the next very few years as the result of the impact of the use of extraneous energy on the social fabric, a process which is steadily throwing millions of men on the industrial slag heap. If the people of North America—the rich as well as the poor, as none are immune—are to escape the chaos which may follow, Technocracy will have to save them. Only Technocracy can do it—Technocracy, the scientific control of all social functions.

Technocracy will not perish. After the inevitable collapse of our stupendous financial and political structure, after the many palliatives have been tried and have failed, it will still remain. Technocracy is the one workable answer to the social dilemma in which we find ourselves.

Equipment Shortages Affect
THIEF RIVER FALLS TELEPHONE SERVICE

Although we're making every possible effort to provide good service, we know there are times when your calls are not handled as promptly as you'd like.

Delays in the operator's answer and in getting calls through, both local and long distance, are a result of not having enough switchboard equipment and circuits to handle the greatly increased volume of calls now being made by Thief River Falls telephone users.

Local calls now average about 10,600 daily—1600 more than a year ago. Long distance calls have risen still more sharply—are now running 33% higher than a year ago.

NEED IS FOR MORE EQUIPMENT - NOT OPERATORS

Our switchboards have a full force of operators... and they are working their fastest to handle calls. But with the number of calls exceeding the capacity of switchboards and circuits, especially during the busier hours of the day, delays are unavoidable.

More equipment has been ordered and telephone factories are doing their utmost to meet urgent needs like those of Thief River Falls. However, like other industries, their production has been slowed by shortages. Copper, lead, steel and tin are more scarce than at any time during the war.

We fully recognize the inconvenience of service delays and you can be certain that we're looking for and will use every single means toward improvement. The problem can be fully solved only by the addition of more equipment and lines, but meanwhile your cooperation in making shorter calls and, when possible, avoiding the busier telephone load hours, can be a great aid toward faster, better service.

Thank you for your help... and for your patience when there are delays.

Miss Ardith Knight,
Chief operator, makes these suggestions to help speed service:

PLEASE KEEP CALLS BRIEF

When possible avoid the busier calling hours, 9 to 11:30 a. m., 1:30 to 3 p. m.

FAIR PAID ITS WAY IN SPITE OF HANDICAPS

Jimmie Lynch's Death Dodgers Fail to Keep Thrill Day Engagement

Despite the fact that the 1946 Pennington county fair closing last Saturday coincided with the peak rush of the harvest season and the further fact that most children were kept away from the event by their parents, alarmed by the polio situation in the state, attendance nevertheless was sufficiently large to insure the fair against showing a loss, Secretary A. F. Berge announced this week.

Another handicap for the management this year was the failure of Jimmy Lynch and his Death Dodgers, Saturday afternoon Thrill Day feature, to put on their program as scheduled. Appearing elsewhere in this issue of the Times are formal statements by Mr. Lynch and the fair board explaining the attendant circumstances.

When the fair management learned shortly before the performance was scheduled to begin that the troupe was leaving the city on orders of the unit manager, in the absence of Mr. Lynch, the large crowd on the grounds was admitted free to the grandstand and enjoyed a show consisting of circus and vaudeville acts.

Lynch, who was in Fort William, Ontario, in charge of another unit Saturday, came to Thief River Falls early this week and reimbursed the fair board for the loss sustained thru the failure of his troupe to appear here.

Clear skies prevailed during the four days of the fair, with the exception of a light shower Friday evening that made it necessary to partly curtail the show in front of the grandstand.

An added feature Friday evening in addition to the 4-H activities, was the appearance of the 36-piece Crookston high school band which under the direction of T. W. Thorson, performed evolutions and played a group of spirited selections.

Stuart McLeod, chairman of the agriculture committee of the Civic and Commerce association, presented numerous awards to leading 4-H club members, including the county health champions, Morris Russell and Donna Kisch, both members of the Steiner 4-H club. Miss Ethle Hanson presented the 4-H style revue and crowned the style queen, Joan Soiney of the North Star club.

The list of 4-H premium winners is published elsewhere in this issue of the Times, and will be followed next week by awards in other departments.

CITY STILL IS FREE OF POLIO, REPORT SHOWS

Second Case in Rural Area Near This City Develops This Week

Despite rumors to the contrary circulating about the city, there were no cases definitely diagnosed as polio in Thief River Falls yesterday according to reports from local physicians to Dr. O. F. Melby, city health officer.

During the past week one case suspected of being polio was taken to Minneapolis for diagnosis, but the patient was returned to this city when definite symptoms were found to be lacking.

One new case of the disease developed during the week in the rural area near this city. Bruce McCrum son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim McCrum of Smiley, was sent to University Hospital for observation, Betty Rux, who had previously been taken to Minneapolis, was reported yesterday as making satisfactory progress.

Of the 740 cases of malady reported in the state Tuesday, few were in Northwestern Minnesota, one being in Marshall county, one in Roseau county and none in Red Lake county.

Facilities have been provided that will assure prompt treatment for victims of polio here and in other communities throughout Minnesota through a co-ordinated pooling of services, upon which all communities may draw, through a plan developed this week by Governor Edward J. Thye in cooperation with interested state departments and medical leaders.

Governor Thye appointed Dr. Edwin J. Simons, chief of the medical unit of the state division of social welfare and president of the Minnesota Medical Association, co-ordinator of public and private resources for treatment of polio and asked him to organize and coordinate all resources possible that will be helpful in reducing spread of the disease and providing treatment.

Instructions were being dispatched early this week to all physicians, public health nurses and county welfare boards, announcing details of the program and explaining services that have been organized to aid physicians and local authorities in combatting disease. Pledges of ample funds have been received from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, the Helping Hand Fund of "The Farmer", U. S. Childrens' Bureau, state division of social welfare and other sources, Dr. Simons said to assure that victims of the disease wherever located may have prompt and adequate treatment. Governor Thye has asked officials to eliminate all red tape, where any exists, and make available at once any assistance needed.

"Medical men, all specialists in various fields, and dentists, will examine the county winners from head to foot, giving each a score on the part of the examination he has made," he explains. "Important health information will be given the youngsters during the examination.

"When the score on the complete check-up is totaled, the boy and girl placing highest in his or her group will be named the health champions.

"When the top scores are a tie or close, re-check of the high-scoring contestants is necessary. For this reason, contestants are urged to take care of even minor defects. Sometimes a small dental cavity or other remediable defect may be the means of losing the championship, while vaccination against small pox or a tuberculin test may provide the extra points necessary to win."

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

The Physically Handicapped Child

The child who is physically handicapped has to make a greater adjustment than does the normal healthy child. It is difficult for a child to face the fact that he is different from other children. If he is obviously different from others, that is, if he is crippled in some way, his problem of adjustment may be easier because his handicap is apparent. But if his handicap has no outward signs, such as heart disease or diabetes, his problem is harder, since other children may not understand why he cannot do the things they do.

The particular problems which the handicapped child faces are:

1. Self-consciousness. Others should not call attention to his defect nor do too much for him. He needs to develop independence and pride in doing for himself. If he needs special help, this should be done as unobtrusively as possible.

2. Dependence. Kindhearted parents and adults may help the child too much; thus preventing him from learning to do things for himself.

3. Self-centeredness. Because of his handicap, a child may be cut off from social contacts with others. Consequently the child may become too involved in himself and fail to learn proper social skills.

4. Irritability. The handicapped child should not be permitted to indulge in temper tantrums, rudeness, etc., just because he doesn't fit into the activities of the rest of the group.

The most important aim in training the handicapped child is to develop independence. The child must recognize his handicap and the difficulties other people have in fitting him into their activities. He must learn to develop ways of getting along with others, to avoid the feeling of aloneness which appears easily. The development of hobbies, interests and amusements which can be carried out despite the handicap will do much to help the handicapped child be useful and happy member of society.

PRICING FORMULA FOR JULY 1 TO 25 EXPLAINED BY OPA

Cities Rules Governing Goods Bought During Lapse in OPA Setup

For commodities shipped during the period July 1 to 25, suppliers were not restricted by ceiling prices previously or presently in effect.

Merchants, accordingly, are applying to OPA for instruction on how such commodities, still in stock shall be priced. Here's the answer from the district OPA in Fargo: used, either by wholesalers or retailers, in computing a new ceiling price. The basis for computation will be either the last cost prior to July 1 or the supplier's ceiling price established before Aug. 15, whichever is greater.

If the price is figured on the basis of the supplier's ceiling price, the dealer must secure a written statement of that maximum price from the supplier. Suppliers must furnish the price information within five days from the time it is requested.

These rulings apply to most types of commodities, but there is a special provision on foods. Grocery wholesalers and retailers will figure ceiling prices on items still under control in accordance with maximum price regulations 421, 422 or 423, whichever is applicable.

On preticketed items—such as clothing and appliances—retailers or wholesalers may not change or remove a price ticket applied by the manufacturer. If any tickets were altered or destroyed, it is illegal to sell any of the items until the tags are replaced by new correct price tags received from the supplier.

Auto races, in which more than forty of America's leading dirt track drivers will compete for top honors, will be held four afternoons, Aug. 24 and 25, and Sept. 1 and 2. A third afternoon grandstand feature will be four horse show events and a world's championship rodeo on each of four afternoons, Aug. 25, 27, 28 and 29. More than 200 stars of circus, stage and screen, headed by the famed New York Roxyettes, make up the cast of this year's spectacular night show, which is to close with a fireworks display. The Royal American Shows will play the Midway.

HOT DRY WEATHER CONTINUES HERE

Mercury Reaches High Mark of 96 on Friday

With continued clear skies and high temperatures during the past week, grain fields continued to ripen at an accelerated pace and harvest operations are now general thruout this district. Corn, potatoes and late seeded flax are badly in need of rain as a result of the prolonged dry spell.

A limited amount of the new crop of grain has already been delivered to local elevators, but there is still a considerable amount of storage space available here. The grain car shortage continues to be acute, and threatens to cause trouble later on in the season.

Highest temperature recorded during the past week was 96 last Friday, followed by 82 Saturday, 83 Sunday, 87 Monday, 85 Tuesday and 84 Wednesday.

Europe is frantic for cars and trucks, the Netherlands, for example, having only 30,000 today as compared with 100,000 before the war.

W. E. Dahlquist, member of the county fair board, discussed details of the fair which ended Saturday night, and explained the circumstances in connection with the failure of Jimmie Lynch and his death-defiers to make their appearance as scheduled Saturday afternoon.

It was announced that next Tuesday's meeting of the club will take the form of a golf tourney on the local course in the evening.

AGASSIZ COUNCIL OF SCOUTS BUYS HUGE CAMP SITE

Acquires 325 Acres of Land Located on White Earth Lake

Culmination of a one year's search by the Boy Scouts of America, Lake Agassiz Council of Grand Forks, N. D., for a site to locate a camp large enough to care for 600 boys was recorded at Detroit Lakes last week when C. A. Baker, Detroit Lakes realtor, turned over the deed of 325 acres of land on the southwest shores of White Earth lake to the council.

Decision to build the camp on White Earth lake came after many sites throughout the northwestern Minnesota lake region had been viewed by members of the council.

The area on White Earth lake was first visited by R. C. Hadlick, council president and Arthur Hendry, council secretary, about a year ago. Since that time, many other visitations have been made by various members of the council.

Construction of a road leading to the camp site is to begin immediately with actual construction of buildings to get underway as soon as materials become available.

Located about 30 miles north of Detroit Lakes and 5 miles east of White Earth village, the 325 acres are heavily timbered with nearly a mile of lake frontage.

The camp at White Earth lake will serve scouters from north eastern North Dakota and northwestern Minnesota.

BOYISH LOGIC

At Michigan university, Prof David Owen was preparing a lecture on the conduct of the younger generation for presentation before a Detroit women's club. Sitting by the window, assembling his thoughts, he heard two of his small neighborhood arguing. The older boy was upbraiding the younger one for his sloppy appearance.

"It's that belt you wear that makes you look so slovenly and slipshod," said the older boy. "Why don't you support your pants with suspenders?"

The younger lad flashed back at him with this conclusive reply: "Why should I support my pants? They never did anything to support me!"

Series of 1-day Polio Courses Scheduled at State 'U' This Month

A series of one-day poliomyelitis information courses for Minnesota's 2,676 practicing physicians was announced today by Dr. William A. O'Brien, director of postgraduate medical education at the University of Minnesota.

Dr. O'Brien said the courses were organized because of the rising incidence of polio throughout the state, and were being sponsored by the Minnesota department of health, the Minnesota State Medical association, and the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The polio classes will be held at the Center for Continuation Study at the University of Minnesota from 9:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m. on August 9, August 19 and, August 29. Additional courses will be offered, Dr. O'Brien said, until all Minnesota physicians desiring to study have obtained it.

Dr. O'Brien said the courses would emphasize the importance of the physician-family relationship in any polio outbreak, especially in the early diagnostic stage. "The local physician is the court of first resort," he said, "and we hope to make his job a little bit easier."

Safety Measures Urged as Drownings in State Mount to 87 for Year

Urging more rigid compliance with water safety measures during the month of August, if the 1945 record of 167 deaths from drowning in Minnesota is to be appreciably decreased in 1946, department of conservation officials today pointed out that up to July 15 of this year, 87 persons had drowned through carelessness.

This figure is about on a par with the 1945 total for the same period, but is considered a vast improvement due to the fact that there have been record-breaking crowds outdoors this year.

Statistics indicated that 22 persons drowned the first 15 days in July. Thirty-one, or 36 per cent of the drownings were the result of swimming mishaps, and 10 or 12 per cent of the total were caused by persons falling into the water from boats or piers.

GI FURLOUGH PAY BILL IS APPROVED DURING PAST WEEK

Payments to Veterans of Late War Expected to Averge $160

Former GI's entitled to accumulated furlough pay under the bill passed by congress last week probably can begin applying for their cash or bonds by Sept. 1, army officials said Thursday.

They declined to venture a guess, however, on how soon the first paymenis—expected to average $160—will be forthcoming.

The government printing office they reported, started work to be used in obtaining the bonds and cash.

These forms will be mailed in about 10 days. Army veterans will send their applications to finance officers at the post where they were discharged. Actual payments in cash, or bonds, will be made by mail.

The navy, which is responsible for paying naval and marine corps enlisted men, and the treasury which will pay the coast guard, intend to co-ordinate their procedure with the army.

Bonds will not be negotiable or cashable before expiration of their five-year maturity date except under specified conditions.

TRAFFIC TOLL FOR JULY DECREASES

Deaths in State for Past Month Number 34

A death toll of 34 in July traffic accidents, lowest in any month since V-J day except February, gave encouragement that the rising tide of casualties has been at least temporarily halted. The toll was 16 less than in the preceding month, and 13 less than in July, 1940 the state highway department reports.

July deaths brought the year's total to 247, compared to 204 in the same months in 1945, 185 in 1944, 122 in 1943, 271 in 1942 and 295 in 1941.

"Although the July record is encouraging, compared to other recent months, 34 killed in just too many," said W. F. Rosenwald, traffic engineer of the department. "Study of the accident causes should help to prevent future mishaps."

Vision obscured by glare or by lack of lights figured in several fatal accidents. One driver in a car without lights hit a bridge abutment. One driver, blinded by the sun, hit a parked truck. In a third case a car had stopped when lights failed—A truck driver stopped to offer aid, left his own lights on high beam—driver of a third car, blinded by truck lights, struck a man standing by the unlighted car.

Three young people were killed in a head-on car truck collision and two in a car which hit the side of a freight train. Both accidents occurred near midnight.

Motorcycles figured in three deaths. In two cases the motorcycles went out of control and in the third case a motorcycle coming out of a private driveway collided with a car on the highway.

Rev. Walter Pedersen officiated at rites in Zion church Monday afternoon for Erick Alfred Hammarsten, who died at his home at 715½ Labree Ave. N. Friday at the age of 72 years. Burial was made in the Holt cemetery.

Mr. Hammarsten came to Superior, Wisc., from Sweden in 1893, and seven years later he moved to Holt where he operated a store until 1904. At that time he homesteaded in Highlanding township until coming to this city three years ago. Mr. Hammarsten was a member of Northern Lodge No. 236, was a director of the Garden Valley Telephone Co., served on the school board and the town board of Highlanding township for several years, and was treasurer of the Highlanding creamery.

His wife, Mrs. Alice Hammarsten of this city, survives him, as well as one daughter, Mrs. Palmer Tommerdahl of Duluth; one foster daughter, Mrs. B. E. Forbes of Bellingham, Wash.; two sisters, Mrs. Emma Markestrom and Mrs. Hilden Johnson of Sweden; and three grandchildren. His parents, two sisters, and one brother died previously.

Services Wednesday for John G. Buckner

Services were conducted in the Bethel Lutheran church at Grygla Wednesday afternoon for John G. Bruckner, who passed away at his home in Grygla Monday, having reached the age of 88 years. The body was laid to rest in the St. Olaf cemetery east of Grygla.

Mr. Bruckner, who was born in Brandt, Germany, May 16, 1858, came to the U. S. at the age of 24. He was employed as carpenter and sawmill worker for a number of years in Michigan and Wisconsin and then homesteaded in Valley township, Marshall county. He was married at Crookston in December 1903 to Bertha Wohlmann of St. Louis, and since then he has made his home in Grygla, the past ten years at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Lester Hook, his only survivor. His wife and parents preceded him in death.

STATE FAIR WILL SHOW MACHINERY

Exhibition Space Taken Breaks Former Records

A spectacular preview of post-war mechanized farming will be given farmers at the Minnesota state fair machinery show, Aug. 24 thru Sept. 2, said T. H. Arens, in charge.

Visitors will be given their first glimpse of many revolutionary new machines developed in five years of secret research by machinery manufacturers throughout America, Arens said.

The 80 acres of exhibit space engaged by more than 100 firms large and small, exceeds that of the record 1941 high, and displays will spill over from Machinery Hill to many other parts of the grounds.

New and improved models of machines and home appliances to be shown promise to mechanize Northwest agriculture to greater extent than ever, and to equip farm homes as well as city homes.

A big entry of dairy and beef cattle is being received for the first state fair cattle show held since 1941, when livestock buildings went to war.

The mammoth 1946 exposition is the biggest attendance in history, is predicted. Goal of the fair is a million visitors.

'U' NURSE SCHOOL ALTERS PROGRAM

Will Stress Five-year Course in the Future

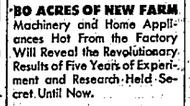
Because the long-range nursing needs of the country call for more highly trained nurses who understand the increasingly complex techniques of medicine, the University of Minnesota's school of nursing has adopted a plan to offer only the five-year nursing course after January 1. Approved recently by the university's board of regents, the program is aimed to fill the needs of the nursing profession not only in numbers but in quality of training.

Students entering the nursing school this fall, however, will still have the opportunity, under the old plan, of choosing either the three or five-year program of study. The three-year or basic course leads to the degree of graduate in nursing, while students completing the five year course are awarded the bachelor of science degree.

Facilities are available for all qualified high school graduates who wish to enter the fall quarter freshman class, which starts September 23. The U. S. cadet nurse corps, which enrolled its last class at the University in the fall of 1945, will continue in operation until this group finishes its training in 1948.

More nurses are needed right now for the future, and these needs cannot be met without a core of highly trained women to serve as teachers and administrators in the numerous fields of nursing. The five-year course is adapted to fill these demands.

The need for more nurses is not due to present shortage, Miss Katharine J. Densford, director of University's school of nursing, explained, but rather to an ever-increasing expansion of the functions of nursing.



Poor Mix

Failure to remove all dirt and dust from a surface before painting or refinishing can be a very expensive omission. Not only will the paint fail to adhere properly in the dirty or dusty spots, but the dirt will mix with and show through the paint, especially if it be white or a light tint, and ruin what otherwise would be a long-lasting, attractive job. After sandpapering, scraping or burning off old paint, a final thorough dusting with a soft brush is a sensible and profitable practice.

A report that citizens of Puerto Rico have appealed to the United Nations for relief from the state of "political and military subjection" in which they are held by the United States comes to us as somewhat a shock. In their letter to Trygve Lie, secretary general of the United Nations, members of the American League for Puerto Rico Independence state that "Puerto Rico enjoyed a greater degree of self government in relation to Spain in 1897 than it does under the United States a half-century later". Regardless of whether or not there is justification for such complaints, they are embarrassing coming as they do at a time when we are concerning ourselves about the plight of the dependencies of some other nations. This problem probably is getting more publicity in some other countries than we are giving it here at home.

Our relations with Russia seem to be progressing steadily from bad to worse. Leading representatives of the two countries are now saying nasty things about each other and that isn't far from the point where nations generally sever diplomatic relations. Such a break between the world's two strongest powers would be extremely unfortunate at any time and especially so now when the United Nations experiment is just getting nicely under way. It is much easier to reconcile differences when parties to an argument are still on speaking terms. Right now would be a good time for us to keep our shirts on here at home and hope that those who have the responsibility of speaking for us as a nation will prove themselves to be able diplomats. No dispute was ever settled satisfactorily by the "you're a liar" method of argument.

It isn't a pleasant to speak of any community undertaking as a flop but that comes pretty close to describing what the county fair was this year. It wasn't a success. Nearly everything went wrong that could go wrong. An early harvest and the fear of polio kept people away and no fair is successful unless people attend. There couldn't be better reasons for not attending. A threatening storm ruined the program Friday night and on Saturday the scheduled program didn't make an appearance. Let it be said however, that there were bright spots and one of them was the 4-H Club exhibit. This important department seems to be getting better year by year and with this thought we will close the book with at least one happy memory.

Authorities tell us that while prices are high now they may be expected to go still higher. One of the reasons for such predictions is that we have not yet felt the full impact of increased costs which mount progressively over a period of time. Another reason is the abundance of money, which encourages foolish spending. The inflationary effect of too much money will be curbed to some extent by increased production. For instance used automobiles, and black-marketed new automobiles, are bringing ridiculous prices at the present time. As the production of new automobiles approaches the demand then the value of all cars will level off to a reasonable relationship with the established price on new cars. But for the time being we are headed for still higher prices and that is not a pleasant prospect for most of us.

In Memorium

Memories dear are always with us,
Through the days and years gone by,
No judge can measure grief or sorrow,
No man can tell you when or why
No one will know the heartfelt burdon,
Filled with dreams of life so fair,
Flowing on as time eternal,
With no fear or earthly care.
The Angels nightly, softly whisper,
Slumber on and have no fear.
Though from earth your loved one parted.
Jesus has her safely there.

In loving memory of our beloved daughter and sister Maybelle. Mr. and Mrs. Anton Jensen, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Krug, Mr. and Mrs. Jennings Jensen, Mr. and Mrs. James Jensen and families. 32p

• MEMO TO ADVERTISERS.

HOW TO MEASURE Advertising Values

WE ASK advertisers to think of the circulation of this newspaper in terms of the distribution of their advertising—the size, quality and interest of the audience to which their advertising is addressed. From that viewpoint our circulation becomes a more direct factor in business plans.

There are well-known standards for circulation values just as there are definite measures of weight and quality as used in the purchase and sale of merchandise.

The standards for evaluating circulation have been established by the Audit Bureau of Circulations, a national cooperative association of 2000 advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers in the United States and Canada. This newspaper is an A.B.C. member.

The Bureau has a large staff of experienced auditors and each year one of these men visits our office and makes an audit of our circulation records. Based on the information thus secured, the Bureau issues official A.B.C. Audit Reports.

These reports tell how much circulation we have, where and how it is distributed, how much people paid (important because paid circulation proves reader interest) and many other facts that make it possible to invest in newspaper advertising on the basis of known values.

For complete and verified information about the distribution of your advertising when it appears in this newspaper ask us for A. B. C. reports.

THIEF RIVER FALLS TIMES

This newspaper is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations. Ask for a copy of our latest A. B. C. report giving audited facts and figures about our circulation.

A. B. C. = AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS = FACTS AS A MEASURE OF ADVERTISING VALUE.

OEN SOFTBALLERS DEFEAT VFW TEAM 15 TO 4 TUESDAY

League Leading Vets Suffer First Defeat of the Year to Date

City Softball League

	W.	L.	Pct.
Oen's	5	1	.875
V. F. W.	4	1	.800
Poppler's	3	3	.571
Hartz Stores	3	3	.375
Bridgeman's	2	7	.222
Bjorkman's	1	7	.125

Results of the week's games: Bridgeman's, 9; Hartz Stores, 4. Oen's, 15; V. F. W., 4.

The week's schedule: Friday, Poppler's vs. Bjorkman's. Monday, V. F. W. vs. Poppler's. Tuesday, Oen's vs. Hartz.

The week's excitement in the City Softball league was centered on the Oen's vs. Vets encounter Tuesday night, and when the lights were doused at the end of the game the Oen's, by a 15 to 4 score, had handed the Vets their first defeat of the year and had earned a tie for the league lead. In the week's other game, on Monday night, an improving Bridgeman's team, scoring nine runs in the 1st inning, defeated the Hartz Stores club, 9 to4.

The Vets, on Thursday night, collapsed completely defensively committing thirteen errors. The pattern of the game can be judged by the 1st inning's play: Klem Gigstad was given a walk; Johnny Jaranson fumbled Connie Nwanson's high, bounder, with both runners being safe; Harlan Olson was given a base on balls, filling the sacks and bringing Woody Almquist to bat. Almquist drove a hard grounder to Jess DuChamp, who made the throw to the plate, but Gigstad was safe when catcher Bob DuChamp dropped the ball. Jacobson rolled a slow grounder to pitcher Bill Gray, who fumbled the ball, permitting Swanson to score. Gaynor Elde glanced a hit of Jaranson's glove, scoring Olson and Almquist; and when Elde and Jacobson engineered a double steal, Jacobson tallied the fifth run of the inning. Oen's taking advantage of Vets loose play, added a pair of runs in the 3rd inning, four scores in the 4th, a single run in the 5th, and three markers in the 6th inning.

The Vets averted a shutout by scoring twice in the 4th inning, with Sahl being safe on Harlan Olson's error and then scoring ahead of Berdeen Nornes when the Vets third baseman pounded out a triple and scored when Swanson made a throw into the infield. John Jaranson's homerun, with Jess DuChamp on base, accounted for the other Vets scores in the 7th.

Rolling across the plate for nine runs in the 1st inning although getting but two hits, the Bridgeman's team defeated Gordy Kaunagen and the Hartz team, 9 to 4, on Monday night. Six walks, a hit batsman, a bunt by Schwarz and a single by Oberg, and three errors were the factors in providing the Bridgeman's with their winning margin.

The summaries:

				R.	H.	E.
Hartz Stores	000	010	3	4	3	4
Bridgeman's	900	000	x	9	3	0

Batteries—Kaunagen and Newman; Hyman, Myhrer and ——.

TOGGERY TEAM IS 2ND IN TOURNEY

Loses to Hillsboro in East Grand Forks Sunday

Burt Emanuel's Bjorkman's Toggery team, participating in the softball tournament at East Grand Forks on Sunday, won second place losing to Hillsboro, 1 to 0, in the championship finals. The Bjorkman's with Oen's Milt Relerson doing the pitching, and aided by Bridgeman's Roy Lee and Wally Tunberg, defeated the Reynolds, N. Dak. team, 16-to 9 in the semi-finals.

Against the highly-touted Hillsboro team, with several Grand Forks players in their lineup, Relerson pitched nifty three-hit ball and he had a shutout until the 7th inning, when Hillsboro, on a walk and a single over third base and which was fumbled by the Bjorkman's left-fielder, accounted for the game's only run.

The local nine threatened to tie the score in the final frame, getting a pair of hits, one a triple, off Schuck, the Hillsboro pitcher. Lloyd Mortrud opened the inning with a long triple, but the Hillsboro catcher, on a snap throw, nipped Lloyd off third base. Lloyd Johnson then rapped out a double, but Schuck managed to retire the side and gain the win.

IS BETAER TO GET OUT BEFORE SHUTTING DOOR

Worthington—A local family loaned their car to a neighbor to attend a funeral. When the lady opened the car door after its return she found the crushed end of a human finger along the jamb, and reacted in typically feminine manner. Too late the borrower rushed up to tell her that his father neatly severed the second finger tip when closing the door, and never missed it till he got home.

SHORTSTOP GOLF TOURNEY ON LOCAL COURSE SUNDAY

Joe Bridston of Grand Forks Is Expected to Defend His Title

Grand Forks' golfing state senator, Joe Bridston, is expected to be on hand Sunday to defend his championship when the local golf club conducts its tenth annual shortstop tournament. And assisting Bridston in his title defense will be Joe's two sons Keith and Paul Bridston, who are rated among Grand Forks' top-flight golfers. Other Grand Forks golfers that are expected to enter the competition are Bill Larson, Don Stewart, Don Fladeland, and possibly Phil Olson, recent winner of the Birchmont Invitational" at Bemidji.

It is hoped that Crookston's Ernotte Hiller and Karlstad's Jimmy Nordine will also enter the shortstop, for together with such local stars as Vic Jung, Homer Hedemark, and Tom Jorde, the championship flight should produce some record-breaking scores.

The tournament committee has provided a number of prizes for the various flights, with the championship flight winner being awarded a $25 bond by the Northern state bank, while the first flight winner will receive a $25 bond from the Dahlen agency and Elof son's Jewelry.

The committee requests that the players make arrangements to be at the first tee by nine o'clock, so that the flight pairings can be made and the tournament "starter" can send the players on the course.

HUSBAND AND WIFE TO GIVE SHOOTING EXHIBITION HERE

Will Perform Friday Evening at 7 p. m. at County Fair Grounds

After lecturing on marksmanship and demonstrating their shooting ability to approximately one-half million service men and women, L. W. "Bill" Johnson and his wife, Frances, have resumed their tour of shooting exhibitions before civilian groups.

These popular members of Remington Arms Company's staff of shooting exhibitionists, known throughout the United States and Canada as the country's outstanding husband-and wife shooting team, will stage a shooting exhibition at the county fair grounds in Thief River Falls Friday evening, August 9, at 7 o'clock under the sponsorship of the Pennington County Sportsmens club.

Presenting an entire category of exceedingly difficult and seemingly impossible shots with rifle, shotgun and revolver, the Johnsons deliver a comprehensive and well-rounded lecture on the art of shooting, illustrating their points with actual demonstrations. Such a combination makes their performance all the more interesting and of definite value to the novice and experienced gunner alike.

PIONEER FARMERS UNION LOCAL WILL MEET FRIDAY

Louie Benson Is First Among TRF Batters with Season Average of .406

Playing in seven games and poling out thirteen hits in thirteen trips to the plate for a .406 bat, Louie Benson, with a .406 average, led the local hitters in the season just concluded. Louie, a former member of the Crookston Pirates in the Northern League, scored ten runs, being tied with Clarence Rasmussen, and drove in fifteen tallies. Blackie Stephens, with .344 mark was runner-up to Benson with Wally DuChamp having a .294 average for third place.

St. Paul Man Is Buyer of Red Lake Falls Creamery

Announcement was made last week by Thos. Christensen of Red Lake Falls that he had sold his Red Lake Falls Creamery Co., building, plant and business to L. J. Benton of St. Paul, who took possession of his newly acquired property August 1. Mr. Benton is an experienced creamery operator having been engaged in the business for 19 years. Mr. Christensen will retire from the creamery business and will make his home in St. Paul, having taken in the business deal, a business property in that city.

Keeping Score

Trap Shoot on Sunday

Carl Kretzschmar advises that a trap shoot will be held at the Fair Grounds on Sunday morning. They have a plentiful supply of clay pigeons and they have some trap loads on hand, too, but if any of the boys have trap loads available they are requested to bring them along. The more shells there are, the more shooting there'll be. With the number of ex-servicemen in town, and who have had experience in trapshooting while in the service there should be quite a turn-out on Sunday.

And Sunday would be a fine time for the Mattson "duel" to be settled or at least get past the shadow boxing stage. Ex-sailor Robert has been challenging his older brother, "Zip", to a twenty-five or fifty target trapshooting match, and "Zip", who was an army air force gunner, hasn't acknowledged the challenge feeling that he is protecting the reputation and dignity of "Sonny" and the Navy.

Can Pick up some Pointers

And these trapshooters who will try to break the "clays" on Sunday, and hunters, too, will be doing themselves a good turn by being in attendance at the fair grounds tomorrow evening, Friday, at 7 o'clock, when Bill and Fran Johnson give their rifle and shotgun exhibition. It's worth watching. The couple, who were here several years ago, have been busy the past few years in giving shooting exhibitions for the armed forces, showing their gun-handling ability at more than 400 services camps.

Bill and Fran perform a number of shooting feats; but the most difficult perhaps, is Bill's feat of throwing five clay targets in the air and breaking them before they hit the ground, using a 20-gauge repeater.

Shortstop Golf Tourney

It's the tenth annual shortstop golf tournament that the local club is conducting on Sunday, and judging by the golfers that have signified their intentions of playing, it will be the best ever. Defending champion Joe Bridston, who defeated Stan Larson in the finals last year, will head the Grand Forks delegation, which will include such par-busters as Bill Larson, Paul and Keith Bridston, Don Stewart, and Phil Olson.

And if long-driving Jimmy Nordine and Ernotte Hiller can make arrangements to be in the tourney we'll have some remarkable scoring on Sunday. And this below-par scoring won't all be done by the out-of-town golfers, for the locals' Tommy Jorde, Vic Jung, Homer Hedemark and Stan Larson are capable of taking the course apart. Tommy, in particular, is apt to turn in a 31 or 32 for he has been hitting a plenty long ball the past week.

Club Tourney

Last night's Calcutta dinner set the stage for the annual golf club tournament, with the following players being in the championship flight defending champion Homer Hedemark, Vic Jung, Hans Chommie, Stan Larson, Kern Olson, Lloyd Benner, Dr. A. E. Jacobson, and young Keith Jorde. Tom Jorde a former champion, and who shot scores of 83-87 in qualifying, withdrew from the tournament as he will not be in town. Tom's absence "opens" up the tournament, and gives a slight edge to Homer, Vic, Hans, and Stan, and those four golfers will be given "seeded" positions.

What a Fall

Those fellows going around town talking to themselves are members of the Vets softball team the club that lost a 15 to 4 decision to the Oen's on Tuesday night, and as a result they have to share the first place roost with Gordy in that game, with the boys each hitting thirteen errors. Ouch!

Left Farms

Farm people moved to urban areas at a more rapid rate during World War II than at any other time in the history of the United States.

Relerson's team.

Everything happened to the Vets player on the team had a misplay: Bob DuChamp dropped a throw and made a couple of wild heaves; Johnny Jaranson fumbled a grounder or two; Hemmy Sahl dropped a fly ball; Lenny Hellquist and Berdean Nornes dropped thrown balls; Jess DuChamp made a low throw; Louie Benson had a pair of passed balls; Bill Gray fell down in fielding a slow roller; Cliff Stromberg let a ground ball go through him. Not quite every player had an error for big "Abner" Stromberg, at first base, caught all the throws within his reach.

FIRES THREATEN NORTHERN WOODS

Public Cooperation Asked to Meet Menace

Due to extreme dry weather a serious fire situation now exists in northern Minnesota. There is grave danger of not only destructive forest fires but doing damage to farm crops as well, Dick Willems, area supervisor at Warroad, stated today.

Forest patrol is being increased and all possible areas are being covered. All areas in District 12 under the jurisdiction of the Warroad forestry office which includes Marshall and extreme northwestern Beltrami Co. will be closely checked.

No burning permits can be issued in these areas for longer than one day and then burning can only be done after four P. M. No burning can be done unless the township fire warden or ranger has made a personal inspection and such officer will not be permitted to grant any permit unless the area wherein the fire is set is entirely surrounded by a freshly made or plowed fire guard has been made in mineral soil entirely aroound the area where in the fire is set and must be of sufficient width to withhold the spread of fire and the party setting the fire must keep patrol.

Forest officers have been instructed to prosecute for violations of any kind and the public is asked to give their full cooperation to keep down fire damage and which will be appreciated.

Second Summer Session at Minnesota "U" Has Attendance of 10,986

Setting enrolment records is becoming a habit at the University of Minnesota. Each new session this year has been marked by new highs in attendance figures. Like the first term of the summer session, the second summer term has set a new record with registration of 10,086 students, by far the higest number who have ever been on the campus for the late summer term. This is a gain of 162 per cent over last summer's second term, when 3,854 students were registered, according to Dean R. E. Summers, director of admissions and records.

Of the 10,086 students tabulated on the first day of classes July 30, a total of 6,788 were veterans studying under the G. I. and rehabilitation bills. Greatest number of students are in the college of science, literature and the arts, with a registry of 3,823. Next highest is the institute of technology with 2,024.

Highest percentage gain is in the school of business administration, where an enrollment of 670 for this second summer term, compared to 59 last year, shows an increase of 866 per cent.

HOSPITAL SERVICE ASSN. NOW COVERS 680,000 IN STATE

Patients under Blue Cross Plan Make Full Use of Facilities

Over 3,000,000 hospital days have been used by Blue Cross patients since the Minnesota Hospital Service Association, the first non-profit group hospitalization plan in Minnesota, was organized 12 years ago in July, 1933, according to Arthur M. Calvin, executive director of the Blue Cross Plan.

"Since the Minnesota Blue Cross Plan began 13 years ago, 475,011 subscribers have spent 3,285,242 days in hospitals and have received $15,500,000 in Blue Cross hospitalization benefits," declared Mr. Calvin.

"At present approximately 84 percent of the Blue Cross Plan's income is being turned back to the subscribers in the form of hospital care benefits," he explained, "and this high proportion of income going directly into payment of hospital bills for subscribers' care indicates that Blue Cross non-profit plans can do the job which has been set out for them."

Today 680,000 persons in Minnesota carry Blue Cross protection, and these people represent more than 27 per cent of the entire Minnesota population—in other words, one out of every four persons in the state now has Blue Cross. Subscribers enrolled in St. Paul, Minneapolis, Stillwater and Duluth comprise over 50 per cent of the population in each of these areas, he pointed out.

According to the executive director, enrolment in the Minnesota Blue Cross during the first six months of 1946 is double that of the same period in 1945.

"Nationally, Blue Cross again broke all previous enrollment records," declared Mr. Calvin, "when 1,773,250 persons joined the 87 Blue Cross Plans during the three-month period including April, May and June of this year. This figure topped the January through March gain by 403,197 or 30 per cent."

AN EXPLANATION

TO PATRONS OF THE PENNINGTON COUNTY FAIR

The following statements by the Board of Directors of the Pennington County Fair and by Jimmie Lynch are offered to the public in explanation of the failure of the Jimmie Lynch's Death Dodgers to appear Saturday as scheduled:

STATEMENT BY THE DIRECTORS OF THE FAIR

To Fair Patrons:

Members of the Board of the Pennington County Fair deeply regret the failure of the Jimmie Lynch Death Dodgers to make their scheduled appearance in the thrill program of the Fair Saturday afternoon.

Not until nearly one o'clock on the afternoon of that day did the directors know that this attraction would not be presented as advertised. All preliminary arrangements had been made; the performers with their equipment had arrived, and track and weather conditions were perfect for this type of program. When it was discovered that the show was leaving town and did not intend to perform it was too late to inform the public.

Action was taken immediately by the Board to tie up remaining equipment and efforts were made to reach Jimmie Lynch, the owner, who was directing another unit of the company at Ft. Williams, Ontario. It was not possible to reach him until Saturday night. Upon hearing of the difficulty he came immediately to Thief River Falls to investigate what had happened. Following this statement by the Board is a public statement by Mr. Lynch setting forth his position in the matter.

In fairness to Mr. Lynch and his performers the Board is of the opinion that if Mr. Lynch himself had been present there would have been no difficulty, and that the breaking of the contract was the act and sole responsibility of the manager of this unit alone. Mr. Lynch has made restitution to the Fair for its financial loss and has asked to be given opportunity to return next year with a thrill show that he personally will direct in an effort to vindicate himself and his performers with the Fair patrons of this community.

Directors of the Fair harbor no ill will toward Jimmie Lynch and appreciate his willingness to do everything within his power to compensate for the misconduct of his agent.

The Board members wish to express their appreciation to the people who did attend the Fair Saturday afternoon for the fine spirit in which they accepted the explanation for the failure to carry through with the program as scheduled.

Pennington County Fair Board.

STATEMENT BY JIMMIE LYNCH

Members of the Pennington County Fair Board and to whom it may concern:
Gentlemen:

I wish to make this statement in regard to the failure of the Jimmie Lynch Death Dodgers to perform at the Pennington County Fair on Saturday, August 3 as advertised.

The unit of the Death Dodgers Show which was to perform at Thief River Falls, Minnesota, was under the supervision of a unit manager. On the date of this performance I was in Fort Williams, Ontario directing another unit of our show and did not learn until too late that the Pennington County Fair contract was not being fulfilled.

Upon hearing about this difficulty I came directly to Thief River Falls where I have personally investigated all of the facts. After considering these facts I have come to the conclusion that my manager was not in any way justified in cancelling the engagement; that his action was high-handed, arbitrary and unfair to the management of the Pennington County Fair which had in every way fulfilled its responsibility in preparing for this presentation.

As a result of this investigation I have dismissed this manager and have made a full restitution to the Pennington County Agricultural Society reimbursing it for the financial loss incurred.

I wish to assure the public that this unfortunate circumstance would not have occurred had I been with the unit. My relations with the board members of the Pennington County Fair have been most satisfactory at all times. I greatly appreciated the contract this year and regret that through the misconduct of my agent it was not fulfilled.

To the members of the Fair Board and to the patrons who may have been inconvenienced I offer to play your 1947 Fair at which time I will personally direct the show and hope that I will thereby be given an opportunity to vindicate myself and the fine group of performers who work for me.

Sincerely yours,
Jimmie Lynch.

Three suggestions for keeping lard in the best condition are a tight cover, a cold temperature for storage and small containers. The big jar of lard that stands open and partly used for several weeks in a warm kitchen is very likely to lose its good flavor.

Rubber Burns

The most common cause of rubber burns in floors is soft wax or wax which has not been properly buffed. The common error is to apply too thick a coat of wax and then polish the surface only, leaving a considerable film of wax which, if it doesn't remain soft and sticky, will at least be susceptible to rubber burns.

JOIN the FAMINE FIGHTERS

Help save 28,000,000 bushels of vitally needed grain that will be wasted in 1946 unless we act now . . . it can be saved . . . Here's how we can do it . . .

1 • There are in America today 8000 self-propelled combines . . . many in your vicinity. Self-propelled combines save ALL of the grain on the opening cut while tractor-drawn combines lose over 50% of the opening swath.

2 • Each self-propelled combine owner has been requested to help fight famine by opening fields for their farm neighbors. If all self-propelled owners open 200 miles of fields each in 1946 in addition to their normal work, they will recover 28,000,000 bushels of grain that would otherwise be wasted.

3 • You may be able to have your fields opened by a grain-saving self-propelled combine—then finish the job with a tractor-drawn combine. You'll help add 28,000,000 bushels of grain to America's food supply . . . provide food for starving millions abroad. And you'll get more grain from your crop . . . and more profits. Over $30,000,000 worth of extra grain can be saved.

Act At Once!

Contact a self-propelled combine owner immediately and arrange to have your fields opened. See us now for full information.

Record Egret Flock Seen in Southern Minnesota

More than 40 snow-white American egrets are "vacationing" near Hastings, the state game and fish division reported recently. Thaddeus Surber, veteran naturalist of the division, says that this is the largest concentration of the big heron-like birds ever to be reported in this state. According to Surber, the main nesting region of the egret is far to the south of Minnesota, but after the breeding season some of the birds are taken with an urge to push farther north before returning to the south for the winter. These wanderers have been observed in small numbers in recent years.

Safe Illumination

Where illumination is necessary in the vicinity of the place where gas or inflammable liquids are used or handled, only flashlights in good repair or electric light extension cords and lamp guards of approved type should be used. No lights of any kind should be lowered into a tank or container for the purpose of measuring the contents.

TECHNOCRACY
What It Holds for You

In consideration of Technocracy there are four major questions that will rise in the mind of the inquirer:

1. What is Technocracy?
2. What is it designed to do?
3. How will it function?
4. Will it be satisfactory to all concerned?

1. What is Technocracy? This question has been answered partly in this article already. Science is no respecter and there is no escape from the inexorable immutability of natural laws. Follow physical law and you will avoid a lot of grief. Go contrary to physical law (or attempt to) and you pay the price—which is sometimes very heavy.

2. What is it designed to do? Technocracy, briefly stated, is the application of science to the social order. Science (through the technologists) has looked at the present order of things on this Continent and surveyed and analyzed the methods of production and distribution of all goods and services, the energy harnessed and potential, the rentable and non-renewable resources, the technological equipment now in use, and the trained personnel which operates it.

Science—now Technocracy—finds that every man, woman, and child in America could have for his natural lifetime a supply of goods and services equivalent to $20,000 per year based on prices in 1929, or 10 to 20 times what the average man then enjoyed. This is a very high standard of living to be shared by our entire population and, if it sounds like an exaggeration, be assured that our statement is easily supported by statistics available to any one who cares to make the investigation.

In their researches the scientists discovered a new method of social operation. They did not carry any preconceptions to their task, nor did they do any guessing or theorizing as they went along. Their findings cannot be successfully refuted or denied by anyone and from them come concrete indications of the end of the Price System on the North American Continent. The evidence is positive and complete. There is no 'out'. The Price System cannot work efficiently on this Continent. And by Price System is not meant merely the capitalistic system which is only one phase of it; it means the collapse and complete obsolescence of the entire method of distributing goods and services by means of a PRICE.

3. How will it function? In a Technate there are no such things as trading or working for wages. We can have such an ambulance of goods available that they can no longer be exchanged or bought or sold. They must be distributed to all persons without restriction in order scientifically to determine production and to operate the plant on a balanced-load basis; and to do this goods must be measured and not evaluated. Money cannot be used, and its function of purchasing must be replaced by a scientific unit of measurement.

All-the goods that the people of this Continent can use can be turned out in a steady flow by the present productive equipment with each operative working 4 hours a day, 4 days a week for about 165 days a year between the ages of 25 and 45, with complete leisure time after his 45th birthday.

4. Will it be satisfactory to all concerned? This question as it involves the tastes, opinions, habits, emotions, idiosyncracies, etc., of people, no two alike, is the hardest to deal with. But even the most hardboiled and hardest to suit would probably come to like living under a Technate. At any rate it is quite possible that you would have to take it whether you liked it or not. That would be rather a raw deal, wouldn't it?—to have all of the very things that you wanted forced upon you? The only way to avoid enjoying all these things—the full and unrestricted gifts of science released by technological control—would be to commit suicide or leave the country permanently.

Get this fact firmly: Technocracy is not advocated because it may be desirable. Technocracy does not depend on people's emotions, or desires, or likes, or dreams. All Utopian states in the past have been formulated by dreamers who started out by postulating what they thought would be the best or more desirable. Technocracy starts out with the facts at hand which indicate that the next most probable state of society will be, and whether that state will be desirable from the standpoint of people's opinion or not, has nothing to do with the question. However, and fortunately, it all seems to be highly desirable, even to the most skeptical.

For Technocracy, the only test is: 'Will it function?'

New Fibers

Shortage of silk after Pearl Harbor spurred chemists to greater research on nylon, whose durability, as well as adaptability for many uses, was proved during the war. Among newer contenders for the textile throne are ramie, a grass fiber, and aralac, made from milk curds.

MAKE CARS SAFE, IS AIM OF PATROL

Many Cars Are Tagged for Unsafe Equipment

The lure of the open road in June apparently brought out every vehicle that would move under its own power. And among the cars out on the highways were so many with bad brakes and other unsafe equipment that the Minnesota highway patrol set up a new record for "must repair" tags.

Tickets were issued for 5,993 violations of the safe equipment sections o fthe state traffic act, compared to 4,797 in May, previous high record. Included were 877 for illegal brakes. Other common faults were rear lights out, no windshield wiper, no warning device, and no clearance lamps.

"We realize that many people, unable to buy new cars, are driving very old vehicles," said Earl Larimer, chief patrol officer. "But it is not impossible to get brake repairs, lamp bulbs, and other equipment required for safe operation. Every owner or operator of a motor vehicle has an obligation to see that his car is in safe condition so that he will not endanger either himself or other people on the highways".

News of R. R. Valley Home for the Aged

Activities here at the Home, including the editing of this column, is considerably handicapped at present due to the absence of the Home's matron, Mrs. G. Moe, who together with her daughter Lorraine left on Friday night for the twin cities and other points in southern Minnesota, for an extended visit with relatives and friends, as well as for continued attention to Mrs. Moe's trouble with an eye infection. In the meantime what remains of the staff is carrying on as best it can, hoping and trusting that the intervening time until the matron's return may be bridged smoothly and safely, and that the next few weeks of freedom from her duties here may be of permanent benefit to her.

All is well here at present, everyone being up and around and enjoying the relief afforded by the passing of the heat wave over the last week-end.

Mrs. Emil Johnson from Alvarado called recently to see friends at the home after having visited for some time with her daughter at Alvarado.

The Tent Mission meetings now being held on the site south of the postoffice building are being well attended by the local folks here and especially so during this week's meetings with Rev. G. W. Buss of Minneapolis as principal speaker.

Gilbert Moe of Bemidji arrived here Wednesday evening for a visit with his family, going back on Friday.

We are indebted to Mrs. Lena Hays for reading matter and bedding brought here last week.

We are appreciative of the lovely bouquet and large arm chair presented to the Home last week in memory of the late Nate Harris and desire hereby to extend our sympathy to the family.

Among recent callers at the Home have been Mrs. Marthinsen, Martin Hoverstad, Miss Dorothy Huntsperger, Miss Esther, Drotts of Viking and H. O. Berve.

Mr. Adolph Satterberg of St. Hilaire called at the home Saturday and brought with him a collection of cash gifts to the Home, given in memory of Mrs. John B. Hanson. We wish herewith to convey our appreciation to each individual donor for their thoughtfulness of our home.

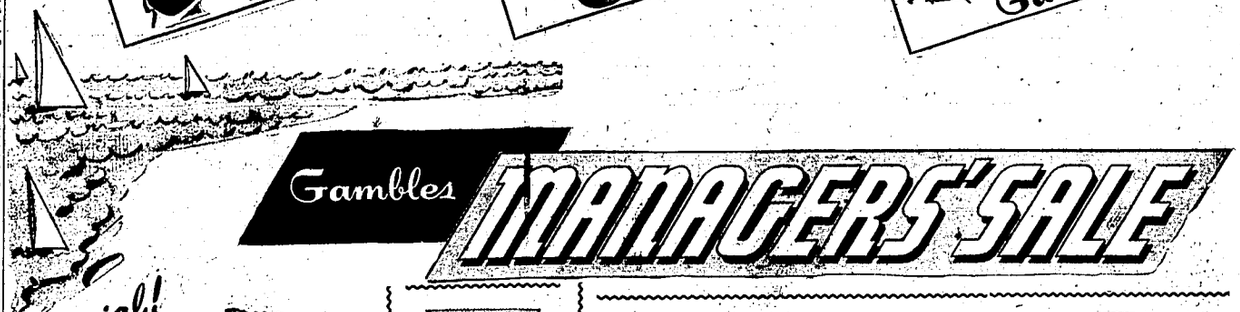
Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Chisholm of Karlstad were callers here on Friday, bringing with them a substantial cash gift to the home from the Zion Lutheran church at Karlstad, given in memory of Mr. P. O. Sanderson by relatives and friends.

And still another cash gift delivered by Rev. E. O. Sabo of Goodridge and given by friends and neighbors in memory of Mrs. Anna Saners of the Highlanding Lutheran congregation, is hereby gratefully acknowledged.

We wish also to say, "Thank You" to the local American Legion Post for the delivery of a box of buttered buns by Mr. Lovgren. Such things are useful in our business and are duly appreciated.

Rev. A. E. Windahl of Newark, Ill., called here Saturday. He was accompanied here by his wife's mother, Mrs. Mary Longren, who incidentally brought with her some cream and eggs for the Home. Rev. Windahl left for his home Tuesday after a brief visit here and Mrs. Windahl is returning with him following an extended visit at her parental home here.

For breakfast on Tuesday morning we had the pleasure of having with us at our tables the men who at present are in charge of the current Tent Mission meetings, when Supt. Rabine entertained his fellow workers, namely G. N. Buss, Walter Gerber and David W. Kipp of Minneapolis, and J. O. Jacobson and Leonard W. Lindholm of this city.



Another recent caller at the home was Mrs. Mark of Middle River who came in to visit Miss Minnie Gjerde and Mrs. M. Sarvalson.

Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Nebraska, in the order named, are the largest producers of oats in the United States.

MOUSE IN THE MONEY WASN'T SO FUNNY

Fairmont—The lady customer with an armful of groceries finally extracted some money from her purse. The lady cashier pushed the keys and the cash register popped open. A startled mouse popped up from one of the compartments.

The cashier, with more bravado than alm, grabbed mickey by the nape of the neck and heaved him. He landed on the lady with great aeries. The mouse disappeared. The wreckage was repaired. Business goes on as usual.

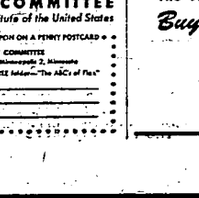
Time for Rising

Authorities agree that the soapsuds which loosen soil are likely to send blsing down the drain along with dirty suds. So the best time to use blsing is in the very last rinse.



AUGUST PLOWING PAYS THE FLAX Farmer

● One of the most effective methods of weed control is August plowing followed immediately by light surface working.

Grain stubble fields worked in August will benefit from the warm, moist weather sprouting millions of weeds you'd otherwise have to fight next spring. If weeds develop too rapidly before October's killing frosts, additional disking may be necessary to assure cleaner fields for your next year's Flax.

If your cultivated crops are badly infested with weeds, plow and work your grain stubble this August for increased Flax yields next year.

SEND FOR "THE ABC's OF FLAX." This new folder tells how to Make Weeds Your Best Fall Crop.

MY BEST FLAX FOLLOWS AUGUST PLOWED STUBBLE

"AUGUST PLOWING increases my Flax yields because it kills annual weeds. fewer weeds means more Flax to me," says Charles H. Babb of Wilmot, South Dak.ota.

"My Flax this year is by far the best I've ever raised. It's on wheat stubble plowed early last August."

More Workers Needed for Sweet Corn Pack in State This Month

With the pea pack out of the way, the U. S. employment service office and county agents are set to recruit workers to man the state's sweet-corn canneries. It is estimated that approximately 5,000 more workers will be needed to can corn than during the pea pack, when about 10,000 were at work.

Higher wages paid during the pea pack will continue during the corn canning season. It is estimated that the corn pack will begin about Aug. 12.

The state's canning industry packed about 3,000,000 cases of peas and the corn pack is expected to reach 5,150,000 cases, the same in 1945.

USES offices, county agents, and canning plants have detailed information now as to when and how long workers will be needed.

At its regular August session Tuesday evening, continuing until long after midnight, the city council granted more than $25,000 in building permits and awarded to Oscar Schenkey of Middle River the contract for installing runways on the local airport, following approval of the award last week by the state department of aeronautics.

Acting on the recommendation of the state board of health, transmitted by Dr. O. F. Mellby, city health officer, the council approved a resolution placing a curb on children's gatherings in the city as a means of preventing the spread of polio, and requesting the local theatres not to admit children under the age of 15 until further notice. The resolution appears elsewhere on this page.

Russell E. Olson submitted a petition requesting the council to annex to the city the newly platted Southern addition extending from Tindolph av. to the alley east of Crocker av., and south from the city limits to the county highway north of the C. T. Thompson farm. The plat comprises approximately 80 lots, and was approved by the county board at its July session. The council deferred action on the matter.

H. B. Rafteseth also submitted a plat of a portion of his propert; in the southwest section of the city, and asked the council to arrange to extend State and Kinne aves. into the property, which lies between Zah and Bakke sts. Approval of the plat was voted.

Petitions were presented for asking for installation of sewer and water mains on Marion av. S. from Bridge to Gulf sts., and on Kneale av. one block south to Gulf st. The council voted to make an investigation of the projects, action to be deferred on a request for the installation of an alley west of Arnold av., from Sixth st. to a point north of the present city limits.

Action was taken to advertise for the winter's supply of coal for municipal buildings, the bids to be opened at the September session. Approved for payment was the new Ford police car being delivered this week by the Tunberg Motor company.

Harlan Bailey, operator of the intra-city bus line, asked the council for a permit to operate three taxicabs in the city. It was indicated that his request would be complied with subject to his meeting the necessary require ments.

Larger among the building permits approved were those of the Oen Mercantile company, warehouse on the east side of the Soo right-of-way between Fifth and Sixth sts., $3,800; Red Lake Fuel company, coal shed on Soo right-of-way, $2,000; Elks building, remodeling, $2,400; Henry Thorson, residence on Duluth av. south of the Gospel Tabernacle, $4,000; and Thomas H. Most Pennington Co. Schools Scheduled to Open September 16th

The Board of Health and the city council of the City of Thief River Falls, recognizing that the present epidemic of polio, now prevalent in the state of Minnesota, is a serious menace and that an emergency exists, do hereby recommend and urge that the following regulations be adopted by the people of the community:

FIRST

SCHOOL SLATED TO START HERE SEPTEMBER 3D

School Faculty Is Now Complete, Supt. P. L. Fjelsted Announces

Supt. Philip L. Fjelsted stated that he is awaiting notice from the state department of education relative to deferring the opening of the school term for two weeks as announced in St. Paul Wednesday following a conference in the office of Governor Thye. The local schools, Mr. Fjelsted said, will abide by the recommendations received from the state office during the current polio epidemic.

With public schools scheduled to open in Thief River Falls Tuesday morning, September 3, the faculty personnel is now complete, Supt. Philip L. Fjelsted informed the board of education at its August session Monday evening. Signed up recently to serve as teacher training instructor was Miss Bernice Troumbly of this city, this being the last vacancy on the faculty.

The board devoted a large part of the session to a consideration of the budget for the ensuing year and of reports by Mr. Fjelsted covering the past year's operation of the local schools.

The budget as adopted calls for a total outlay for current expense of $199,515. This figure compares with $120,000 in 1940, the last year before the war, the increase since that time being due mainly to increases in teachers' salaries. The sum of $5,900 will be provided for capital outlay and $12,620 for debt service. Approval of the tax levy for the coming year was deferred to the September session.

Mr. Fjelsted announced that under a new plan recommended by the state department of education, all pupils in the junior high school will be in classes every period during the day, thus eliminating the study period in the study hall, in effect last year.

This change, he added, will release the study hall for the use of senior high students, and will make it unnecessary to utilize the library for study purposes. As a result, he pointed out, one less teacher will be needed for study hall duty during the coming school year.

Health and physical education instruction will be expanded this fall as the result of the employment of two men and two women teachers, all with majors in the field of physical education, to direct a well-balanced program in this field. Each of the four teachers will conduct 26 classes per week.

Janitors employed by the school district were given a salary increase of $10 per month for the coming year.

Mr. Fjelsted reported that the bonded debt of School District 18 had been reduced from a total of $254,000 on July 1, 1945, to $154,000, July 1946, a cut of $110,000 in the past eight years. As of June 30 this year the district had a cash balance on hand of $74,860.27.

HARRY SIMONS IS NAMED ALDERMAN FROM FIRST WARD

Mayor Douville and Aldermen Engage in Argument at Meeting

At an adjourned session Wednesday night, held to dispose of matters left over from the meeting the previous night, the city council declared vacant the office of first ward alderman held by G. S. Berryland, now of Minneapolis, and unanimously appointed Harry Simons of the L. B. Harts Stores to succeed him. Mr. Simons at present is serving as secretary of the park board.

The meeting was featured by arguments between council members and Mayor Wm. J. Douville, who indicated his approval of the airport improvement contract would be contingent on the council granting two requests previously made by him.

His request included recommendation that the council arrange for the appointment of a commission to draft a home-rule charter for the city, succeeding the present one adopted fifty years ago.

The mayor also asked that the city beer ordinance be revised to forbid the sale of 3.2 beer in places serving food, as a means, he said, of curbing juvenile delinquency. He opposed a suggestion by council members that beer sellers be given a hearing before such a change was made.

The alderman indicated that they felt it necessary to proceed with airport improvment project in view of the present advanced stage of plans.

The council voted to defray half the cost, totaling $373, incurred by the Civic and Commerce association in providing the fireworks display on July Fourth.

CANCEL 4-H SHOW AT THE STATE FAIR

Demonstrations Called Off Because of Polio

Acting on the recommendation of the state board of health, following a study of the current polio situation, the Minnesota state fair was canceled Wednesday. The event had been scheduled for August 24 to September 2.

With Minnesota polio cases since Jan. 1 having increased to 1,047, all 4H club demonstrations by boys and girls scheduled for the Minnesota state fair were canceled Monday by the Minnesota agricultural extension service.

Paul E. Miller, service director, made the announcement. He said:

"The polio outbreak makes it inadvisable to bring together 2,000 young members for contests in 4H work. We would be untrue to our purpose in risking the life of any Minnesota boy or girl through a statewide assembly.

"Every other possible means will be provided to give members the recognition they deserve for their work the past year."

A. J. Kittleson, state 4H club leader, said county extension agents and group leaders will be invited to set up display booths representing work in all counties. The exhibits, however, must be handled by adults, he said.

DEATH CLAIMS 1ST T. R. FALLS POLIO VICTIM

Vincent Votava, Age 5, Dies Last Friday; Two Sisters Are Stricken

The polio epidemic now sweeping Minnesota, with 1,154 cases and 84 deaths in the state up to Wednesday morning, claimed its first Thief River Falls victim last Friday afternoon when Vincent Votava, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Votava of this city succumbed in a Grand Forks hospital shortly after having been flown to that city.

The situation of the Votava family was rendered more tragic by the fact that two sisters of the dead boy were stricken with the malady. The girls, Valda, 8, and Celestina, 7, however, were reported yesterday as being out of danger in a Minneapolis hospital, where they were taken Saturday after showing definite symptoms.

Valda had been sent to Minneapolis the previous week, but was returned to her home here when a diagnosis failed to indicate the presence of polio. She later developed a lameness in one of her legs following which she was taken back to Minneapolis.

A third sister, Josephine, suspected also of having the disease, yesterday was apparently in normal health, as were the two youngest children, ages three years and eight months respectively.

Aside from the Votava children, no other cases of polio in the city have been reported to Dr. O. F. Mellby, city health officer, and no reports of additional cases in other parts of Pennington county have been received.

At Bemidji, which last week had two cases of polio, with two others in the rural areas, the 1,134 annual county fair scheduled for early this week was canceled, dances were forbidden, and theatres and the public library were closed.

Most interesting reading in Superintendent Fjelsted's August report to the school board is the record of progress that is being made in paying the district's debt. In 1938, when the district bonded for an additional $185,000 to build the new high school, the total debt was $264,000. That total has now been reduced to $154,000 and there is a balance of $28,000 in the bond and interest fund. That indicates a very satisfactory financial condition. The figures on enrollment however reveal that our school building condition is steadily becoming a more serious problem. We are approaching the time when we will have to build again and it is nice to know that our old obligations are well under control.

This week marks the first anniversary of the surrender of Japan. The world is now at peace yet there is no peace. There is not the kind of peace that brings with it a feeling security. There seems to be little of good will among men or among nations. But maybe it would be expecting too much to hope that within one year after the end of so terrible a struggle we would have been able to establish a peace of security and good will. Surely it would be unreasonable to expect that and so perhaps we are unreasonable in our impatience with the slow progress that is being made in restoring order in the world. We have made some progress. We have formed an organization through which the nations of the world can act collectively if they are of a mind to. Through this organization we are at least getting an open discussion of world problems and that, in itself, is a gain. In this organization we are now going through the painful process of learning along what lines we disagree, but that may be a necessary preliminary to the eventual harmony we seek. At any rate, at the end of the first year of the conflict of peace we are not yet ready to say that there is no hope or the world.

Maximum payments allowed by Minnesota for old age assistance and aid for dependent children have been higher than those established by the federal government. The result has been that the state and the counties have had to carry all of the cost of these forms of relief in excess of the limits to which the federal government would participate. Now Congress has increased the limits of federal participation and this will result in savings here at home. John Lynsky estimates that on the basis of costs during the past six months this county will save $5,200 annually and the state a proportionate amount. On the debit side is the fact that as living costs advance relief allowances must also be increased. The more liberal federal grants will make these increases less painful to local taxpayers.

With more than a thousand persons in Minnesota stricken with Polio this summer there is reason for alarm over the continued spread of the disease. This natural fear is heightened by the fact that there is little or no knowledge of either the cause or the cure for the sickness or how it is transmitted. Science frankly is baffled and medical authorities do not know what to advise as preventative measures. On the one hand they urge us to avoid being in groups as much as possible, presumably on the theory that other people might be carriers of the disease virus. On the other hand they do not quarantine those who have been exposed to the disease, all of which is a little confusing to the layman. It is difficult to be cautious when we do not know what it is we should be cautious about. Under the circumstances however it would be well to follow the doctor's advice. They may be right. And it is to their credit that they admit their uncertainty. It gives us more confidence in the things they tell us they are certain about and when they tell us they think they have the right answer for Polio we will string along with them.

Rooms Wanted

The Thief River Falls board of education and Supt. P. L. Fjelstad are directing this urgent appeal to residents of Thief River Falls to aid in relieving a critical housing situation.

Twelve unmarried faculty members due to arrive here September 1 for the opening of the fall school term are in need of single rooms. If rooms are not made available in Thief River Falls, there is a strong likelihood that the teachers will go to other communities where accommodations are available.

We want to retain the services of these teachers who are needed to educate your children. If you have a room to rent or know where one can be obtained, please call the superintendent's office, phone 693.

Jimmy Nordine, dropping a three-foot putt for a birdie on the 10th hole, defeated Vic Jung, 1-up, to win the tenth annual shortstop golf tournament played over the local course on Sunday. In another extra-hole match, Grand Forks' Phil Olson won the championship flight consolation, defeating Hans Chommie.

Favored by ideal weather and playing conditions, 116 golfers, arranged into thirteen flights, participated in the shortstop, with Grand Forks, Roseau, and Crookston sending large delegations.

To reach the championship flight finals, Nordine defeated Grand Forks' Herman Allen, 3 and 2, in the first round; bested Roseau's Homer Gilbertson, 3 and 1, in the quarter-finals and eliminated Grand Forks' Al Cocking, 4 and 3, in the semi finals. Vic. Jung, playing in the lower bracket, scored a 2 and 1 win over Grand Forks' Jack Friedland in a first round match; defeated Grand Forks' Bill Larson, 1-up in an extra hole match; edged out Tommy Jorde, 2 and 1, in the semi-finals. Jorde had eliminated the defending champion, Joe Bridston, 1-up, in a first round match.

In the championship match, both golfers had long drives on No. 1, were on the edge of the green with their seconds, and were down in two putts to halve the hole with birdie 4's.

Vic gained a 1-up lead taking the 2nd hole with a par 4, when Jim's tee shot went out-of-bounds. Vic's drive was in the rough to the left and his out went beyond the green. Jung pitched to within two feet of the pin, and sank the putt for the win.

Jim evened the match on the 3rd hole, scoring a birdie 4. Both golfers had long drives, with Jim having the longer ball and cutting across the no. 5 fairway. Vic's second shot was to the left of the green, while Jim, using a no. 8 iron, was on the green. Vic failed to make the green with his chip shot, and Nordine was down in two putts to win.

On the short 4th hole, Jim's tee shot was on the green, 18 feet from the pin, while Vic was over the green and to the left. Vic's chip failed to hold and the ball rolled 20 feet past the pin, and his putt failed to go in, giving Jim the hole with his par 3.

On the long 5th both drives, with slight hooks were on the fairway and past the pump house. Vic, using a No. 4 iron, was on the green and 15 feet from the pin with his second shot; while Jim, using a No. 7 iron, was just off to the right of the green. Nordine pitched short

The week's schedule:
Friday, Bridgeman's vs. Bjorkman's.
Monday, Hartz Stores vs. Vets.
Tuesday, Poppler's vs. Oen's.

The four teams that will enter the play-offs for the city softball championship were decided this week, with the Vets, Oen's, Poppler's, and Hartz Stores earning places in the tournament. The tournament committee will meet this week to draw up the schedule and pairings for the play-offs, with the first game being slated to be played on Aug. 23rd. The three games being played this week will wind-up the regular schedule, but the only changes that can occur is the possibility of a tie between the Hartz team and Poppler's for fourth place, and a possibility that Oen's and the Vets will again be tied for the league lead.

The Vets, by defeating Walt Larson's Poppler's team, 10 to 5, on Monday night, and with the Oen's using a patched-up lineup, losing to the Hartz Stores, 13 to 8, on Tuesday night, regained the City Softball league lead during the week. The victory of Al Johnson's Hartz team over the Oen's nine, gave the Hartz club a cinch on entering the league play-offs. Last Friday night, Poppler's, with Jim Welton connecting for a long right field home-run, defeated Burt Emanuel's Bjorkman's team, 16 to 8.

Keeping Score with BOB SJULESTAD

The tenth annual shortstop golf tournament, favored by ideal weather and with one of the strongest championship flights ever to show here, was one of the most successful tournaments ever conducted by the local club. When you get a championship flight with such golfers as Jimmy Nordine, Vic Jung, Tommy Jorde, Phil Olson, Bill Larson, Paul and Joe Bridston, Al Cocking, Monty Klein, Don McKenzie, Homer Gilbertson, Hans Chommie, and Homer Hedemark, you will see some par-busting golf.

Jimmy Nordine won and lost the championship a couple of times in his finals match with Vic Jung before closing out the duel on the 10th hole, winning with a birdie four. Jim had control of his matches with Herman Allen, winning by a 3 and 2 margin, Homer Gilbertson, scoring a 3 and 1 win, and Al Cocking, winning by a 4 and 3 score, but in the finals he met a stubborn opponent in Vic Jung. Nordine ran into putter trouble on the 7th, 8th, and 9th holes in the championship match; and Vic, too, had trouble on the green, especially on the 9th hole where a measly three-foot putt would have given him the match and the title. In fairness to Jim and Vic, though it must be recorded that the greens, day were lumpy and "hard to read" when the championship match got under way.

Many Eagles Registered

During the day's play there were any number of birdies scored and by personal observation, at least six eagles registered. Jim Nordine turned in the first eagle when in his match with Herman Allen, he lifted an iron second shot to within 10 feet of the pin on No. 3 and dropped the putt for a three. Roseau's all-state hockey player, Bob Harris, in his first flight match with Lloyd Bennes, also scored an eagle on No. 3. Monty Klein, Crookston's fine southpaw golfer, won the 3rd hole in his match with Grand Fork's Phil Olson with an eagle. Bennes, in a quarter-finals first flight match with Van Purvis, marked up an eagle deuce on the 8th hole. Nordine tallied his second eagle of the day when he rolled in a long putt for a three on the 1st hole in his semi-finals match with Al Cocking. The day's most vital eagle was perhaps the three that Tommy Jorde scored on No. 1 in his match with Monty Klein. Klein had led throughout most of the match, only to have Tommy win the 8th and 9th holes and force the match into extra holes. On the 10th, Tommy hit three perfect shots, two woods and a putt, for an eagle three and the match.

And entitled to a seperate paragraph was the feat of Hans Chommie in forcing the highly-touted Phil Olson to go an extra hole before winning the consolation in the championship flight. Hans opened that match by scoring birdies on No. 1 and No. 2, and making Phil, the recent Birchmont International winner bring out all the shots in his bag to tie the match on the 9th hole and win on the 10th.

Just a mention: on the 2nd hole, Jess DuChamp, in the 12th flight match with Phil Prichard, used an iron off the tee, and when noting that the ball just rolled out about fifty yards, investigated the club he had used and found that it was a putter. Jess didn't win the match.

No Fluke

That Jimmy Nordine's win on Sunday was no fluke can be judged by the brand of golf that he has been shooting. Jim, on Sunday, was eight-under-par for the matches that he played. But on Saturday afternoon, tuning up for the tournament, Jim came in with a six-under-par 30, and that score could have been a 28 or 29 for two of his chip shots hit the pin.

Scoring his 30, Jim had a birdie 4 on the 1st hole; a birdie 3 on the 2nd, a birdie on the 3rd, a par 3 on the 4th an eagle on the 5th, a par 3 on the 6th, a par 4 on the 7th, a birdie 3 on the 8th, and a par 3 on the 9th.

A Pair of "Upsets"

In club championship matches, which got underway this week, a pair of "upsets" were on the books, for on Tuesday evening Paul Gray, by a 2 and 1 score, defeated Stan Larson, one of the seeded players in the championship flight. And in a fourth flight match, young Lenny Hurst, gaining a big lead on the first nine holes, defeated Frank Tunberg.

Knox School Team Whips Northrup in Midget Game

In a "small fry" baseball game played under the lights on the East side park Wednesday night, "Pinky" Adolphson's Knox team defeated Don Stadum's Northrop team 15 to 2. Adolphson, pitching for the Knox nine, gave up but one hit, a single by Rasmussen, and struck out eight batters. Don Stadum did the hurling for the Northrop team and he, too, struck out eight batters, but was given poor support by his infield. "Pug" Lund with a single double, and homerun in four trips to the plate, led the Knox hitters. Ronnie Ness also connected for a homerun for the East Siders.

HUNTING SEASON FOR DUCKS OPENS IN STATE OCT. 5

Season Drastically Reduced to 45 Days from 80 Days in 1945

A 45-day duck hunting season—a reduction of 25 days from last year—was announced Thursday in Washington by Secretary of Interior Krug. The dates will be October 5 to November 15 in Minnesota. Shooting hours for waterfowl will run from one-half hour before sunrise to one-half hour before sunset. This clips one half hour from the closing end of the day.

In announcing the regulations, Krug called the duck-hunting rules the most drastic since 1935.

By way of explanation, Krug said in a statement accompanying the regulations:

"The population of most species of wild ducks has declined within the past two years from a peak of 125,350,000 in 1944 to 80,000,000 birds—a dangerous level.

Drouth conditions in the north central states and the prairie provinces, together with overshooting last season when more ducks were shot than were hatched and raised, are contributing factors.

"With a 36 per cent decrease in ducks coupled with a 50 per cent increase in the number of hunters from 1944 to 1946, we invite disaster if we dig any deeper into our breeding stocks. American sportsmen must take a smaller portion of ducks and geese during the 1946 season so that more breeders will be left to fly north in the spring of 1947".

Horse Show and Big Championship Rodeo Held Each Afternoon

Cattle and horse shows so big they will fill every available stall will headline this year's Minnesota state fair program, Aug. 24 thru Sept. 2, announced Secretary Raymond A. Lee this week.

Entries in the big afternoon grandstand horse show, Aug 26, 27, 28 and 29, will be equally heavy. Each daily horse show will precede a world's championship rodeo, in which champion bronc- busters and steer-riders will compete for $16,000 in prizes.

Other big educational features will be an 80-acre farm machinery and home appliance show, million dollar art exhibition, 10-acre army and navy victory exposition and mammoth exhibits of farm crops, fruits, flowers, and vegetables.

Auto races will be featured Aug. 24 and 25, and Sept. 1 and 2, and two big thrill days will be held Aug. 30 and 31. The gigantic night show, ten nights, will present a mammoth cast of 300 stars of circus, stage and screen, headed by the famed New York Roxyettes precision line.

National Polio Group Sends $120,000 to Fight Disease in Minnesota

As the number of polio cases in Minnesota grew beyond that of any state in the nation this week, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis accelerated the flow of March of Dimes money into the state in an effort to keep ravages of the disease to a minimum.

In Minneapolis, Kent Powers, Minnesota state representative of the Foundation, presented a check for $100,000 previously sent from the Foundation's New York office, will be used for the care and treatment of Henepin County polio victims.

The check was one of the largest ever sent out for epidemic emergency aid by the Foundation's New York office. Basil O'Connor, president of the Foundation, said his organization was prepared to spend a half million dollars or more in fighting the Minnesota outbreak.

LOCAL JOB OFFICE REPORTS FOR JULY

Available Supply of Workers Has Declined

Due largely to an increase in highway and building construction activity in Northwestern Minnesota counties in July, the available labor supply shows a decline of 200 workers for the month, it is revealed in the monthly report of the Thief River Falls office of the U. S. employment service.

A decrease of 50 per cent in unemployment compensation claims and soldiers' readjustment allowances from March to July indicates the trend toward a considerably reduced labor supply.

The report reveals that the local office made 257 placements during July. At the end of the month 70 local industrial job openings were on file, while 732 persons were registered for work.

SCRAMBLED EGGS OR FRICASSEED CHICKEN?

St. Peter—When Harry Kluntz got ready to thresh Monday a little Austra white hen was found sitting on seven eggs between the fan and the shakers. She declined to vacate so the threshers started the rig, sure she would then move. But Mrs. Austra saw her duty and did it. Threshing finished on the home place, Mr. Kluntz moved to the farms of three neighbors in turn. Saturday afternoon five baby chicks were cheeping in the thresher with mama still coddling two eggs while fan and shakers ruffled their neck and feathers every instant.

TECHNOCRACY

MECHANIZATION

Would you say clearer or more emphatic with regard to the mechanization of industry and the displacement of manpower, man's ultimate emancipation from toil—to say that a certain machine, [illegible] working, can cut into the cotton fields and pick cotton so fast that it will have used universally it would throw five-sixths of all the cotton pickers out of work? Or to tell you that:

There are paper making machines a city block long, each one of which can turn out a strip of paper 21 feet wide and nearly 200 miles long in a day? There is a rotating machine in existence near New York which makes, dries, and finishes 30 crowns every 12 minutes? There is one with a mixing-threshing combine can cut, thresh, and sack 40 acres of wheat per day? Single unit in a modern brick plant has a capacity of 10,000 bricks per hour, and there is no limit to the number of units that can be installed in a factory if necessary? In a modern match factory one machine dips a million sticks with each revolution of a wheel, a job that used to be done by hand? Shoe factories now have machines in the form of a gigantic wheel and each revolution of the wheel completely soles 200 pairs of shoes?

But machines more astounding than these are being put into use in all lines of industry every day. The Second World War has resulted in the greatest increase in new technology ever experienced. You can see that by increasing the number of units of any of these machines there is no limit to the amount of goods that can be turned out in an incredibly short time and with very little or no man-energy applied.

It is any wonder that the machine has put two out of work? We can see only too clearly what misery that phenomenon is causing today; but we also see that it is the machine which can give us security and leisure to enjoy life.

These statements are not the theories and vagaries of engineers or inventors talking about machines they have in mind which they are going to produce some day in the future. These machines and countless thousands more are now in existence and working. And day by day, they are increasing.

Technocracy will bring out the many useful machines and processes that are lurking in the background—buried patents, and many other useful things, suppressed for financial reasons—and put them to work to increase still further the leisure of mankind on this continent.

Technocracy finds that most of the human effort expended under the Price System is wasted effort and non-productive, tending only to increase the cost of the goods produced and prevent their wide-spread distribution, rather than to increase the quantity of supply. Technocracy will eliminate this waste and produce as much as possible for the least possible expenditure of man-energy. Production and distribution to be maintained at a continuously balanced load: no overproduction and no underconsumption.

Think of the millions of salesmen, insurance agents, bankers, bookkeepers, accountants, advertising men, etc., in industry who actually produce nothing and only add to the cost of the goods! Their services in these capacities will not be required under the Technate. Those over 45 will not be required to work any more, and those under 25 years of age will be trained in some useful capacity to their liking and ability, and the others, along with those now unemployed, would work in a capacity to which their training fitted them.

Every one will have all that he can use of everything with no repetition of the present or any other form of depression. The man or woman who is incapable of working will be entitled to exactly as much as any other person, for the use of goods and services will in no sense be given as a reward for work done, but simply because the recipient happens to be a human being living on the North American Continent.

THANK YOU

for waiting for delivery of your

NEW CHEVROLET

We are doing our best to see that you get your new car as quickly as possible

Remember—Our CAR-SERVICE is your best CAR-SAVER. Keep your present car "alive" until you get delivery of your new Chevrolet by bringing it to us for skilled service now and at regular intervals.

We want to thank our customers and prospective customers for your friendly patience while awaiting your new Chevrolets:

We know it is a hardship to wait for needed transportation; but we believe you will understand that we, and Chevrolet, are as eager to deliver cars as you are to obtain them. Unfortunately, production so far this year is far under expectations. Chevrolet Motor Division sums up the situation thus:

"Even though our rate of production normally exceeds that of any other manufacturer, we have been able to build, up to July 1, only 12.4 per cent as many cars as we had built up to that date in 1941. Production is still far below normal, because of frequent shortages of essential materials and parts. Strike after strike at the plants of our suppliers has seriously impeded our progress toward full production, and the cumulative effect severely hampers every manufacturing and assembly plant. In June we were able to build only 29.2 per cent as many cars as we produced in the same month in 1941."

While production is restricted, so—in proportion—are shipments of cars to us. As production increases, we are assured of getting our proportionate share of the total—and as quickly as cars are received, we will speed deliveries to our customers.

This new Engine Clean-up Program may be the one thing that will give it stamina for the final spurt

You're probably seeing some new cars, these days. And they're mighty welcome to the eye. For their arrival means your old one can be replaced in the nearest future.

But this last stretch may be the hardest one of all. Chances are the engine is dirty. Sticky deposits, long accumulating in that old engine, may suddenly clog the oiling system—with disastrous results.

To meet the situation, your Standard Oil Dealer offers a new, economical, five-point Engine Cleaning Program. It includes the use of two remarkable new Standard Oil products—Stanoil-Purge and Stanol-Vim—which do an effective cleaning job without requiring expensive dismantling of the engine.

Now, Economical, 5 Point Engine Clean-up Program

1 STAND-FORCE—Purges crankcase and engine. Contains all solvent, detergent and penetrating properties needed to clean out these vital channels.

2 STANOL-VIM—Introduced through carburetor at intake. Helps clean out deposits in valve area. Restores pep, power, smooth engine performance. Recommended to clean cooling and air channels.

3 OIL CHANGE—Oil Filter Replacement. Your Oil Always Better Level of Motor Clean. A clean filter keeps the oil clean.

4 RADIATOR FLUSHING—Old engine coolant is drained off.

5 FAN BELT CHECK-UP—A worn belt is a time bomb. You can't tell by looking whether you should replace it. Let us check it.

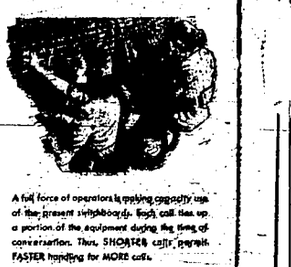
SHORTER CALLS



Can Help Speed Telephone Service

Growing needs for telephone service have made it necessary to operate our local switchboards and other facilities at far heavier loads than they were designed to handle. The daily volume of calls is greater than ever before . . . and is considerably higher than the war-time peak.

We're doing our best to provide good service . . . but when the number of calls is greater than present equipment can handle, the operators can not answer promptly and there are delays in putting calls through.

Delays most often occur at the busier calling hours of the day—9 to 11:30 a.m., and 1:30 to 4 p.m. When you can keep your calls brief, or when you can make them at less busy hours, the service is likely to be more prompt.

We've ordered more equipment and everything possible is being done to rush its production. But until additional facilities can be secured, your cooperation is urgently needed. Thank you for your help . . . and for your patience when there are delays.

A full force of operators is making capacity use of the present switchboards. Each call ties up a portion of the equipment during the time of conversation. Thus, SHORTER calls permit FASTER handling for MORE calls.

Decayed Teeth

Decayed teeth and diseased gums often become the portal for the entrance of disease-producing microbes into the body. From the decaying surface of a tooth cavity bacteria gain access to the jaw, where they may set up a root abscess. Sometimes infections are found upon the roots of otherwise sound teeth, presumably the result of diseased gums.

Tea Leaves

All tea, green and black, grows on the same kind of bush. Different varieties result from differences in climate, location, soil and methods of processing the leaves.

What about the twine shortage?

The present twine shortage started in Java and Yucatan —not in the United States.

War and drought

Binder twine is made from sisal fibre, which comes from the henequen plant. This plant is grown on a large scale only in Java and Yucatan.

War practically ruined the henequen plantations of Java—today we must depend on Yucatan (Mexico) for more than eighty-five percent (85%) of our imports of sisal fibre.

But Yucatan has had an exceptionally long and severe drought. The sisal crop is far below normal. And equally important, much of the fibre that Yucatan has produced is being finished into twine in Yucatan's own mills. This is being sold in open world markets at prices much higher than those which prevail in the United States. Neither we nor any other United States manufacturers of twine, to our knowledge, have any financial interest or voice in the control of these mills.

Fibre imports now less than half

Due to the conditions mentioned, we have received less than one-half as much raw fibre in the production-year of 1946 as in 1945. The exact figures are 42,368,000 pounds of fibre in 1945 and 20,688,000 pounds in 1946. Because we have scraped the cupboard bare, our shipments of binder twine for 1946 are a bit better than half those of 1945. The figures are 29,261,100 pounds shipped in 1946 against 55,301,525 in 1945. But we are among the first to admit that this is not enough.

Equal treatment for all

We have made every effort to handle this situation fairly. No one section of the country has been favored against another. Any surplus of twine that remained this year in sections where there is an early harvest, has been transferred to areas with later harvest seasons. This has resulted in the Northwest getting an additional 600,000 pounds of twine in recent weeks.

As of July 22, 1946, after combing all our branches clean, we had on hand at our mills 2,400 pounds of twine. We had orders for 12,061,350 pounds!

World shortage—world demand

The present twine shortage in the United States cannot be attributed to faulty distribution or production by any of the American firms producing twine. The shortage is due solely to the lack of imports of raw fibres from which twine is made.

International Harvester Company regrets that world shortages and world demand for fibre have produced this condition. We pledge that as imports of raw fibre increase, our customers will again receive more nearly normal supplies.

Your dealer not to blame

Your dealers—and ours—are doing the best they can under conditions which they did not create and which they cannot control. We publish these facts in their interest and for your information.

Itasca State Park to be Opened Again This Fall for Deer Hunting

Itasca state park will again be open to deer hunting this year and probably for an additional three years according to a statement made by Game Commissioner Chester Wilson at a recent meeting of conservation leaders at Douglas Lodge.

Commissioner Wilson said that the opening of hunting in the park is in keeping with the reforestration program, and that if proper conservation methods had been started 20 years ago there would be no present problem. The state is bound under an agreement with the federal government to take care of the growth.

He further advocated that the plan should be carried out for another three years, and predicted that the ultimate good results warrant the placing of the park as an open hunting area. He stated that if sportsmen wished another game refuge in this area that application should be made and one could be started.

TEETH, TWINS, AND TIME GET SPOTLIGHT

Donald L. and Mary Blair, 84, living on the farm near Winnebago where they were born in 1862, certainly are among the state's oldest twins. Though August and John Fremburg, New London, have it on them a little at 83; born in Sweden their father brought them to Minnesota as a homesteader.

SOCIAL SECURITY LAW CHANGES ARE BENEFIT LOCALLY

Federal Government to Share in Payments to a Larger Extent

The federal government will contribute $3,808,000 more to Minnesota recipients of old age assistance aid to dependent children, and aid to the blind under terms of social security act amendments.

The state now will receive $10,253,000 in federal funds for old age assistance, an increase of $2,262,000 over the amount provided by the old law; $1,444,000 for aid to dependent children, an increase of $487,000; and $248,800 for aid to the blind, an increase of $56,900.

John X. Lynskey, executive secretary of the Pennington county welfare board, said that on the basis of payments during the past six months, the changes in the law will benefit the county to the extent of $4,000 on old-age assistance and $1,200 on aid to dependent children.

Primary changes in the act are: Maximum individual payment for old age assistance in which the federal government is allowed to share is increased from $40 to $45 a month. Instead of matching state expenditures on a 50-50 basis the government will contribute two-thirds of the the first $15 and one-half of the remainder.

Maximum payments to the blind in which the government can share are raised from $40 to $45 a month with the government contributing two thirds of the first $15 and a half of the remainder.

For aid to dependent children the sharing maximum is increased from $18 for one child in a family and $12 for each additional child to $24 for the first child and $15 for each additional. Instead of a 50-50 sharing basis, federal funds will pay two-thirds of the first $9 for dependent children, and half of the remainder.

Timber Reserves on Red Lake Reservation to be Tapped to Yield Lumber

Timber reserves on the Red Lake Indian reservation in northern Minnesota will be tapped to provide lumber for the veterans' housing program, Wilson W. Wyatt, housing expediter, announced Friday in Washington.

As part of a $1,234,000 access road construction program to open up timber in eight reservations, 28 miles of road will be built in the Red Lake section, mostly with Indian labor.

Work on this and 200 miles of road in the other seven reservation throughout the nation's forest sections will begin within 30 days. The department of the Interior will supervise the program. Indian labor will be used for the road projects.

Wyatt said the reservations will provide about 17,000,000 feet of lumber this year when the access roads have opened up presently inaccessible sections. That would be enough lumber for approximately 17,000 six-room houses. He also estimates 15,194,000 board feet will be made available in 1947.

Parking Meters Voted Down in Detroit Lakes

The city of Detroit Lakes will not install parking meters on its principal downtown streets—not for the present at least.

That was the decision made by the city council at its regular meeting Monday night.

Action on the proposed installation came after a committee of three alderman reported its findings and recommended that the city drop the matter.

They reported to the council that it was the general consensus among business men and others that parking meter installation was undesirable.

The six-inch archer fish can shoot a six-foot stream of water from its mouth, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica. The fish uses this jet to wet insects, knocking them into the water where they can be eaten.

Accident Toll
From Pearl Harbor (December 7, 1941) to V-J Day (August 14, 1945), war casualties included 281,038 killed and 651,911 wounded. During that same period deaths from accidents on the home front totaled 356,000, with 32,000,000 injured, including 1,250,000 cases involving permanent disability. Pull out of these home front figures the toll of death by accident in homes alone, and we have 118,000. The number injured in homes alone was 17,500,000 during this time.

Polyglot Town
It is estimated that more than 48 races were represented among 2,000 prewar inhabitants of Darwin, Australia. Streets were filled with dress headhikes, while Australian traders, European adventurers, fuzzy-headed Fijians, Chinese coolies and moonfaced, Japanese pearl divers, and a variety of half-castes. This polyglot populace managed to build a hospital and a school, and to install a power and water system. When steamers docked the townfolk obtained fresh fruits, vegetables and tobacco. Occasionally a prisoner escaped and gave himself up, turned out of jail to clear the field of horses and goats for the landing.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

To Nap or Not to Nap

"Jean doesn't want to take a nap anymore. What shall I do? I think she ought to sleep more than she does, for she is so active." Many mothers of preschool children wonder about this same problem. When should the nap stop being part of the child's daily routine?

The newborn infant sleeps most of the time. Gradually the periods of waking increase, so that the total amount of sleep decreases. By the age of two years most children sleep approximately eleven to twelve hours at night and have an afternoon nap of from one to two hours.

If the child has been accustomed from infancy to sleep through the ordinary household noises, it will be easier to continue the nap habit. The physical conditions of the sleeping room are important. The child should have his own bed, in a darkened room, be undressed and suitably covered so that he is neither too hot nor too cold.

Individual differences exist in regard to the child's sleep just as in other aspects of development. Thus a child in poor health requires more sleep than the healthy, vigorous child. But the parent who insists upon more sleep for the very healthy child than he actually needs, may provoke temper tantrums and other undesirable behavior.

The decrease in the total amount of sleep from two to six years is due to the dropping out of the afternoon nap. Contrary to popular opinion, studies show that the nap does not become shorter as the child's age increases; instead the child omits a nap occasionally. Whereas the two-year-old has a nap practically every afternoon, the five year old seldom has a nap.

If Jean is about four-years-old, her sleep pattern is probably changing due to the disappearance of the nap. Although she doesn't sleep she may have a quiet rest period during which she may look at a book or play quietly in her own room for an hour.

Make Dishcloths

You can make yourself some dishcloths if you save the mesh bags which oranges and onions often come in. Boil them for 15 minutes in hot soapy water to which a little bleach has been added. This will shrink them to proper size and remove the coloring. Then wash them thoroughly in suds, rinse.

DID SOMEONE SAY FARMING IS MAN'S JOB?

Richfield—Eight Kramer sisters, ranging in age from 22 to 39, successfully farm 120 acres on the south edge of Minneapolis. Wheat is running 35 bushels to the acre this year, oats around 50, and in true Minnesota spirit they are helping neighbors who have helped them with the threshing.

"It's fine to say nice things about people, but it's kind of lazy. There's more satisfaction from doing something for 'em. That is, it's more satisfying to you."

AUGUST PLOWING INCREASES MY FLAX Yields

"August plowing increases my Flax yields at least 2 to 3 bushels an acre," says A. L. Nordland who farms over 500 acres near Winsboro, Minnesota.

"This year I have 100 acres in Flax. Part of it is on corn ground but my best piece of Flax is on one stubble that was plowed last August. It is weed free and is the heaviest stand of Flax on my farm."

"Yes, we were bit by frost but my Flax should yield better than 15 bushels to the acre this year. Flax is the best crop on my farm."

Plow Now AND MAKE MORE MONEY FROM YOUR 1947 FLAX

● August plowing followed by disking or harrowing will sprout millions of weeds this fall that you'd otherwise have to fight next spring. If weeds develop too rapidly, additional disking may be necessary . . . otherwise fall frosts will destroy them.

Plan now for bigger Flax yields next year by sprouting weeds this August and killing them this fall. Fewer weeds means more Flax . . . more income per acre.

Send for "The ABC's of Flax." This new folder tells how to make weeds your best fall crop.

Is a cigarette worth a million dollars?

No—but the damage one cigarette can cause may amount to a million dollars.

Minnesota is an easy mark for fires—our forests cover nearly 40% of the land in the state. And we are spending less money on forest fire control than neighboring states with less at stake.

In Minnesota we must STOP fire before it gets started. That requires CARE on your part at all times.

The forests of Minnesota can give you a good cash income year after year—an annual crop—if given a chance to grow. Fire kills and destroys, and in many cases ruins the soil and prevents later growth of trees.

This time of the year bear stories are quite in vogue but this is no story. A real bear, a large cub was caught alive sitting up in a big oak on the H. Marquis farmstead last Friday evening. Several young fellows who happened to be near by, Oscar Merkus one of them, managed to get a snare on it and pulled the poor nervous cub down. It is now in a pen at Erie waiting—its doom. We hope to be all invited to a barbecue breakfast.

RINDAL CREAMERY DESTROYED AUG. 3

Heavy Loss Sustained by Polk County Plant

The Farmers Coop Creamery at Rindal in east Polk county was completely destroyed by fire after being struck by a bolt of lightning during an electrictical storm at about 1:00 o'clock on Saturday morning, August 3, says the Winger Enterprise. The lightning is believed to have struck the tin roof of a warehouse adjoining the main building and the whole structure was immediately in flames before any attempt could be made to put out the fire.

The building burned quickly but the ruins were left smouldering for several days due to the large amount of sawdust and other slow-burning material on the premises.

All that how remains of the creamery is the brick walls which still seem to be in fairly good condition. All equipment, however, was completely destroyed and the locker plant at the rear of the building was left in ruins.

The creamery had recently installed new and expensive equipment for handling whole milk and nothing is left of this that could still be used. A large amount of butter was burned and in the cold storage rooms, thousands of dollars worth of meat was lost.

With 250 meat lockers in the plant it has been estimated that perhaps 200 of these were completely filled; besides a large amount of meat in the sharp freezer and awaiting storage in lockers. A small amount of meat was salvaged after the flames died down but this was only a small percentage of the total amount in storage.

Civil War Speeded Advance Communication

Extensive use of the telephone in war stems from essential work begun in 1878, when the signal corps laid a 40-mile field line at Fort Whipple, now Fort Myer, Va. The telephone became the standard mode of communication between the fort and the Washington office of the chief signal officer.

The extension of telephone service by the army had been greatly facilitated by the prior use of telegraphy, which developed the army's system of stretching lines under combat conditions, and machinery for the speedy extension of wire communication service. The army's practical use of wire began in May, 1862, when a field telegraph line was extended from General McClellan's headquarters, outside Williamsburg, to General Slocumb's advance guard headquarters at Mechanicsville, Va. Following the Civil war each army corps was provided with one battery wagon, from which four lines could be operated; and four wire wagons each carrying 10 to 12 miles of wire. The first field telegraph train delivered to the war department had carried only 10 miles of wire.

Experiments turned to the speeding-up of line laying. A one-man "flying cable-cart" on rubber tires was introduced in 1891. Later an automatic wire reel attached to a bicycle was used. A record was established in 1891-92, when a field telegraph line was stretched on poles 35 miles along New Mexico's border in 25 working hours. Today a reel of wire may be suspended from the rear of a jeep.

Discharged Wacs, Waves, Spars May Take Nurses' Training under G-I Bill

Members of the women's military forces during the war are eligible under the G. I. Bill for enrollment in schools of nursing where they will receive training free of charge plus added compensation.

Ragna Gynild, general secretary of the Minnesota Nurses' Association, in a statement issued to school counselors, said, "Although the Nurses' Cadet Corps has been discontinued, discharged women veterans who meet necessary qualifications are eligible for nurse training, under even better arrangement than was offered to girls of the Cadet Corps.

"The G. I. Bill of Rights will pay costs of tuition and books, etc., plus extra payment of $65.00 per month. Maximum payments to Cadet Corps trainees was only $30.00 per month"

Girls who choose to make nursing their career may have their choice of any one of 26 schools of nursing located throughout the state of Minnesota.

SCHOOL START POSTPONED TO SEPTEMBER 16

Local Board to Follow Recommendation of State Department

In view of the postponement of education in Minnesota, public schools of this city will follow the recommendation of Dean Schweickhard, state commissioner of education, that the opening of the fall term be postponed from September 3 to Monday September 16, Supt. Philip L. Fjelsted announced this week.

The postponement will have little effect on the rural schools, virtually all of which had not been scheduled to open before September 16, according to Mrs. A. C. Matheson, county superintendent. St. Bernards school in this city also will open on the latter date.

Mr. Fjelsted stated that the faculty meeting preceding the opening of the fall term, originally scheduled for Monday, September 2, has been deferred to Sunday evening, September 16.

Plans for making up for the nine school days lost thru the delay in opening sessions have not yet been worked out by the board of education, Mr. Fjelsted said, but indicated a solution might be found in lopping off a week from the Christmas vacation period and continuing the spring term a week beyond scheduled closing date.

FOURTH CITY MAIL CARRIER SERVING POSTOFFICE HERE

Routes Are Rearranged in City to Care for Added Service Demand

To care for the growing demand for postal service in Thief River Falls, the city, effective Monday of this week, is being served by four carriers instead of three as formerly, Postmaster Andrew Anderson stated today. Fred Prots, who has recently been delivering parcels post is carrying mail on the new route.

Approval of the new arrangement was received last week from the postoffice department in Washington.

At the same time it was announced that a considerable number of local homes formerly served by rural routes are now having their mail delivered by city carriers, thus speeding up its receipt.

The added area includes Arnold av. S., Eighth st. east from the Soo Line tracks to the bridge, additional residences on Conley and St. Paul aves. S., State ave. from First to third sts. and a few other scattered homes on the outskirts of the city.

Decontrol Agency Restores Ceilings on Meat Products

The price decontrol board Tuesday night in Washington ordered ceilings restored on all meat and said they will be " at or close to June 30 levels."

The board ruled that dairy products and nearly all grains should remain free of ceiling but restored price controls on soybeans and cottonseed products.

OPA and the agriculture department will determine the ceilings on the recontrolled items and put them into effect Friday. The board also authorized revival of June 29 subsidy payments on meat and livestock.

Milk, butter, cheese, ice cream and all other dairy food and feed products will remain free of ceilings.

The decontrolled grains are wheat, rye, corn, oats, feed oats, seed oats, barley and grain sorghums, as well as any livestock or poultry feed made entirely from any one or more of the basic grains.

The board directed re-establishment of price ceilings on flaxseed and by-product grain feeds. In the case of each item on which ceilings were ordered restored, the board found that:

1. Prices have risen unreasonably above June 30 ceilings, plus any subsidy which was being paid them.

2. Supply is short.

3. Price control is "practicable, enforceable and in the public interest."

Explaining its decision to restore meat ceilings, the board said that price increases since June 30 had ranged in the case of livestock from 20 to 50 per cent, and in the case of wholesale meat prices, from 35 to 80 per cent.

"Corresponding increases have been reported in the case of retail meat prices," the statement noted.

Saying that part of these increases were due to lapse of subsidies, the board said:

"For the most part prices reported were beyond question unreasonably above ceilings plus subsidies."

The supply of meat "has been and will continue to be short in relation to demand at reasonable prices," the board declared.

3 MORE POLIO CASES DEVELOP HERE IN WEEK

Makes Total of Seven Cases Listed to Date in Thief River Falls

The nine-months-old baby girl of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Mostrom, living in Hickory township, was taken to Minneapolis Wednesday, her illness having been diagnosed locally as polio. This brings to four the number of cases reported in Pennington county outside the city of Thief River Falls.

With three additional cases of polio developing in this city during the past week, in addition to the four previously reported in the Ward Votava family, Thief River Falls is feeling the full impact of the current epidemic, in which the total cases for the state had mounted by Tuesday to 1,462.

The latest cases include those of Charles Rodakuhr, taken to University hospital in Minneapolis last week; Ralph Journad, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Journad; and John Erickson, Jr., son of County Engineer and Mrs. J. A. Erickson. The last two were taken to Minneapolis Tuesday for further diagnosis.

Besides the seven cases originating in the city to date, three additional cases were reported earlier this month in the rural areas tributary to Thief River Falls. In addition several patients taken to the hospitals in Minneapolis have since been returned to their homes here after their cases have been diagnosed as abortive polio, which does not require treatment.

Gust Craft of Plummer, who had shown symptoms of the disease, was flown Monday from Thief River Falls to Minneapolis. There his case was diagnosed as being of the abortive type, and he returned to his home Wednesday.

Andrew Anderson, Chairman of the Pennington county polio chapter, which is assisting in financing many of the cases, announced this week that the chapter had received a cash grant of $2,000 from the national polio foundation to augment funds in the local treasury.

ON-THE-JOB FARM TRAINING PLAN IS NOW IN PROGRESS

25 Students Enrolled in Veterans Course, Instructor Announces

Charles Shelgren, local veterans agriculture training instructor, reports that the on-the-job farm program under joint sponsorship of the local high school and Veterans Administration is off to a good start with twenty-five veterans attending classes at Lincoln high school each Wednesday evening from 7:00 until 11:00 o'clock.

The veterans now participating in the program were selected on the basis of their having a sound farm program. A board with the authority to act on the approval of applicants has been established consisting of Joseph Rosengren, Harold Harrison, Stanley Nelson and Robert Lund. The farm must provide an adequate opportunity for the student to apply the subject matter of the class room to his own farm. Each farm must be of sufficient size to provide full year round employment at the business of farming. The farm will be in reality the laboratory of the trainee with Mr. Shelgren acting in a supervisory capacity.

The program now under way at Lincoln high school is operating at capacity. Veterans desiring farm training must wait their turn for acceptance into the program; because a veteran is first on the list does not insure his acceptance into training. He must have a bonafide farm program and not a make-shift one devised for the sole purpose of procuring the subsistence offered by the government.

Mr. Shelgren reports his present class displays keen interest in the program and is responding to the progressive planning offered by the course. Each student has indicated his specific desire to make farming his life long occupation.

Killing Woodchucks

The easiest way to rid a farm of woodchucks is to go over the fields in late April or early May, before the grass starts growing, and cyanide or bomb every fresh-opened hole. In doing so you may treat a few unnecessary holes but you will get the woodchucks before the young leave the nest. Woodchuck bombs, which look like a big cannon cracker, are lighted and pushed down the hole as far as you can reach and the hole is then closed up with soil. There are five different explosions which drive the poison gas to the farthest corners of the burrows, killing the woodchucks. A second method of killing woodchucks is to use calcium cyanide. Put about two tablespoons on the end of a trowel and reach as far down into the hole as you can, then drop it. Close the entrance of the burrow with a sod and some soil. The woodchuck is sure to be killed by the cyanide gas released from the calcium cyanide. Calcium cyanide is such a deadly poison many people hesitate to handle it, and so the woodchuck bomb is a much safer way to kill woodchucks.

Search Vessels

By treaties, United States coast guard cutters are permitted to stop and search vessels suspected of smuggling, even though they may be 12 miles from shore. Other treaties permit suspected smugglers to be stopped within one hour's sailing distance from shore. The prohibition period brought provisions especially aimed at the outlaw "rum runners." If a vessel is ordered to stop by a coast guard patrol within American territorial waters, and refuses to obey, it may be pursued, stopped and searched even though it succeeds in reaching the high seas.

Indian on the Nickel

Several Indians have been publicized as the originals of the Indian-head or "Buffalo" nickel but James Earle Frazer, who designed it, said the head is an idealized portrait and represents no particular Indian. Several Indians posed for him, at the time he was making preliminary studies, including Chief Two Guns White Calf, of the Blackfeet tribe, and Iron Tail, a Sioux chief of the Pine Ridge, reservation.

GROCERS BEING SURVEYED BY OPA

Action Is Designed to Help Merchants

A survey of the more than 2,000 food stores in the Fargo-Moorhead district OPA, now underway, is being conducted soley for the information and assistance of local officials.

"Before boards again take up the processing of violations, after the period when controls were off, we felt it only fair that grocers be given every aid possible to get in line," said M. M. Campbell, district price board executive director ing the survey.

"As we see it, our job is to obtain full compliance and to prevent violations, rather than to apprehend violators," Campbell said, "Besides a duty to the consumer, OPA also has an obligation to the merchant, both in protecting the individual in compliance from unfair competition and informing each merchant on all phases of the price control act affecting his operation."

The check, to be completed before August 27, by both paid board personnel and by volunteer workers, is to include all retail food outlets. Besides individual prices and price tags, the display of community food posters and fresh fruit and vegetable price charts will be covered in the survey.

Climbing Ladder

Before climbing a step ladder, see that the spreader is fully extended and the footing firm. If the ladder is to stand on a concrete sidewalk or smooth surface, get someone to keep the ladder from sliding. Use board under the base on soft ground. Face the ladder when climbing; don't lean too far out or attempt to carry too heavy a load.

Starch Curtains

The little extra time take to starch cotton curtains saves more work later in the next washing, for the dust is prevented from, becoming embedded in the fibers and comes out more easily than from unstarched curtains.

Frocking Ducks

Plucking of ducks can be made much easier if the ducks are first dipped in a mixture of hot water and melted paraffin.

Roach Poison

The first step in ridding kitchens and closets of cockroaches is to leave nothing for the roaches to eat. Sodium fluoride purchased at drug stores is one of the best roach poisons. Apply very sparingly along the back of shelves, drainboards, door sills and other places where the roaches run at night. Keep the poison away from children or pets and entirely away from all food. Keep the poison in a well marked container as it is poisonous to people and animals.

Decorative Window Shade

For nighttime in a dull bedroom —have a decorative window shade. You can make this yourself with flowered chintz by mounting it on an old shade roller. To clean, sponge off with dry soapsuds. Wipe with a clean damp cloth and press with an iron.

Freeze-Drying

The new method of drying fruits and vegetables by the "freeze-drying" process was learned from the chemists who are preserving blood plasma and penicillin.

Foreign Wool

For some years now, mills in this country have been making more and more use of foreign grown wool. Ten to 15 years ago, only about 10 per cent of the wool they used came from abroad. But even before the war, our mills were getting more of their wool from foreign countries. And during the war years, an average of about 45 per cent of the wool United States mills needed was supplied from abroad.

SANITARY PIRACY

"Our neighbor's child doesn't go for the urge most of the kids have to be a fighting airman. He's a little old-fashioned. He still dreams of being a pirate some day. He described to us his mental picture of himself boarding a merchant vessel by climbing over the side with a cutlass between his teeth.

"That's kind of out-of-date, isn't it?" we suggested. "That cutlass-in-the-teeth stuff went out long ago."

He thought for a moment. "Well," he said, "I wouldn't put it back in my mouth again after I'd killed somebody till I'd sterilized it in boiling water."

This Way Out

Daughter — Dad, what was the idea of walking through the living room last night with that box of breakfast food in your hand? You embarrassed me terribly in front of my new boy friend.

Father—It was just a hint, my darling, that it was about time for him to leave.

ALWAYS SOMETHING

"I declare," exclaimed a certain field worker in the department of agriculture, "I try to make things easier for the farmers I call on, but sometimes I encounter a pessimistic fellow who is hard to pacify. The other day I called on a man to whom fair weather and superior cultivating skill had brought bumper crops, and I said to him, 'Well, you ought to be satisfied with such crops as these. There is certainly nothing lacking. You have no cause for complaint this year.'"

"What did he say to that?" a listener inquired.

"Oh," replied the government man disconsolately, "he picked up a handful of dirt, let it trickle through his fingers, and replied, 'Well, you know such crops as these is pesky hard on the soil.'"

SCHOOL DAZE

Jimmy—Gee, I got a hundred in math today.

Dad—Well, I'm glad to hear that for a change.

Jimmy—Yeah, but the answer was seventy-five.

Ouch!

Wifey—You'd make a wonderful fireman!

Hubby—How come?

Wifey—When the girls are around you just can't keep your eyes off the hose.

Given the Bird

Waitress—If you order the leg of chicken we'll have to charge you for a half chicken.

Diner—It's lucky I don't want a beefsteak.

Off the Map

Sonny—Where is Atoms?

Daddy—You mean Athens, Greece, or Athens, Georgia?

Sonny—No. I mean the place everything is blown to.

Tit for Tat

Jerry—How are you?

Harry—Terrible! Starvation is practically staring me in the face.

Jerry—Gee, that couldn't be very pleasant for either of you.

Spill the Dirt

Jane—Mabel and I had the loveliest confidential conversation yesterday.

Joan—I thought so. She wouldn't speak to me today.

And Fun Too

Jack—Why does Sandy like to go out with blondes?

Mac—I think it's the light overhead.

He—Hi, Cookie!

She—Yes.

He — Wasn't talkin' to you, crumb!

NOT YET

Jean—I bet you can't name one movie star who hasn't had a divorce!

Jane—Sure I can. Mickey Mouse.

What a Grin!

Jones—Why does Brown always sniffle at the girl behind the counter at the butcher store?

IN THE ARMY

Pvt. One—Did you hear the boys have a jeep doing bus service to town?

Pvt. Two—Oh, pray-as-you-enter, I suppose!

Happy Ending

Jane—Do you know why so many girls are wearing red?

Joan—No, why?

Jane—Well, little Red Riding Hood wore red. And look at the wolf she got!

Gold Digger

Joe—Gee, that was some blonde with you last night. Where did you get her?

Bill—I don't know. I just ope my billfold and there she was!

Our government is not going to declare war on Russia or any of her satellite states regardless of what is said or done in the present strained relationship. If we cannot work out a satisfactory solution for the differences that are piling up then these differences will be referred to the United Nations for action. That is the sum and substance of the threat our state department has made in its letters of protest and under the circumstances that is about all that can be done. It is comforting to know that there is an agency to which such matters can be referred even though there is a question as to whether or not that agency is yet strong enough to avert an ultimate clash between two great powers. Proceeding in this way provides a cooling-off period, a time to pause and reflect, and that is all-important in any effort to stop a fight, especially when neither party to an argument is anxious to fight. Our country certainly is not in a fighting mood and we may assume that Stalin, regardless of what his actual plans might be, would rather not come to blows with an opponent who has a load of atomic bombs at his disposal. There are some discouraging aspects to the present situation and real reason for concern; but there are a few things we should feel good about too.

Price controls will go into effect on meats again but new prices probably will come gradually to the consumer if, as indicated, time will be allowed for present stocks to be sold without a loss. Producers apparently are not going to be called upon to stand all of the cost of the lower market prices. Uncle Sam will pay at least a part of the difference through subsidies so presumably everyone should be happy except those who are concerned about the government's ability to keep on paying a part of our food bill.

School opening has been delayed two weeks and unless there has been a radical change in the thinking of youngsters this announcement is good news for a lot of kids. The postponement probably fits in pretty well with the time schedule of a farming community too. Many parents will be glad to have the help of their children two extra weeks in getting the fall farm work taken care of.

Announcement that a contract has been let or the construction of an additional 161 miles of REA lines is going to bring encouragement to a lot of farm families in this territory who have been waiting through the war years for the coming of electricity. The bringing of electric lights and power to the farm is just as revolutionary a development for the agriculture of our country as was the invention of the harvesting machine.

Several additions to the area of the city will provide room for many new homes and that is important in the development of Thief River Falls. In recent years desirable home building sites within the city limits have become scarce and as a result many homes have been built outside the city by people who would prefer to have the conveniences that are available only inside the limits. There should be a rapid development in these new areas.

Man in the Iron Mask

The Man in the Iron Mask was a mysterious prisoner in France who was known by the name of Lestang and who, to conceal his identity, was forced to wear a mask, not actually iron but velvet strengthened with whalebone. Many explanations of his identity have been offered but the most commonly accepted is that he was Count Mattioli, a private agent of Ferdinand, Count duke of Mantua, and this 14-year imprisonment was for having received Louis XIV in a secret treaty for the purchase of the fortress of Casale. He was confined at various times in several prisons, the last of which was the Bastille, to which he was brought in 1698. He died there on November 19, 1703, and was buried in St. Paul's cemetery in Paris, under the name of Marchioly.

Birth Flowers

Birth flowers: January, carnation; February, primrose; March, violets; April, daisy; May, lily of the valley; June, rose; July, sweet pea; August, gladioli; September, aster; October, dahlia; November, chrysanthemum; December, holly or poinsettia.

Soft Soap

Don't soften and waste your bar soap by letting it stay in water. The soap guard on a washboard can be made more effective by screwing another piece of wood to the ledge to prevent soap from slipping.

Corn Storage

Cleanness of husking is of the utmost importance in storing corn of high moisture content, because the husks and silks seriously reduce air movement through the crib.

Golfers at Finals in City Title Match

Former champion Vic Jung has reached the finals in the city golf tournament will meet Keith Jorde, the winner of the semi-finals match with Paul Gray for the title. Jung, who played in the championship flight in the recent Western Amateur tournament, and lost an extra-hole match to Jimmy Nordine in the finals of the shortstop tourney, has been playing fine golf and is favored to regain the championship.

Jorde Tuesday evening defeated Gray 2 and 1 in the semi-finals. The championship match is tentatively set for Saturday afternoon.

In his first round match, Jung defeated Lloyd Bennes, 7 and 6, and in the semi-finals, against many-times champion Hans Chommie, Vic scored a 1-up win. At one point in his match with Chommie, Jung was four down, losing four holes of the first eight holes played, but Vic won the 9th, 10th, 11th, and 12th, to even the match.

In the other bracket, a pair of new-comers, Keith Jorde and Paul Gray were in the semi-finals after engineering a pair of upsets. Gray eliminated Stan Larson in a first round match and young Jorde, a high school sophomore, upset the Hedemark, 3 and 1.

The championship flight consolation matches played to date have resulted in win for Dr. Hedemark, over Stan Larson; and Kern Olson's 1-up win in 19 holes over Lloyd Bennes.

The first flight contenders have reached the semi-finals round with Walt Ekeren slated to meet Rev. A. I. Merth; and Ed Carlson to play Jim Jorde. Ekeren defeated Dr. R. Robertson, and Father Merth eliminated Dr. Ed Bratrud in first round matches, while Ed Carlson beated Bill Dahlquist, and Jim Jorde scored a 2-up win over Blackie Stephens.

The second flight has also reached the semi-finals with Archie Henarud vs. Len Hurst, and Phil Fjelsted playing Dr. M. G. Johnson for the right to enter the flight finals.

Only one match has been played in the third flight competition, and in that encounter Haakon Olson defeated Rudy Sagmoen. Other first round matches scheduled are Fred Lorentson vs. George Mostue, Elmer Benson vs. Ole Ekeren, and Frank Kobliska vs. Bart Wangenstein.

The fourth flight championship will be decided by the match between Wally Carlson and Les Skattum, the two finalists. Carlson scored wins over Al Purdy and Elwood Karwand and Skattum defeated Hank Storhaug and C. W. Mattson.

The fifth flight has progressed to the semi-finals, with Ed Stonich and Orvis Olen paired in the upper bracket and Wally Olson meeting Chris Rinkel in the other bracket.

In the sixth flight, Wally DuChamp, a month-old golfer, won the championship, defeating Tony Dorn in the finals. In a semi-finals match, DuChamp edged out Don Olson, while Dorn scored a win over Dick Mabey.

CAN HE SWIM . . . Can a pig swim? Some authorities say they are excellent swimmers, some say no. It is maintained by some that the natural fat keeps them afloat, others insist they would sink from their own weight. BLAIR ANNOUNCES '46 OPEN SEASONS ON UPLAND GAME

Pheasant Hunting to be Permitted This Year in Limited Area

Regulations for 1946 upland game hunting, announced today by Frank Blair, recently appointed director of the division of game and fish, call for a shorter season on pheasants; quail and Hungarian partridge seasons the same as last year, and maintains the closed season on ruffed grouse, sharp-tailed grouse, and pinnated grouse.

"The pheasant season has been cut to one week shorter than in 1945," Blair said, "with the southwest part of the state having 17 one-half days, October 26 to November 11, while the southeast annd border area will have 9 one-half days from October 26 to November 3. The bag limit, three cock birds (six in possession) remains the same.

Although sportsmen's groups, game wardens, game refuge patrolmen and other conservation department field personnel with game biologists report a slight increase in pheasants over 1945, it was deemed necessary to shorten the season slightly, Blair said.

"We expect a large increase in hunting pressure this year and we cannot afford to take any chances by placing our pheasant population in jeopardy."

For the same reason, although the quail population is larger than for the past several years, the open season will only cover a small portion in southeastern Minnesota for 17 one-half days, from October 26 to November 11. Shooting of quail was permitted from sunrise to sunset last year. This year it has been changed to from 12 noon to sunset to coincide with the pheasant season.

The Hungarian partridge has been changed to from 12 noon to sunset to coincide with the pheasant season.

The Hungarian partridge has shown a slight increase in the western one-third of the state, and is gradually working eastward. The season will be open for 9 one-half days from October 26 to November 3.

Keeping Score with Buck Olson

Golf Finals: Jung vs. Jorde.

Accoording to present plans, the finals of the city golf championship will be played over the local course Saturday afternoon, and it will find former champion Vic Jung meeting young Keith Jorde in an 18-hole match. Keith earned a place in the finals by eliminating Paul Gray, 2 and 1, Tuesday evening; and Vic entered the finals by edging out Hans Chommie, 1 up.

That Jung vs. Jorde match should be an interesting affair and while Vic has been established as the odds-on favorite, he isn't taking young Keith too easily. Keith, who's only a sophomore in high school, and perhaps is the youngest finalist in local club history, is a splendid competitor and hasn't any tendency to "blow up" under pressure. Vic, though, has had too much tournament experience and has too much power with his long game for Keith, that is, of course if Vic can keep his game on the course. If Vic strays too often into the rough and is off the line with his second shots, Keith will make a match of it.

Softball Play-offs.

A month ago it appeared that the city softball championship play-offs would be a two-team affair, with the Vets meeting the Oen's. It's still probable that the finals will find the Vets tangling with Oen's, but it's not such a cinch as it was a month ago. Heinie Wang's Vets have lost Johnny Jaranson, their second baseman, and pitcher Bill Gray, who has left for Denver. And Louie Benson, their all-round performer, will leave for his teaching duties next week. It will take some replacing to fill those spots.

And Gordy Reirson of the Oen's has his troubles, too, especially since his brother Milt, the league's best pitcher, left on that west coast trip. In the two games played since Milt departed, the Oen's have taken a pair of losses, losing to Hartz Stores and Poppler's.

And feeling happy over the troubles of the Vets and Oen's are the Hartz Stores and Poppler's teams, for they play the favorites in first round games on Monday and Tuesday. And if the Hartz team gives their husky right-hander, Gordy Kaushagen, some support, and if they can "tag" some of Jesse DuChamp's homerun pitches, they may upset the Vets. Poppler's, who right now appear to be the best-looking team in the league, romped over the Oen's on Tuesday night, and if Gordy Reierson isn't able to secure some pitching for the semi-finals (it is rumored that Taus, a former player on the team, will be on hand for a game or two,) the Poppler's with their four Carlson's, will enter the finals.

Jones at Vandalia

A. F. Jones, Minnesota state champion, and who's know in trapshooting circles as "Thief River Jones", is participating in the Grand American trapshoot at Vandalia, Ohio, this week. Last year, shooting from the 21-yard line, Jack won "riches and renown" by winning the Grand American Preliminary; but he doesn't expect to fare as well this year, for he will be shooting from the 23 or 24-yard line, and the Preliminary or Grand American has seldom been won by a shooter posted at that yardage.

Claffy and Furuseth to N. D.

Herb Claffy and Norm Furuseth, both former Prowler football captains, will leave this week for Grand Forks. Herb and Norm will attend the University of North Dakota this year, and they are being called in now for football practice.

Well, the Nodaks will get a couple of top-flight competitors in Herb and Norm, and if they can be free of injuries, they'll play a lot of football for Glenn Jarrett before they graduate, with Herb running with the ball from a backfield spot, and Norm pulling out of the line to form interference.

"U" AND TEACHERS COLLEGES IN NEW ENROLLMENT PLAN

Provides for Taking First Part of 'U' Work in Teachers Colleges

The University of Minnesota and the state teachers college have entered into an agreement for joint registration of freshmen entering college this fall and sophomores who were not in college last year.

This plan will make it possible for students desiring to enter the University to take one, two, or possible three years work at the teachers colleges with full assurance that work so taken will be accepted by the University under the same conditions as if the work were done on the University campus.

It is hoped by the University and college authorities that this plan will serve to keep many of the prospective students in the Twin Cities. It will be of particular advantag to those who can continue to live at home.

Dr. A. C. Clark vice-president of the Bemidji state teachers college, who has been appointed by President Sattast as coordinator for the program, pointed out today that the program involves the following regulations:

1. It is limitd to entering freshmen and sophomores not in college last year, veterans and non-veterans alike.

2. Prospective students must meet all admission requirements of the particular college of the university in which enrollment is desired.

3. The student must be a bona fide resident of Minnesota for one year prior to registration.

4. Aside from a matriculationn fee of $5.00, regular Teachers College fees will apply.

DISPOSSESS PIGS FOR HOME . . . George A. Holman, Davison, Mich., with two of his three children, Evelyn, 11, and Edith, 14, feeding the pigs they had to dispossess in order to have a home. The mother left them several months ago. The father, being out of work, had no place to go, so he moved the two girls into the hen house and he and his son, Kenneth, 12, live in the pig pen. GROCERS BEING SURVEYED BY OPA

A survey of the more than 2,000 food stores in the Fargo-Moorhead district OPA, now underway, is being conducted soley for the information and assistance of local officials.

"Before boards again take up the processing of violations, after the period when controls were off, we felt it only fair that grocers be given every aid possible to get into line," said M. M. Campbell, district price board executive directing the survey.

"As we see it, our job is to obtain full compliance and to prevent violations, rather than to apprehend violators," Campbell said. "Besides a duty to the consumer, OPA also has an obligation to the merchant, both in protecting the individual in compliance from unfair competition and informing each merchant on all phases of the price control act affecting his operation."

The check, to be completed before August 27, by both paid board personnel and by volunteer workers, is to include all retail food outlets. Besides individual prices and price tags, the display of community food posters and fresh fruit and vegetable price charts will be covered in the survey.

4 COUNTY DRIVERS FORFEIT LICENSES IN JULY THIS YEAR

1,364 Minnesota Drivers Penalized During Month, Highway Dept. Reports

The privilege of operating motor vehicles on the streets and highways of Minnesota was forfeited by 1,364 drivers in July, according to figures released by the state highway department. Pennington county contributed four revocations and two suspensions to the state's total.

"The large number of revocations and suspensions, close to the all-time high record of 1,422 in May, indicates that traffic law enforcement agencies, backed by an aroused public sentiment, are determined to do something about the causes of accidents," said E. P. Lee, supervisor of drivers license. Only three counties had neither revocations nor suspensions. A relatively high rate of revocations or suspensions is not necessarily an indication that the county has a large proportion of unsafe drivers. More likely it is evidence that local authorities are in earnest in their efforts to keep unsafe drivers off public streets and highways."

July revocations included 394 for driving while under influence of intoxicants, 27 committed as inebriates, 16 hit-run drivers and 9 for repeated speeding. Conviction for these and certain other stated offenses makes revocation mandatory.

There were 357 suspensions for failure to furnish proof of ability to pay claims resulting from accidents, as required by the 1945 safety responsibility act, and 564 suspensions for other causes based upon recommendations of traffic courts or other evidence of inability or unwillingness to operate motor vehicles safely. Among causes of suspensions were 207 for speeding and 107 careless driving.

Numerous Automobile Operators Are Careless About Drivers Licenses

Although the law requiring every motor operator to carry a valid drivers license is well known, one out of every 50 drivers fails to meet this requirement, it is indicated by the July report of the state highway patrol.

Licenses of 17,026 drivers were checked by the patrol in July. Of this number 70 were arrested because they had no license, 52 were given warning tickets because their licenses had expired and 263 got warning tickets because they failed to carry their licenses when driving. Warning tickets are entered on drivers license records and repeated violations may bring arrest or license suspension.

Arrests for all causes totaled 1,509. Included were 127 for driving while under influence of intoxicants, 191 careless driving, 170 going through stop sign, 128 excess speed, 282 illegal and unsafe equipment and 97 overweight loads.

"Must repair" tags were issued to 2,166 drivers, covering 3,183 violations of the safe equipment requirements of the traffic law. Included were 231 tags for illegal brakes. Majority of other tags were for missing headlights and tail lights and other faulty lamps.

The patrol issued 881 warning tickets, gave oral warnings to 3,340 drivers, tested 719 brakes, attended 213 accidents and gave aid of various kinds to 3,400 motorists.

Some Cafes Fail to File Revised Prices with OPA

It was announced at the local OPA office this week that some restaurants have failed to file their recalculated price lists as required by regulations of the agency. Officials stated that these lists must be filed without delay, giving data on current raw food costs, percentage of markup and new ceiling prices.

Christmas Rose

Legend says that a young shepherd girl was weeping bitterly as she watched the wise men on their way to take gifts to the Christ child. An angel appeared, and after ascertaining why the young girl was crying, she waved her wand, and instantly the ground was carpeted with glistening white Christmas roses. The young girl quickly gathered some blooms. When she presented her gift, the Christ child smiled, and as his fingers touched the white flowers the petals became tinged with pink.

TECHNOCRACY

Real Freedom for All Citizens

This abundance of goods and leisure can be had, as we said before, by every one for their lifetime with a minimum of work and a maximum of leisure, with complete leisure time after the age of 16. The working hours would be further reduced as time went on as new labor-saving machinery was devised, or as the demands and desires of the people became less. The cost of keeping it after we had it would be very little in terms of human energy. There would be a large positive gain in the net comfort and well-being of everyone, and there would be another large gain in the independence and sovereignty of each individual. We would gain a new right to vote every day, and as many times a day as we chose.

A political vote amounts to the expression of a choice between two or more unsurely dubious political parties, once, say, every 4 years. Either way, our vote has no effect on the actual operation of the country, for the country is not run by politicians anyway.

The only real vote is purchasing power. What you buy you vote for. The people who attend wrestling matches in their thousands each week are voting for them each time they go. Every time you buy anything or use any service, you vote for a continuation of that thing, or service, and in this manner help to weave the texture of your life and the collective life of the country. Unfortunately the purchasing power of everyone today is unequal, which invalidates the real power of this consuming-power ballot. Under a Technate, however, every one's consuming rights are equal (because by far the simplest way to distribute the right to use goods and services is equally) and therefore everyone has an equal voice in what he or she shall have. There are no elected politicians to spend your money for you, so you spend it yourself and directly represent yourself; nor do you need anyone else to help you. Each individual tells the Technate what shall be made, and the Functional Control says how it shall be made. The only dictatorship in Technocracy is in the plant, where it is even now. Just try and be an individualist—working in a factory!

Technocracy has many other far-reaching social implications, benefits, and advantages which there is no room even to mention here.

Any statement made by Technocracy Inc. is a statement of fact, not theory. Technocracy's predictions are made with almost the same mathematical and scientific exactitude as astronomers' predictions of the next solar eclipse. We use the word 'almost' because Technocracy, unlike astronomy, has to take into account the human equation in its calculations which might possibly cause a short-term variation. The predictions would ultimately come true, however, in spite of the human variation factor.

Technocracy does not concern itself with human emotions or antagonisms, or political dogmas or beliefs, or with European philosophic importations. Technocracy does not talk in terms of what is known as 'economics'. Technocracy is not to be confused with any recovery or reform movement or organization either monetary, political, or otherwise. It bears no allegiance to and makes no compromise with the Price System.

Technocracy stands for reconstruction and a new form of control operated and directed by a Continental Control, acting through and with each one of the Functional Sequences in our productive system. Each Sequence or industry will control itself from within on the basis of the requirements of the job and abilities of the men who are in the plant and naturally control it anyway. Under this form of control the resources of the country would be converted into goods and services for use only. Only that which was demanded by the people as individuals exerting their right to consume would be produced.

SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS CITED

Many in This Area Now Get Monthly Payments

The eleventh anniversary of the signing of the social security act finds 861 residents of the 17 counties served by the Grand Forks office of the social security administration receiving monthly checks totaling $14,039.50.

In addition, approximately $1,500.00 in lump-sum payments is paid out monthly to survivors of deceased workers, stated W. D. Kistler, manager. He emphasized the fact that these are federal insurance payments made possible by pay roll deductions from the workers' checks and by similar payments made by employers.

"The monthly payments go to retired workers who have attained age 65 or over and are insured under the act, to their wives if 65 years of age, and to widows and orphans of insured workers who were employed on jobs covered by the Social Security Act," said Mr. Kistler. "The fact that farmers, agricultural workers, the self-employed, domestic workers, and governmental employees are not covered by this federal law and cannot receive benefits thereunder makes the total amount paid out proportionately lower in this area than in highly industrialized centers.

"At the present time we are concerned about the failure of some retired workers and widows and orphans of workers to file their claims promptly. There is no automatic payments of claims —a person must file his claim promptly if he wants to receive all the benefits to which he may be entitled."

Over 12,000 Students Take Correspondence Courses at State 'U'

Correspondence course enrollment at the University of Minnesota reached an all-time high with 12,702 registrations in force during the fiscal year which ended July 1, F. Lloyd Hansen, assistant professor in charge of the correspondence study department, announced last week. The department is under the University's general extension division, headed by Dean Julius M. Nolte.

Students were registered during this period from 46 states, the District of Columbia and 11 foreign countries, Hansen said. A large percentage were servicemen and women studying under arrangement of the U. S. Armed Forces Institute with the University, but the civilian registration also increased 18 per cent in the last year. Approximately 230 ex-servicemen are now studying University correspondence courses under the G. I. bill.

Correspondence courses may be started at any time during the year. Lesson reports are submitted by the student to the instructor, who grades and criticizes the papers and mails them back to the student. During the past year 42,918 lesson reports were processed by the department, which has 113 instructors.

OFFERS ADVICE ON GI INSURANCE

Veterans Urged Not to Convert It Hastily

In response to hundreds of inquiries made by ex-servicemen the new national service life insurance act which became effective on August 1, E. R. Benke, deputy administrator in charge of Branch 8 of the Veterans Administration, today warned veterans against too hasty conversion of their term policies.

"The best advice VA can give the average veteran right now," Mr. Benke said, "is to continue paying, at least temporarily, the same low premiums he paid while in the service. By doing this he can be protected by insurance until such time as he is in a position to afford the kind of converted insurance that will fit his needs. By no means should the veteran convert until he has solicited advice from a VA representative."

The new enactment, Mr. Benke says, offers the standard provisions to be found in commercial insurance company policies; provides for endowment types of policies which were not included in the original law; removes restrictions on the choice of beneficiaries; offers lump sum payments and total disability benefits which were not previously included.

Mr. Benke pointed out that those veterans who are now holding term insurance policies have many years in which to convert. Term insurance policies have many years in which to convert. Term insurance issued before January 1, 1946, may be continued without change for eight years from the date they were issued and policies issued after December 31, 1945 may be kept in force five years without the necessity of converting to one of the permanent types of insurance.

Good Light

Good lighting in every room—meaning light adequate for the activity going on — cannot be too strongly recommended. To avoid shock and fire hazards, your electrical equipment must be kept in repair — no frayed cords, broken plugs, and faulty appliances.

PROPOSED PEACE TERMS . . . Area affected by the proposed treaties being considered at the Paris peace conference are shown on this map in black. Slices of territory on Italian-French border to France. Greece gets the Dodecanese islands from Italy, which also loses Libya. Pantelleria would be demilitarized. Albania would be recognized. Yugoslavia gets most of Venezia Giulia and Zara from Italy, and Trieste becomes a free territory. Romania gets Transylvania from Hungary, but it loses Bessarabia and N. Bukovina to Russia and S. Dobruja to Bulgaria. Finland loses Petsamo to Russia, but will get back Hangoe.

Stradivarius Violins

The earliest violins known to have been made by Antonio Stradivarius are inscribed Antonius Stradiuarius Cremonensis Alumnus Nicolai Amati, Faciebat Anno, (the date), followed by the Maltese cross and the initials A. S. enclosed within a double circle. On later instruments "Fecit" appears instead of "Faciebat" and his name is spelled "Stradivarius," the change from u to v having been made about 1725. There have been an enormous number of imitations of the genuine Stradivarius that the expert knowledge of a connoisseur is required to determine the authenticity of an instrument after careful examination.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

Constructive Guidance

Every parent and every teacher is faced with the problem of how to guide a child into acceptable ways of behavior. If the child is to prevent further wrong doing the parent may impose some kind of punishment which will be severe enough to deter the child in the future. The child must know why he is being punished that he will not repeat the act which the adult thinks is undesirable. This is negative guidance.

Another sort of guidance positive or constructive. Here the aim is to direct the child into desirable forms of behavior. A fundamental principle is the use of praise to encourage acceptable conduct. Many studies have shown that praise is more effective than blame. Praise produces a feeling of success and encourages the child to continue his good behavior in order to gain more of the pleasant feeling.

If the adult can gain the child's cooperation in carrying out requests, he will be more successful than if he has to resort to sheer strength of will to dominate the child. The parent or teacher must be reasonable in his requests and give the child freedom in accordance with his ability to use it wisely. Some explanation of why certain behavior is expected should be given. The child is more likely to cooperate if he knows why he is being asked to do a certain thing.

Parents must be consistent in what they expect of children. If father says one thing and mother says the opposite, the child soon learns to "play off" one against the other and do whatever he wishes. This inconsistency is fatal to constructive guidance.

Positive rather than negative measures are more conducive to the development of self-control in the child. If parents can maintain attitudes of firmness, consistency, and cooperation; if they are reasonable in their requests, and allow the child more independence as he is able to use it, and give praise rather than blame, there will be fewer occasions for punishment.

Compost Heap

Bonfires are a waste of valuable plant food. Instead of taking them into a pile and burning them, the leaves should go into a compost heap, be kept moist, and be turned occasionally until the material is well enough rotted for use. Almost any organic materials that will decay make fair substitutes for fertilizer.

Holly Sacred

The legends regarding the holly date back to the Druids, who believed its evergreen leaves of the holly were proof that the sun never deserted it and it was therefore sacred. Legend also says that the crown of thorns was composed of holly, and that before the crucifixion the berries were white, but turned crimson, like drops of blood, afterward.

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Thief River Falls, Minnesota

Pursuant to due call and notice therefor, the City Council of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, met in the Council Chambers in the Auditorium and Municipal Building on August 6, 1946. The meeting was called to order at eight o'clock P. M. with Aldermen Bredeson, Engelstad, Anderson, Herge present and Aldermen Berglund and Nelson absent.

Alderman Anderson introduced a resolution authorizing an expenditure for the carrying out of the improvement of the airport in the amount of $21,420.45, which would be paid on a matching basis by the State and the City, with the City receiving the Federal Grant for which formerly it had made application, and directing the Clerk to execute and forward to the Department of Aeronautics such Request for Authority for Expenditure of Funds, the amending credit application and Engineering Form 218, and moved the adoption of such resolution. Alderman Engelstad seconded the motion and the question was then put on adoption of the resolution. The following Aldermen voted Aye: Bredeson, Engelstad, Anderson, Herge. Ortonville—Carl Eastvold, local attorney, started early one morning to Luverne to consult a client. He stopped at Windom, the half-way point, for morning coffee. The face of another coffee drinker looked familiar that Mr. Eastvold turned back from the door and made inquiry. You guessed it: the client on her way to see her attorney. They conferred at Windom and each returned home with half the mileage they could have run up on the trip.

4-H Club Auction of Baby Beef Calves is Set for November 2

Saturday, November 2, was set as the date for the Pennington county 4-H club auction of baby beef calves and fat wether lambs. This date was set at a joint meeting of the members of the agricultural committee of the Thief River Falls Civic & Commerce association, a few representative farmers, and Ernest A. Palmer, county agent. Mr. McLeod presided at the meeting which was held on Tuesday afternoon at the Palm Garden Cafe.

Business men and farmers present at the meeting were in favor of having the judging of the livestock in the afternoon and the sale to be held in the evening after the stores were closed. All present were unanimous in favor of holding the show and auction uptown, preferably in the arena rather than at the fair grounds.

County Agent Ernest Palmer stated that he expected there would be approximately 50 baby beeves and 10 fat wether lambs at the sale. Mr. McLeod will appoint a committee to work out further details in connection with the auction sale.

Some of the main points decided on at the meeting were that a commission man be invited to the auction to grade the livestock and bid the prevailing market price; the calves be weighed in before the sale; and that the merchants of Thief River Falls put on a special market day for the auction.

Army Engineers Figure Red Lake River Project Will Cost $2,300,000

Plans for Big Project Have Been Completed by U. S. Army Engineers

Plans for the construction of the Red Lake River improvement project have now been completed, Col. Walter K. Wilson jr., chief of the St. Paul district army engineers office, stated to directors of the Red Lake River Drainage and Conservancy District and representative of the Red Lake River Development association at a meeting here Tuesday. These plans are being submitted to Washington for final approval of the War Department. Cost of the project as revised is estimated at $2,300,000.

According to Col. Wilson the improvement of the Clearwater River channel probably will be a dragline operation and the original estimates on necessary right-of-way will be sufficient for this type of construction.

On the Red Lake River, however, the construction may be either by dragline or by suction dredges and if this work is done by a pumping operation then a wider strip may be required than was recommended in the original estimate.

A set of the plans showing the exact location of the new channel of the Red Lake River has been left with Mr. Paul A. Lundgren who is proceeding with the acquisition of right-of-way in Pennington county. A similar chart of the new location of the Clearwater river will be available shortly.

The now estimate on cost is more than double the estimate submitted in the original report filed with the War Department in 1943 and the cash contribution expected from sponsoring communities in lieu of the replacement of bridges will be correspondingly higher. The estimate on this item in the original report was $32,200 which the four counties had agreed to contribute.

Carrying out the recommendation of the army engineers, the drainage and conservancy district board, meeting later Tuesday, directed President Ole Melby and Secretary I. W. Hulten to prepare resolutions to be presented to county boards of the affected counties, asking them to undertake the construction and maintenance of the necessary bridges in lieu of a cash contribution.

Accompanying Colonel Wilson to this city were George E. Lyon and R. M. Cowan, engineers from the office in St. Paul.

186 HERDS CATTLE BEING TESTED FOR BANGS DISEASE

Purpose of Test Is to Reaccredit Pennington as Disease-free Area

Testing of cattle in Pennington County for Bangs disease started this week, according to County Agent Ernest Palmer. The purpose of this test is to re-accredit Pennington county as a modified Bangs disease-free area.

In this test only 186 herds of cattle will be included. Some of these herds have had reactors and the test will determine whether or not the herds are now disease-free. A few herds in each township which have not had any reactors in the past three years will also be tested to see if any new cases of the disease are prevalent.

Farmers included in this test will be notified before the veterinarians come out and will have ample time to see that their cattle are in the barn. The test being made is the regular test authorized by law and is at state and federal expense as provided for by a co-operative agreement executed with the board of county commissioners.

The veterinarians in charge and the county agent ask that all farmers cooperate in providing that the cattle be kept in the barn when notice is given them that the test is to be made.

Pennington county has for many years been an accredited modified free area of Bangs disease and the test being made now is one of the regular check-ups to prevent an out-break.

ANOTHER STEP FORWARD

Completion of the plans for the Red Lake river channel improvement is another step forward in the program of protection that has been in the planning for many years. All of the field work has now been finished, as are the details of construction have been worked out.

Improvement of the Red Lake and Clearwater rivers channels received its first official approval by federal authorities on June 22, 1938, when Brigadier General E. Reybold, chief of army engineers, submitted a favorable report to the secretary of war in which he stated:

"After due consideration of these reports, I concur in the views of the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors. The proposed channel improvement would eliminate a large percentage of flood damages resulting from overflow from the streams and would incidentally provide channels in Red Lake and Clearwater rivers of sufficient capacity to carry the discharge from drainage ditches, thereby providing for rehabilitation, improvement and extension of the drainage systems, which would materially improve conditions as regards flooding by overflow from the ditches and by overland movement of surface water where no adequate channels exist. The proposed concrete works at the outlet of Lower Red Lake would insure the release of sufficient water from the lake to meet the needs at all times of municipalities along Red Lake River. I accordingly recommend adoption of a federal project for improvement of Red Lake River, Minnesota, including Clearwater River, Minnesota, and that outlet works for Lower Red Lake, Minnesota, be built by the United States substantially as proposed by the Chief of Engineers."

On October 25, 1933, the project was recommended to Congress by Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson as a part of a post war program and it became an authorized project by act of Congress when it was included in the omnibus flood control bill that was passed May 2, 1944. As an authorized project it has since been re-surveyed so that it is the final plans for construction that have now been completed.

The thing now needed to make this project a reality is the appropriation by Congress of the necessary funds to go forward with the construction. That is not likely to come without organized effort which work has been done in bringing the project to its present favorable position but now is not the time to rest on past laurels. There is a big job ahead that will require the co-operation of all of the communities up and down the river.

Appeals for Greater Interest in Co. Fair

Robert J. Lund, member of the county fair board, addressing the luncheon meeting of the Lions club Wednesday noon in the Palm Garden Cafe, appealed for a greater participation by local citizens in the fair here, and, as a move in that direction, suggested the advisability of electing a few younger residents of the community to the board.

Mr. Lund who was introduced by Rev. D. T. Beadle, program chairman, briefly discussed the financial outcome of the 1946 event, pointing out that in spite of the poor attendance, receipts were not far below those of the 1945 fair, with the exception of income of children's attractions on the midway.

Vic Jung Is Winner Of City Golf Title

Vic Jung, firing an eagle and four birdies at his youthful opponent, and shooting a three-under-par medal score, defeated fifteen-year old Keith Jorde, 5-up, in the finals of the city golf championship tournament, Saturday afternoon. In the finals of the championship flight consolation, Dr. Homer Hedemark marked up a 2-up win over Kern Olson.

Both golfers were under par scores on the first hole, with Jorde posting a birdie four only to lose the hole when Jung dropped a putt from the edge of the green for an eagle three. Keith evened the match on the 2nd hole when Vic drove his tee shot out of bounds, and was down in five, losing to Jorde's four.

Young Jorde, who was plagued by erratic work on and around the greens, lost the 3rd hole, scoring a six while Jung marked up a par five. Vic moved into a 2-up lead with a birdie on the long 5th hole, and added a hole to his margin by winning the 7th hole when Keith missed a short putt for a bogey five. Jung dropped another green-length putt for a birdie to win the 8th hole, gaining a 4-up lead: but Jorde, with a par three, won the 9th hole, to send the pair on the second round with Jung holding a 3-up advantage.

Jorde's approach putt on the 10th hole was short of the pin, by about four feet, and when dropped his putt onto the cup for a birdie four he won the hole as Keith was down in five. Keith picked up a win on the 11th hole, chipping up to within a foot of the cup and dropping the putt for a par, while Jung scored a bogey.

The 12th was halved with birdie four's, but Jung, on the short 13th with his tee shot, was down in two putts for a par and a win when Jorde missed a four-footed for a half. Jung closed out the match on the 14th hole, scoring a birdie four.

The Dr. Hedemark vs. Kern Olson championship flight consolation match was nip-and-tuck until the 16th and 17th holes. Olson after winning the 15th hole to even the match, skied his tee shot on the 16th, dubbed the second shot out of the rough, hit the wrong green with his third shot, made a sand trap with his fourth shot, barely reached the green with his fifth shot, and then conceded the hole to Dr. Hedemark. On the 17th, Dr. Hedemark, last year's champion, tallied a birdie three to win the match, 2-up.

The cards:

SOFTBALL FINALS TO START SOON

Vets Defeat Hartz Team 14 to 11 to Enter Finals

The Vets, defeating the Hartz nine, 14 to 11, Wednesday evening, moved into the finals of the city softball tournament and will play the winner of the Oen's vs. Poppler's game, which will be played Friday night in a best-of-three series for the city title.

The Hartz nine, with Gordy Kaushagen pitching strong ball, held a 6 to 4 lead going into the 5th inning of last night's play-off game, but in the last half of the frame the vets, on four hits, four errors, five bases on balls, and several wild pitches, tallied ten runs to clinch the verdict. Hartz came back with a trio of runs in the 6th inning, but Bill Gray retired the side in the 7th inning to end the fracas. Big "Abner" Stromberg and Bircleen Nornes, each with a pair of hits in four trips to the plate, led the Vets' attack.

JUNG TAKES FIRST AT GRAND FORKS IN SHORTSTOP EVENT

Jim Nordine Wins Top Honors in Similar Event Held at Grafton, N. D.

Local golfers were in attendance at a pair of out-of-town shortstop tournaments on Sunday. Vic Jung won the sixth annual Lincoln Park shortstop tournament played at Grand Forks on Sunday, defeating A. C. Nelson, 2-up in the finals. In a first round match, Jung defeated Al Cooking, and in the quarter-finals he bested Herman Allen, and in the semi-finals he defeated Eldon Proof. Cooking, Allen, and Ploof are Grand Forks golfers.

Keith Jorde, beaten in his first match in the championship flight, moved into the consolation and earned the runner-up honors, losing to John Headly in the finals.

In the Grafton shortstop tournament, Jim Nordine, with a 5 and 4 margin, won the championship, easily disposing of Dick Schaeffer of Stephen in the finals. Nordine, after winning over Dr. John Robinson in a first round match, had a tussle in his second round before eliminating Tom Maxwell, of Grafton, 1-up.

Don Olson won the 11th flight round match by default, then scoring a win on actual play, and winning the flight honors on a flip of a coin.

Prowlers Need the Practice.

With the Prowlers beginning active participation in the newly-formed North Valley Conference this year, and with a squad that was completely riddled by graduation, Coach John Lindenmeyer is anxious to get the boys into heavy practice. Suits were issued on Monday to a couple of dozen candidates, and these boys have been running through drills; but the make-up of the squad will not be determined until school officially opens, and that's two week's off.

With such boys as Cliff Asa, Ralph Foster, Al Thompson, Brad Hanna, Rog Tunberg, Bob Melby, Thor Anderson, Bud Brozsolt, Ken Borsheim, Jim Kleinvachter, Jim Kiland, Dick O'Hara, all linemen, and Wes Hovie, Phil Beadle, Ninak Carlson, and Johnny Powell, from the backfield, missing from this year's team, you can understand that Coach Lindenmeyer has a major rebuilding problem.

Few Experienced Men

The boys with varsity experience who will return this year are Captain Les Vigness, Swede Lund and Marlow Davidson, backs, and linemen Dick Davidson, Don Engelstad, Larry Hylden, and Glen Magnuson. Bob Larson, a husky backfield reserve last year, may be shifted into the line. The balance of the squad will be made up of "grads" from Don Nelson's B squad, and there are some promising candidates in that group.

The schedule as announced by Principal Bill Claffy, will have the Prowlers opening their conference on Sept. 27th, meeting the Grand Forks Maroons here; on Oct. 4th, the Devil's Lake Satans will play here; on the 11th the Prowlers will travel to Grafton for a game; while on Oct. 18th, the Prowlers, playing at Bemidji, will meet the Lumberjacks. The Crookston Pirates, who should have a strong club this year, will be played at Crookston on Oct. 25th; and on Nov. 1st, in a game on the local field, East Grand Forks will provide the opposition Sept. 20th, is an open date and it's probable that Coach Lindenmeyer will utilize that date for an inter-squad game.

Red River Valley Golf Tourney

Club house conversation indicates that there will be quite an exodus of local golfers during the Labor Day week-end, with the bulk of the golfers going to Crookston for the Red River Valley tourney. But there will be several golfers attending the Northwest Amateur tournament being played over the Country Club course in Grand Forks, too.

Jimy Nordine, recent winner of the Detroit Lakes Pine-to-Palm meet, and winner of the Grafton shortstop tournament last Sunday, will defend his Red River Valley crown at Crookston, but with Ernotte Hiller and Vic Jung also entering the Valley meet, Jim will have some competition. Vic, the city champion, won the Lincoln Park shortstop at Grand Forks on Sunday without much trouble and has been playing fine golf. The fact is, Vic is more apt to defeat Nordine than any golfer in these parts, for in the competition between the two Vic is proud of having scored a pair of wins over Jimmy. Crookston's Hiller, who has played Jim about a dozen times, has yet to mark up victory over the blond sharpshooter. So if the finals should find Jim playing either Vic or Ernotte, the match would be worth watching.

Softball Playoffs to Try Again

The rain on Monday and Tuesday put a dampener of the city softball playoffs, with the four teams—Vets, Oen's, Hartz and Poppler's—marking time until favorable weather permits play. If managers Al Johnson of the Hartz and Heinie Waag of the Vets can get together on the arrangements, the Vets vs. Hartz game will be played Friday night, with the Oen's meeting the Poppler's on Monday night.

At a director's meeting on Monday night, the league authorized the Oen's team to use lefty Johnny Lang as a pitcher in the playoffs, and permitted the Vets to use Ernie Hellquist in their lineup. Lang, who pitched for the Bjorkman's during the league schedule, was allowed to pitch for Oen's in the playoffs because the Oen's regular hurler, Milt Reierson, is out of town; and the Vets, losing Louie Benson, were given Ernie Hellquist, the Bridgeman's manager and second baseman.

He Got the Wheaties.

Andy Williamson is in receipt of a case of Wheaties, and a large poster, as a result of the hole-in-one that he scored on number four the other week. The poster, on display at the club house, depicts how Andy racked up his ace.

POLIO FOUNDATION AIDS STATE FIGHT

Has Sent $281,855 to Minnesota This Year

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis sent another $60,000 of March of Dimes funds to Minnesota this week to aid in combating the state's worst polio-myelitis epidemic in history. The latest check brought to $281,855 the total amount sent to Minnesota by the national foundation since the first of the year.

The $60,000 went to the Minneapolis Polio Emergency Committee, sent by the foundation. Another $25,000 has been given to the state polio emergency committee to use the funds for emergency personnel and hospital equipment.

With the Minneapolis and state emergency committees handling over-all problems growing out of the epidemic, county chapters of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis made their resources available for the actual care and treatment of individual patients.

Of all March of Dimes funds sent to Minnesota this year, a total of $166,855 went to 12 of the National Foundation's 90 state chapters, Hennepin County, where the epidemic was centered, received the largest amount, $120,000. Other checks have been distributed as follows:

Anoka, $3,000; Benton, $2,000; Carver, $1,500; Faribault, $4,670; Eyesborn $8,000; Kanabec, $1,500; North St. Louis, $5,000; Pennington, $2,000; Scott, $4,385; Sherburne, $10,000; Wasaca, $2,000; and Wright, $7,500.

The other chapters have not yet exhausted their March of Dimes funds, Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile paralysis, has assured the people of Minnesota that funds will be rushed from the national office wherever needed.

John Quincy Adams served as a member of the lower house of congress after he retired from the office of president.

DRIVER TRAINING NEED EMPHASIZED

Road Problems Topics at Safety Conference

Driver training and safety education in the schools was given preeminent emphasis as a means of promoting safety on the streets and highways of Minnesota, at the annual traffic safety conference in Duluth last Friday.

Among the recomendations of the conference were the following pertaining to safety education:

1. Encourage local schools to expand present courses in health and safety education, to establish these courses on a required basis, and to extend courses in health and safety education for all pupils in grades 7 through 12.

2. Encourage local schools to pay particular attention to those sections of the health and safety education course which deal with driver training ordinarily scheduled for the 9th grade and 12th grade levels.

3. Encourage local safety councils, police departments or civic organizations to conduct driver training courses for adults.

4. Encourage commercial concerns to require all drivers to obtain certificates indicating completion in a driver training course.

5. Encourage "behind the wheel" instruction of a practical nature for all pupils and persons enrolled in school courses of driver education.

6. Encourage state-wide acceptance of the plan advocated by state department of education to develop as a complete unit of work adequate health and safety education so that it will eventually become a constant and integral course of study for all pupils in public schools.

HIGHWAYS HIT BY BOX CAR SHORTAGE

Trucks Are Overloaded on Long Distance Hauls

The box-car shortage in the Northwest is worrying other people besides farmers. The increase in the number of heavy loads being carried by trucks over the highways has become a matter of serious concern to highway administrators, according to M. J. Hoffmann, commissioner of highways. With trucks being pressed into service for long distance hauling of grain and other products ordinarily carried by rail, there is a temptation to put on loads exceeding weight limits, thereby threatening serious damage to highway surfaces and particularly to bridges.

A recent instance of such damage occurred on Highway 41 near Chaska, when a bridge over the railroad tracks collapsed after a heavy truck and semi-trailer had gone over it. Prompt warning averted possible tragedy to rail and highway traffic but collapse of the bridge resulted in blocking the railway several hours and closing the highway for many weeks.

The threat, however, may be short-lived, Mr. Hoffman said, because many trucks are breaking down under the overloads. Most of the trucks temporarily used for long distance hauling during the box-car shortage were not designed for loads as heavy as are now imposed on them, while nearly all trucks will carry considerably heavier loads than the so-called "manufacturer's" rated capacity there is a limit.

Long hauls with overweight loads often result in failure of engines, tires, transmissions, differentials and other vital parts. With the present shortage of repair parts, a breakdown often takes a truck out of circulation for many weeks. Instead of helping to relieve the shipping shortage, the overloading and consequent breakdown of trucks may make the problem more acute.

Clearwater County to Vote September 30 on Liquor Sale Question

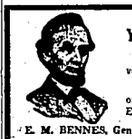
Following the filing of petitions bearing approximately 1240 signatures, a special election has been set for Monday, September 30 to determine the establishment of legal liquor sales in Clearwater county.

Circulation of the petitions began a few weeks ago with volunteer workers participating. Treat all the villages and a number of townships in the county.

This will be the third time in the past 12 years that the liquor sales question has come up for a vote in special elections in Clearwater county. In the previous elections, the establishment of legalized liquor sales in the county was voted down.

The first election was held on November 4, 1935, when the proposal was defeated, 1,142 to 858 votes. The second election was held on January 6, 1940. This time the liquor proposition lost out by the margin of 109 votes, with 1,429 dry votes being cast as against 1,321 wet votes.

Loan Funds Available for Student Nurses



The Minnesot Nurses' association announced today that the Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs is making funds available to Minnesota girls who desire to study nursing, but who lack the private funds to pay the cost of training.

There are more than a score of other organizations, both statewide and national, that provide scholarships and loan funds to girls desiring to learn the nursing profession. The nurses' association has complete information on such educational funds, and will send such information to anyone requesting it. However, the MNA advised that girls qualified for nurse training make application immediately if they desire to enroll for the September class. Five of the nursing schools have already filled their quotas and the remaining 20 report an increased amount of applications.

The address of the Minnesota Nurses' association is 2642 University Avenue, St. Paul 4, Minnesota. All information and literature is sent free of charge.

Frank Carter of Hutchinson arrived early at the Arlington horse show, with one middle in his truck. He had left the horse in the barn at home. At last trip, a last minute entry, and Mr. Carter's horse took top honors in the western stock class. At Northfield a fearless horse kicked a taillight off the police car. And up at Virginia a restaurant employee yelled for help and danced a wild hornpipe while strangling a rat that had got onto his back under his shirt.

TECHNOCRACY

The Big Job Today

Technocracy has shown that the North American continent is an organic unit capable of abundance and Continental security from aggression. To achieve this security America must make the maximum use of its technology.

On December 8, 1941, the United States entered a state of war to preserve its national security through the defeat of world fascism. Unless this war could be won America would cease forever its great destiny. Technocracy therefore began to urge its Victory Program—a program which had been published a year and a half before—the Total Conscription by the Government of the United States of Men, Machines, Material, and Money—With National Service from All and Profits to None.

Until the security of America is achieved through the defeat of fascism both at home and abroad this is the big job of every Technocrat and every American.

HOTEL NICOLLET MINNEAPOLIS

Great Northern has waited several months to begin construction of 500 plywood and steel boxcars—duplicates of the car in the picture above—but necessary materials have not been obtainable. The railway built 1,500 of these high grade boxcars in the past three years.

BOXCAR FACTS --NOT FICTION

The inability of Great Northern to provide enough boxcars to handle quickly this year's grain crop, in addition to supplying sufficient equipment for transport of lumber and many other Northwest products, indeed is not a pleasant situation for the railway.

For years Great Northern maintained, by intelligent planning and operating know-how, a reputation for on-the-spot service to grain growers when they wanted it most—at harvest time. Reservoirs of serviceable cars were established at strategic points in advance of harvest. A plentiful supply of boxcars assured swift, efficient movement of grain to markets.

That service, not possible during the war, could have been resumed this year—and to a high degree of success—if:

1. A large percentage of the railway's boxcar ownership had been on its own line ahead of the Northwest harvest.

2. Sufficient materials had been obtained by Great Northern to build several hundred new boxcars, and to repair a large amount of war-worn equipment.

Great Northern owns 24,632 boxcars. Yet, where all our boxcars are not is the pertinent though disturbing point.

When this was written on August 21, Great Northern had on the railway slightly more than 60 per cent of its total boxcar ownership, or less than 15,000 cars. Of this number, only 5,640 cars were Great Northern-owned; the remaining 9,216 belonged to other lines. This means that while the railway is so urgently needing at least 100 per cent of its boxcars in daily, home-line service, it actually has on its line 10,000 fewer boxcars than it owns. These are bizarre facts—not fiction!

Why doesn't Great Northern have a higher percentage of its boxcar ownership on its own line? One reason, of course, is that the boxcar shortage is universal. No railway has escaped it entirely.

The fact that Great Northern primarily is an originating line intensifies the shortage on the system. The source of empty boxcars for use by shippers along Great Northern is relatively small because more loaded cars move from this railway than move to it.

The necessity for repairing a large percentage of the empty boxcars allocated to the railway also contributed to the shortage. Equipment which is unfit for grain or merchandise transport is an economic liability. Regardless of what lines own bad order boxcars delivered to Great Northern, this railway must recondition them before releasing for further service. The owner railways pay the repair bills—but Great Northern patrons are deprived of use of the cars while they are in shops.

According to the Association of American Railroads, other major factors contributing to the shortage are: an increase in less than carload movements of lighter loads, thus requiring more cars; shorter average hauls of other types of freight, creating a longer average turn-around time; the 5-day week, which stops unloading of cars from Friday night to Monday, although railway operations are on a 7-day basis.

Toward increasing the utilization of available boxcars the Office of Defense Transportation has revised and tightened loading and unloading requirements, and has established heavy demurrage penalties. In addition, Shippers Advisory Boards continue to give the railways effective assistance in obtaining the fullest possible use of equipment.

When the urgently-needed improvement in Great Northern's boxcar supply will begin cannot be predicted at this time.

However, the railway's management believes that a real, lasting improvement will begin only when individual roads and car-building concerns are able to obtain adequate materials to build the thousands of new boxcars now on order.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

The First Word

"Da-da" or "Da-da" are the most common first words in the English-speaking child's vocabulary. When the adult hears these syllables, he exclaims delightedly. "He's trying to say 'mama' or 'daddy' and repeats the word. This continues whenever the mother or father appears, and in a little while the child makes the sounds spontaneously on seeing his mother or father. How do these first words develop?

During the second half-year of life, friends make many sounds and combinations of sounds. This "jargon" sounds like a foreign language: its inflection rises and falls, it pauses momentarily and then rushes on. During this "babbling stage" experts believe that the speech elements which include consonants, vowels, and syllables develop naturally.

By chance the child happens to utter "da" on an occasion when he sees his father. The adult says "He's trying to say daddy" and in animated and pleased fashion repeats "daddy". Through the adult's selection of this particular sound, the infant becomes the center of attention; becomes to associate this pleasant experience with the sight of his father and reports it upon the correct occasions.

This is the beginning of true speech. The child acquires other words in the same way. Soon he learns that he can gain and hold the attention of others through the use of certain sounds.

The realization that everything has a name leads to rapid seeking for more words. The child uses them whenever he has a chance. Parents may be almost overwhelmed. One mother said, "I could hardly wait until Mary began to talk; now she talks all the time and I long for those former days of relative silence!"

The adult who encourages the child to use words is helping him develop one of the most important human abilities; language is the greatest factor in the growth of social intercourse. Truly the first word is a time for rejoicing, because it opens the way for communication which makes life interesting.

Submarine Mining
Operations for the recovery of minerals beneath the sea have been carried on for many years, but distances from the shore have been within or have not greatly exceeded the three-mile limit. One California oil company has tapped ocean wells which, at low tide, are about a third of a mile from the shore. The workings of a Nova Scotia coal mine reach more than three miles under the sea. Newfoundland's Bell island "submarine" iron mine has been pushed out three miles beneath the sea floor.

Conserves Soap
If you use the right amount of soap and measure, don't dump, it saves soap and makes rinsing easier for you. Experience will help you to determine the amount that maintains good suds. And remember that if you wash least soiled things first, you can use the suds for really dirty things like work clothes and save soap as well as energy.

Ancient Alliance
Portugal has a mutual-aid agreement with Great Britain dating from 1373. By it, Britain has stood as a barrier to attacks on both homeland and colonial empire of Portugal. By it, Portugal followed Britain into World War I. In World War II Portugal maintained a neutrality which was justified as helping Britain by forestalling German seizure and use of Portuguese wolfram and other war resources.

Rat Population
The rat population in most cities outnumbers the civilian population. Continuous campaigns to keep rats from multiplying too rapidly are necessary in the majority of cities. More than 20,000 rats were killed in the city dumps of a large western city during the first month of a campaign inaugurated recently by the United States Bureau of Biological Survey. Rats are natural enemies of man. They do $200,000,000 damage in the United States annually through their consumption of foodstuffs alone, and it has been estimated that it costs 22 a year to maintain each rat.

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor the Times:

In the "Times" issue of Aug. 15th I notice the following lines:

"Now congress has increased the limits of federal participation in old age pensions, and this will result in savings here at home. This county will save 5,200 annually. The more liberal federal grants will make these increases (in present higher costs of living) less painful to local taxpayer."

As a comparison I remember that a state supreme court Judge Hilton was allowed by our legislature (about two years ago) some $8,000.00 annual pension when he retired. Has anyone in our county ever got as big a pension as that? I do not know which members of that legislature voted for that big pension to one man only. I only wonder if it was "painful" to the taxpayers of our county to think about it. Perhaps Mr. Hilton needed that much in order to live?

As to our last congress: It certainly must have been "painful" for them to allow an increase of 5 dollars a month to oldsters, cripples and orphan children when they, the same day had to increase their own salary nearly $6,000 per year besides voting themselves an excellent annual pension after 6 years of service in congress. They increased their own salaries 60 per cent, but (no doubt painfully) increased the allowance to oldsters, blind and cripples about 12 per cent, besides the excellent pension program for themselves. Best the majority in congress bitterly opposed the Townsend Plan which would create a liberal pension to all over 60 years of age (they would have to spend it all every month)—60 dollars a month being considered. This plan would not cost the government anything; it would place a monthly 2 per cent tax on all gross earnings which is above one hundred dollars per month. Can any fairminded and sane person be against such national social security plan? We (Townsendities) are proved to add that all our Minnesota representatives are strongly for the Townsend plan, and 82 members of the House rose in protest against the "gag rule" which hindered the plan from being introduced and voted on. It is quite certain that the fight for the Townsend plan will come in the next congress.

Young Couple Exchange Vows

The Bethlehem Lutheran church of Newfolden was the scene of a beautiful double ring wedding ceremony Saturday evening, August 24 at 7 o'clock when Herbert W. Hokanson son of Mr. and Mrs. Anna Hokanson of Waseca, became united in marriage to Prudence V. Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Lee of Newfolden. Rev Ernest J. Raum performed the ceremony.

The church was beautifully decorated with bouquets of sweetpeas gladioli, zinneas and brilliant lady dahlias. Lighted candelabra and other candles gave a dim lighting effect to the church. Naptial music was played by Miss Eleanore Gudim, cousin of the bride.

Before the bride entered Miss Arlene Midthun of Madison, Wisc., sang "I Love Thee" and while the bridal party stood at the altar Wendell Peterson, of Butterfield, sang "O Perfect Love". At the close of the ceremony "The Lord's Prayer" was sung by Miss Midthun.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, was truly in a gown of white taffeta fashioned with fitted bodice, a scalloped lace yoke and a full skirt extending into a long train. Her bridal veil was of fingertip length held in place by a tiarra of orange blossoms. She carried a white Bible, gift of the groom and a bouquet of roses from which fell white streamers.

Maid of honor was Miss Marguerite Loe, sister of the bride, who wore a floor length gown of pink over net taffeta fashioned with a fitted bodice of lace with self covered buttons down the back. She carried a bouquet of white and orchid gladiolas and white roses.

Other attendants of the bride were Miss Jean Rachle, of Granite Falls, college friend of bride; Miss Fern Swenson of New Richland cousin of the groom and Helen Lindquist of Newfolden, niece of the bride, Miss Rachle was attired in a yellow net formal and carried a colonial bouquet of orchid gladiolas and roses. Miss Swenson wore a gown of ice blue taffeta and carried a colonial bouquet of salmon colored gladioli and white roses. Miss Lindquist, who was junior bridesmaid wore a yellow taffeta gown and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow asters and roses. Each of the bride's attendants wore pearl earrings, gifts of the bride.

The bridegroom chose as his best man his brother, Clifford Hokanson of Waseca. Wendell Peterson friend of the groom and Sherman Lee, brother of the bride served as ushers. The groom and his attendants wore tuxedos with white aster boutonnieres.

Mrs. Lee and Mrs. Hokanson the couples' mothers were both attired in black silk crepe dresses trimmed in colored sequins and wore white gloves and corsages of white gladiolas and American Beauty roses.

A reception was held in the church parlors for the bridal party and approximately 75 guests. At the center of the bridal table was a three tiered wedding cake trimmed with pink roses and topped with bridal figurines. Rev. G. P. Ronholm of Thief River Falls acted as toastmaster. Several guests responded and the groom closed with a prayer.

The young couple left on a week's honeymoon in Canada. For travel the bride chose a red wool suit with black accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Hokanson will be at home near Waseca for the present where the groom has been farming since his discharge from the army.

Out of town guests at the wedding were: Mrs. Anna Hokanson and Joe Swenson of Waseca, Mildred Johnson, of New Richland, Mr. and Mrs. Olger Olsen and family of Karlstad, Mr. and Mrs. George Klien of Chanka, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Tweet and Lyle of Milaca, Rev. and Mrs. G. Merrie England

"Previous to the reign of Henry VII, king of England, which began in 1485, there did not grow in that country any vegetable or eatable root, such as carrot, parsnip, cabbage, etc."—The Dale Book of Live Stock and Agriculture.

Sturdy Weave

A firm, sturdy weave in a piece of material wears longest and usually keeps its shape better with less shrinkage and less pulling at the seams. To test firmness of a weave, first hold the cloth up to a strong light. The yarns should be uniformly spun, uniform in size, and evenly spaced.

L. YOUNGDAHL SPEAKS AT TWO MEETINGS HERE

Speaks at Highlandin Sunday and Addresse Civic Groups Thursda

Devoting his attention to non-political subjects, Luther W. Youngdahl, Republican candidate for governor of Minnesota in the November election, addressed large gatherings in this locality last Thursday evening and again Sunday afternoon.

L. W. Rullen, vice president of the Civic and Commerce association, presided at the meeting last Thursday, with Mr. Youngdahl being introduced by Mr. Lundgren, a former college mate.

Selecting for his theme, "Youth Conservation," the speaker declared that punishment is not the remedy for juvenile delinquency, but that more stress should be laid on prevention. As a principal cause of increasing delinquency, he cited the deterioration in home life.

Mr. Youngdahl stated that parents are primarily responsible for maintaining discipline, and that there is now too much coddling. He said further that many parents are too indifferent about inculcating character in their children, and that they fail to set a proper example for them.

LEGISLATORS GIVE LIONS CLUB VIEWS AS TO STATE PARK

Cite Obstacles in Way of State Taking over Squaw Point District

Obstacles in the way of securing enactment by the 1947 session of the Minnesota legislature of a law authorizing the state to acquire the Squaw Point area and adjacent land as a site for a state park were cited by members of the legislature from the 65th district at a meeting Wednesday noon of the Lions club, local sponsor of the project.

Roy Barzen, president of the park board, opened the discussion by pointing out the need for more extended park facilities to provide for large picnic gatherings. He stated that Harold Lathrop, who resigned recently as director of state parks, had been much impressed by the possibilities of the proposed site.

Rep. W. E. Day of Bagley, member of the house appropriations committee, told of the difficulty of getting approval from that body, owing to the heavy demand for funds for various purposes. He predicted that probably as many as twenty similar bills calling for the creation of state parks would be introduced at the coming session.

W. E. Dahlquist, senator from this district, reported that he had previously commited himself to support a state park development in Red Lake county at the site of the Old Crossing treaty monument, where the community has donated 160 acres of land to the state for the purpose. He recommended acquisition by the city of the Squaw Point area and its later transfer to the state. Rep. C. S. McReynolds endorsed the statements of Mr. Day, and promised to support the project as far as possible.

COUNTY ROAD LEVY THIS YEAR BELOW AVERAGE IN STATE

All Counties Except Pennington Increase Road Levies in 1945

Pennington county's road and bridge tax levies from 1934 to 1945 averaged 10.82 mills per year, according to figures compiled by the Minnesota highway department. The average for all counties for the 12-year period was 7.11 mills.

Every county, with the exception of Pennington had a higher levy in 1946 than the 12-year average. The 1945 levy (payable in 1946) in this county was 10 mills, while the average for all counties was 10.22 mills.

There was less variation in the 1945 levies than in the 12-year average. A number of counties which had low average levies in the past came close to, or even above the state average in 1946.

Many factors influence county road tax levies. Road policies differ. Road needs vary according to density of population and the type of agriculture and industry. Road costs vary according to terrain. The county commissioners must determine what funds are needed to meet these varying conditions, and the tax rate is then governed according to the assessed valuation. Counties with large urban population generally have lower county road tax levies.

Early crops were damaged by the late frost that came last May and late crops were damaged by the early frost that came this week. Between frosts we have had an extremely short growing season this year. Fortunately most of our crops were neither early nor late and the year's average is going to be pretty fair. Late flax, corn and garden crops will be something to feel good about at income tax paying time.

Telephone service is not good and telephone company officials tell us there is little reason to hope that it will be improved soon. There isn't much can be done about it for the same reason that we can't build homes and we can't buy shirts—for the time being the demand is too great for the supply. Present switchboard facilities are now crowded beyond their capacity. Since 1941 we have had more than a 20% increase in the number of phones, each phone is used 20% more times in the course of a day, and there has been a 100% increase in the number of long distance calls, without any increase in switchboard capacity. This capacity will be increased just as fast as equipment can be obtained. Until the equipment is available nothing can be done.

That is the sum and substance of what we learned yesterday when we sat in at a meeting of complaining business men and humble company officials. It is the same story the company has been telling us in their advertising for many months, appealing to us to cut our calls short during the rush hours. So let us be patient. And above all let us be considerate of the operator who doesn't respond promptly when we want quick service. It isn't her fault. It isn't anybody's fault but just another one of the horrors of war here on the home front.

Up to now most of the talk about black markets has centered around foods. Now OPA is moving to break up what is alleged to be the blackest of black markets, the lumber industry. A staff writer of the Christian Science Monitor reports as conservative estimate that 90 to 95 per cent of the country's lumber production is marketed through illegal channels or by illegal practices, either adding to its cost or diverting it from prescribed uses. Whatever the facts may be it would be well to get them to the public in an authentic form as quickly as possible. The thorough investigation that is promised should not be delayed.

This week an American plane will be flown over the arctic to Egypt, a journey of 10,000 non-stop miles if the trip is successful. It is a peaceful mission of course, promoted in the interests of science. Then too, it will remind us, along with the people of some other nations, as to what might be expected if we have another war. Warship carrying a load of atom bombs could do considerable mischief on an expedition of that kind. Maybe, under present conditions, it is well to keep reminding us, and them, of this possibility.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks to all our friends, neighbors, and relatives who so pleasantly surprised us on our silver wedding anniversary. We especially wish to thank the sponsors, those who took part in the program and to all who helped make this a happy day for us. Also a sincere "thank you" for the large purse of money presented to us. Again we say "thank you all"—Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hjelle. 36p

In Memoriam

In memory of Guy McEnelly who passed away Sept. 4, 1942. Four years have passed since that sad day.

When our daddy was called away, We loved you then, we love you still

Forget you! No, we never will. We often sit and think of you, And think of how you died But, oh, it is so hard to think, You could not say good-bye. We did all we could to save you Until God called you away, It seems you had to go to a better place, And could no longer stay. Sadly missed by his wife and children and parents, Mrs. Selma McEnelly, Raymond McEnelly, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wold. 36c

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our beloved wife, mother, and grandmother who passed away Sept. 5, 1945.

She always leaned to watch for us, —

Anxious if we are late—
In winter, by the window,
In summer by the gate.
Her thoughts were all so full of us,

She never could forget!
And so I think that where she is,
She must be watching yet.
Waiting till we come home to her,
Anxious if we are late—
Watching from Heaven's window,
Leaning from Heaven's gate.

Sadly missed by Severt A. Prestegaard, S. Eugene Prestegaard, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schultz and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ward J. Votava and family. 36p

POPPLERS TEAM WINS 1ST TILT IN SOFTBALL FINALS

Defeat Vets 8 to 2 on Tuesday in Opener of Three-game Series

The Poppler's team, with Nicky Carlson capping a 1st inning that netted four runs by driving out a long left field homerun, defeated the Vets, 8 to 2, Tuesday night in the opening game of the city softball championship finals. The second game of the series will be played Friday night, and the Vets need a win to remain in the series for a victory for Walt Larson's Poppler's would give the title to the green-clad furniture team.

Poppler's earned a berth in the finals by upsetting the league runners-up, Oen's, 20 to 11, in an erratic game on Friday night. Seven errors by the usually reliable Oen's fielders proved the down-fall of Southpaw Johnny Lang, doing the pitching for Gordy Eslerson's nine. Poppler's in the 6th frame bunched six hits with three errors, and a base on balls, to score nine runs and "ice" the game.

Tuesday night the Poppler's bounced into an early lead, shoving four counters across the plate in the 1st inning. "Tooney" Carlson was given a walk; "Blackie" Stephens was safe when Jess DuChamp fumbled a ground ball; Bob Carlson was thrown out, Len Hellquist to first, with "Tooney" scoring the first run; Jim Walton singled into left field scoring Stephens; and then Nicky Carlson poled a drive into left field that went past Heinie Wagg for a homerun.

Two singles, a pair of errors, and a wild pitch, added a couple of runs to the Poppler's total in the 2nd inning; and Walt Larson's team closed out their game scoring with another pair of runs in the 3rd inning, when Walt Ekeren and Glenn Carlson scored on an error by Bob DuChamp.

The Vets, although getting six during the game, were able to bunch their hits in only the 1st inning, when singles by Len Hellquist and Berdeen Nornes brought in one tally. In the 8th frame, a base on balls to Bob DuChamp and 3 wild pitches gave the Vets their second and final run.

AIRPORT NEWS

The Thief River Falls squadron of the Civil Air Patrol is sponsoring a breakfast on Sunday, September 8th, at 10 a. m. They expect to entertain fliers from several North Dakota and western Minnesota squadrons in addition to local members.

Last Friday three local fliers, Ernie Barsen, Walt Jung and H. A. Baumann, with Gordon Camp at the controls of the Stinson Voyager, took off from the Thief River Falls airport for Cleveland, Ohio, to attend the National Air Races. They left here at 5:30 a. m., making two stops, one at Lone Rock, Wisconsin, and one at Goshen, Indiana, and arrived at Cleveland at 1:25 p. m. Gordon went on to his home to Rochester, New York, arriving there at 4 p. m.

While there they had an opportunity to see all the latest type planes, and took movies which they will show at some of the future CAP meetings.

On their return, they left Cleveland at 7:45 a. m. Monday, stopped at Detroit, Michigan, South Bend, Indiana, the Wisconsin Dells, and Park Rapids, Minnesota, and landed at the local airport at 7:10 p. m.

Work has begun on two new runways, running southwest to north, east and southeast to northwest. When completed they will be 150 feet wide and 2100 feet long. Adequate drainage is being installed, so that these will be all-weather runways.

Wm. DeParcq, a former resident of Thief River Falls, and now an attorney practicing in Chicago and Minneapolis, and his pilot Don Chapman of Minneapolis, landed his Ercoupe here on Saturday. He came to visit the Henry Arneson family.

Mrs. Chris Kierk soloed last week. This makes three members of the Kierk family in the air now. Miss Jackie having soloed earlier this summer, and of course Chris is one of the pioneer fliers of Thief River Falls.

Another Shortstop Tourney

The tournament committee of the local golf club is busy completing arrangements for another shortstop golf tourney, with the events scheduled to be played on Sunday, Sept. 15th. And if all the "name" players appear that have promised to compete in the meet, the tournament will be the best yet.

Jimmy Nordine, who, on Monday won the Red River Valley tournament for the second time in a row, and the fourth time that he has won the title, will probably be at hand. And so will Ernie Hiller, runner-up to Nordine at Crookston.

But in addition to those two sharpshooters, the committee has secured the promises of Allan Boss of Winnipeg, the winner of the North Central meet at Grand Forks on Sunday, and former Manitoba open champion, that he will play in the shortstop. And Boss added that he would bring several other Canadian golfers, including this year's Manitoba open champion, along with him.

And Grand Forks is expected to send its usual quota of strong golfers, with Phil Olson, Don Olson and Don Fladland heading the group.

With such hot-shot golfers participating, and given a break in the weather, the shortstop should provide a fine "night-cap" for the local golfing season.

One for the Poppler's.

Apparently the weather hasn't turned cold enough for the softball boys, for on Tuesday night, in the first game of the best-of-three series between the Vets and the Poppler's, and which was won by the Poppler's, 8 to 2, feeling between the two teams ran so high that a couple of the Vets "boiled" over. The fact is, the Vets were more sore at themselves than they were at the Poppler's for they turned in one of their poorest games of the year. The Vets, the leaders of the city softball league schedule, are capable of much stronger play than they exhibited in the game on Tuesday night for they committed six errors, and most of those misplays were costly.

On the other hand, the Poppler's, bubbling over with confidence and on their toes throughout the game, were on top of the ball all night and ahead of the play and they deserved the win. They'll be hard to beat on Friday night, but the Vets will undoubtedly turn in a more potent attack and be sharper on defense.

They Make Big Waves

The Ole Ekeren and Erling Torgerson Ferrying Command, have their new outboard motor and boat in operation and have been making several experimental jaunts up and down the river. The outboard, a fifty-horse Evinrude, and the boat, a seventeen-foot long and two axe handles wide plywood affair, was secured from the Navy. Erling served in the Navy during the war and obtained the motor and boat through his priority. They haven't opened up the motor to full speed yet, for they are afraid if they do that they'll miss a couple of the curves in the river.

Bill Bye Doing All Right.

News reports from the Twin Cities indicate that Bill Bye, a son of the former superintendent here, is doing all right as a member of the Minnesota football squad, and apparently Coach Bernie Bierman thinks highly of Bill's ability. Bill, who played here in his sophomore year, and then transfered to Anoka when his dad accepted a position there, has been running at the left halfback spot with the Gopher first string, and it appears that he will be given a thorough trial at that backfield post.

Bill was in the navy the past year and a half, and was a member of Paul Brown's team at Great Lakes last fall. Navy life agreed with Billy for, according to his pal Herby Claffy, the chunky backfielder now weighs about 180 pounds and that's heavy enough for a freshman back, which Bill is.

REMINDER GIVEN ON HOLIDAY MAIL TO GO OVERSEAS

Postmaster Anderson Urges that Mailing be Started October 15th

Christmas parcels for army personnel overseas must be mailed during the period beginning October 15, and ending November 15, the earlier the better, Postmaster Andrew Anderson stated today. Parcels destined for delivery in China, India, the Middle East, and in the islands in the Pacific should be mailed as early as possible during the period stated, preferably not later than November 1, in view of the distance involved.

During this period requests from the addressees are not required in connection with Christmas parcels mailed to army personnel. Patrons should indorse each gift parcel: "Christmas Parcel!" Special effort will be made to effect delivery of all Christmas parcels mailed during the periods stated above in time for Christmas.

Christmas cards for army personal overseas may be mailed at any time but patrons must mail such cards prior to November 15, if they are to have a reasonable expectation of delivery prior to Christmas. The Department advises that greeting cards for soldiers overseas must be sent in sealed envelopes and prepaid at first-class rate.

Handicapped Children Enjoy Camp Financed by Sale of Easter Seals

Crippled and handicapped children and adults in the state, some of whom attended a summer camp for the first time, were enrolled 200 strong in Camp Dowling at Marine on the St. Croix, thanks to the generosity of Minnesota citizens.

The camp was donated and maintained by the St. Paul Kiwanis club. Proceeds from the annual Easter Seal campaign conducted last spring by the Minnesota Association for Crippled Children made it possible for the association to employ personnel who were specialists in care and recreation for the handicapped.

Forty-one children with speech defects spent two weeks at camp starting June 17. The following period was utilized by 47 crippled adults, July 1 through July 15. Fifty-nine crippled youngsters from rural areas attended July 15 through July 29. The final two weeks the camp was operated for children with heart conditions.

BLAIR ANNOUNCES STATEWIDE DEER SEASON THIS YEAR

Hunting Permitted in Northern Zone of State from November 16 to 24

Because of damage to agricultural lands by a deer herd that built up during war years, the entire state of Minnesota will be opened to deer hunting this year, except closed refuges and other posted areas, it was announced today by Frank Blair, newly appointed director of the division of game and fish.

The season in the northern zone, which includes all territory north of a line formed by state highway 9 and U. S. highway 12, running from Breckenridge, Minn. through St. Paul, will be open to all legal firearms or bow and arrow from Nov. 16 to Nov. 24. The southern zone will be open to hunting with shotgun with single slug only, or bow and arrow, from Nov. 16 to Nov. 19.

The bag limit for '46 is one deer, any age or sex, per season.

Itasca and St. Croix state parks will be opened to regular deer hunting No. 16 to Nov. 24, to prevent further deer damage and protect forest reproduction. The Monongalia game refuge in Kandiyohi county will also be open to deer hunting during the regular season with the exception of Sibley State Park which is within this game refuge. This refuge is being opened to reduce the large local herd and prevent crop damage.

The special bow and arrow season set by law will run from Oct. 16 to Nov. 1. The entire state, except closed refuges and other posted areas, will be open during this special season. Archers may also hunt during the special season from Oct. 16 to Nov. 1, under special permit in Itasca and St. Croix state parks and in the McGrath, Floodwood, Carlos Avery, and Red Lake game refuges. Such permits will be issued to licensed hunters by wardens or patrolmen stationed at these parks or refuges.

There will be no open season on moose this year. Although they have been increasing in the north one-fourth of the state they are not of sufficient numbers in the Northwest Angle or that portion of the state which could be open under the law, to warrant an open season.

205 DIE IN ROAD MISHAPS TO JULY 1

6,498 Are Injured on Highway in 6 Months

For every person killed in a traffic accident in Minnesota, 31 are injured, according to the State Highway Department's summary of accident reports for the first six months of 1946. In this period 205 persons were killed and 6,498 injured in 14,337 reported accidents.

The figures represent an increase of 34 per cent in the number of deaths, 35 per cent in the number injured and 156 per cent in the number of accidents reported, over the same months in 1945. Part of the increase in the number injured and in the total number of reported accidents is due to better reporting brought about by the Safety Responsibility Act which took effect July 1, 1945.

Traffic accidents were widely distributed on all classes of roads and streets. There were 56 killed and 2,685 injured in accidents occurring in cities of more than 100,000 population, 49 killed and 1,526 injured in other cities and villages, 70 killed and 1,695 injured on rural trunk highways and 30 killed and 602 injured on other rural roads.

Farm population of the United States increased from 25,190,000 in January 1945 to 25,990,000 in January 1946.

To those who are awaiting delivery of their New Oldsmobiles

A Word of Appreciation . . . and a Suggestion, too!

We know how anxious you are to get your new Oldsmobile. And there's nothing we'd like better to do, right now, than to say to every Oldsmobile buyer: "Your car is here. Come get it!"

But frankly, it just isn't possible to do that. There still aren't enough new Oldsmobiles to go around. Due to shortages in materials and unavoidable limitations on production, the output of new cars still is behind schedule. And our allotments are far below the figures that we originally anticipated.

We want to assure you, however, that everything possible is being done, both here and at the factory, to get your car in your hands promptly. And we'd like to take this occasion to thank you sincerely for the patient and considerate way in which you have borne with us during this period of waiting.

Meanwhile, we have an important suggestion: Don't neglect the car you drive today.

The war has taught us all the importance of careful upkeep and regular service. While you're waiting for your new Oldsmobile, therefore, be sure to take advantage of our factory-authorized Oldsmobile service program. We are offering every kind of modern automotive service—from lubrication to major overhauls. Regular servicing of your car will safeguard your investment and assure you of safe, dependable transportation until that great day when your new Oldsmobile is here!

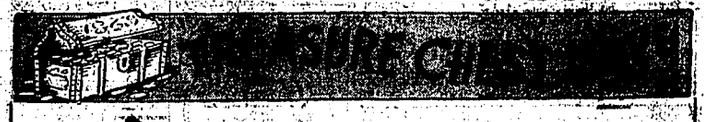
NATURE GETS A FRIVOLOUS AGAIN



His five-foot wire netting proved inadequate for A. B. McKenzie's sweet peas at Virginia, and a section has been added to accomodate his eight-foot climbers which are still climbing. They are not all vine, either, as numerous lovely bouquets prove. A Belle Plaine soldier brought back some cucumber seed from Germany. It grew like a morning glory climbing all over everything, and bore cucumbers in a dangling fruit-like manner measuring as long as 20 inches.

COAL SHORTAGE IN PROSPECT IN N. W.

Much Less Than Normal Amount at Head of Lakes

The Northwest faces "a serious coal crisis" unless movement of coal during the remaining three months of the lake shipping season is accelerated, a delegation of coal dealers told Gov. Thye, Monday.

Thye assured the group, representing Northwestern Retail Coal Dealers association, he would lend his support to a move to promote action to increase coal shipments before the navigation season closes.

B. E. Urheim, spokesman and secretary of the coal dealers group, told the governor "the situation is serious" after explaining how the coal stockpile at the Head of the Lakes has been depleted during recent years.

H. B. Hartzell, Minneapolis vice president of the association, said "unless movement of coal is increased, the Northwest faces a tremendous coal shortage that will make last season's situation look very mild."

The normal stockpile at this time of year at the Head of the Lakes is 5,000,000 tons, as compared with the present stockpile of 2,000,000, according to J. A. Maher of the Maher Coal bureau, which is the statistical agency operating for dock companies.

Urheim said shipments from the Head of the Lakes last year were 1,000,000 tons more than received there.

This, he said resulted in an inventory at the opening of the navigation season of only about 700,000 tons.

Maher said the "normal carryover" at the opening of the navigation season, according to statistics, is about two and one-half million tons.

Sugar Stamp No. 51 to Become Valid Sept. 1

Sugar stamp No. 51 will be validated September 1st good for five pounds of sugar for general use. It will expire December 31st.

The only stamps valid for canning sugar are stamps 9 and 10. These will continue to be valid until October 31st. It is not anticipated that additional canning sugar stamps will be validated during the present canning season.

Consumers are advised to make judicious use of the available sugar supplies, according to Charles L. Hughes, district rationing executive, as sugar supplies are not sufficient to warrant additional coupon validation. While there is still available sugar in local stores to cover the stamps the national sugar situation is sufficiently acute to require continued rationing.

CITE BENEFITS OF NURSING CAREER

3-Year Training Program Needed, Says Dr. O'Brien

According to Dr. William A. O'Brien, director postgraduate medical education at the University of Minnesota and chairman of the council on public education, the nursing profession offers women an excellent opportunity for a fine education and career, but he warns that nursing students need the full three years of study and training now required by hospitals if they are to be adequately trained.

"Many people think it takes only two years to train a nurse," said Dr. O'Brien, "with the hospital keeping girls in training a third year purely for the hospital's gain.

"This is not true since the hospitals today give nurses a well-rounded, college type education. The greater part of their training is actual classroom education with part of each day being spent in the classroom and part in practical application of the classroom lessons," he continued.

"In order to assure their students thorough training in every type of nursing service," Dr. O'Brien pointed out, "hospitals send the girls to other institutions for part of their instruction. For instance, if a hospital does not have a special department such as, obstetrical, or pediatrical, or nervous and mental disease service, it will send its students out for a short period of treasury to institutions which have these particular services."

Land O'Lakes Field Men Conduct Quality School at Plant in Minneapolis

As part of the day-by-day and year-by-year campaign for quality dairy products maintained by Land O'Lakes Creameries, Inc., 10 field managers of the organization and six special men took part in a five-day "school" last week at the main plant in Minneapolis, studying the latest methods of production, manufacture and laboratory tests aimed at upping the value of dairy foods.

These schools for fieldmen are held several times a year and for 25 years have been important in bringing the latest dairy methods out into the farm areas where milk is produced.

Two days were devoted to manufacturing problems and field work, another two days to discussion of types and uses for top grade equipment and supplies in the dairy plants, and another day to a general meeting.

Field managers attending were Carl Leaf, Litchfield; Ben Lindvig, Mora; Fred J. Holsman, Minneapolis; Fred Hansen Mankato; J. L. Wahlstrom, Minneapolis; Otto Anderson, Crookston; John Lager, Thief River Falls; Chris J. Back, Luck, Wisc.; and William Lindberg, field manager for North Dakota.

To the Local Citizenry . . . . . .

Having concluded the third season of prolonged tent meetings series, we are thankful first of all to God from whom all blessings flow for His evident mercies toward us during these weeks since July 21, when we began. Many out of town and local people showed their interest in services which, apparently, have become an institution during summer in downtown of Thief River Falls. For the privilege of this testimony in the community we praise the Lord and to our many friends, far and near, who read these lines we say: thank you for interest and support you manifested in Jesus' Name!

Our sincere thanks are due the following:

Gustafson & Sons for storage of "old" tent and equipment during past two years; Janke Transfer management for storage of new tent and equipment; First Baptist church for storage of equipment this year; Thief River Falls Times for publicity of services arranged by the Tent Mission; Larson Company for use of lots; City of Thief River Falls for use of Municipal Auditorium during rallies sponsored by the Tent Ministry; Mayor W. ... Douville, City Council and Police for protection and other courtesies, and to the citizenry in general for respect to tent premises and property, Casper Shefveland, Viking, for use of Public Address system, and to all others whose services were helpful in these tent meetings.

It is our sincere desire that the testimony of the gospel of Jesus Christ might prevail and grow among old and young in this community.
